Goodbye Capricorn stellium! The Capricorn energy that prevailed in 2020 is over for 2021, and the only planet still in Capricorn is Pluto. This can continue with the theme of transforming the status quo and shaking up traditions and norms though. Jupiter and Saturn both move into Aquarius, and we're focused more on the future now. We want change, we want to innovate, and we're willing to try the unconventional. We may be more concerned about what is best for all, for the collective. Jupiter does tango briefly in Pisces mid-May through July, with Neptune who remains in Pisces all year, and this can open up compassion, empathy, and we can work at helping with gentle hands and hearts. We may think less of ourselves and more of others. Mercury retrogrades in the air signs in 2021, so there's extra focus on assessing how we come together, how we engage, and how we consider one another. Uranus stays in Taurus, giving unexpected energy to money and resources. 2021 does end with Venus retrograde in Capricorn, so we may close the year out feeling lazy with goals and reassessing our direction.

Aries 2021 Horoscope

Aries 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Mars activates each of your relationship areas in 2021, so it might feel like a more eventful year for you to take action in love. Mars first tours your love sector mid-June through July 2021, and this can be a great time for affection, dating, and romance. If single, you can be open to meeting different people and keeping your options open. If in a relationship, you can bring the spark back.

Mars then tours your relationship and commitment sector mid-September through October, and you can be much more commitment-minded. If single, you may take relationships more seriously, and want to find someone serious; if in a relationship, you may be open to taking things to the next level, or affirming your commitment to one another. Mars goes through your intimacy sector November to mid-December, and passionate energy can surge. If single, you can have little patience for any superficial connections, and want something that will last; in attached, you may work on strengthening the emotional bonds you have with your partner.

Mercury goes retrograde (appears to move backward) in your relationship and commitment sector at the end of September to mid-October, and this comes with Mars in this sector at the same time.

The return of people from the past may be unexpected, but hopefully manageable. If you're single and interested in getting back together with an ex, this may be the time period to plan for it. If you're in a relationship, watch for impatience and communication issues with your partner (try to be a better listener and be open to compromise).

Aries 2021 Career and Money Horoscope

Pluto remains in your career and life path sector all year with Uranus still in your money sector, so these two can bring good energy for making transformations (Pluto) that help get you on track with your goals and ambitions so you pursue what you want with passion, and you can be open to making money in new ways or handling your finances with new approaches (Uranus).

A lunar eclipse occurs in your money sector November 19th, and this may be a time to make progress with financial plans, end financial agreements or partnerships, or experience setbacks if you haven't been handling your finances responsibly. Venus retrogrades starting mid-December in your career and life path sector, so you may be reconsidering some goals to end the year, reconnecting with old mentors, or assessing the direction you're going in (this lasts through January 2022).

Mars moves through your money sector January and February, and you can have more energy and drive to make money, but also to spend money. Try to make smarter financial decisions so you can emerge with more instead of less. Mars goes through your work sector August to mid-September, and this can bring out productive energy to get things done. You can pursue new work, make progress with existing work, and keeping busy with work may do you some good.

Aries 2021 Home and Family Horoscope

Mars is in your home and family sector late April to mid-June, and this can bring energy for focusing on home and family matters. This can be a period where you plan a move, spruce up your living quarters, make changes to your living situations, spend more time with family or the people you think of as family, expand your family or plan for family outings or gatherings, and can generally feel better with a solid home and family life. The more solid that is, the more energy you can have. If it's not solid, work on addressing some core issues.

If you have children, Mars is in the sector ruling your children mid-June through July, and you can give them more of your attention. You may spend more time with them, enjoy their company, and help them become more of their true selves. Some may rebel against you though (they may just be testing your limits or trying to get some space though!).

Aries 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Mars is in one of the sectors ruling your mind March to late April, and you can have a much more active mind during this time. You may come up with lots of new ideas and work on new plans, and can be more engaging with others. It can be a good time to share knowledge you have and learn new facts and information for yourself.

Mercury retrogrades in this sector afterward though, late May to mid-June, with a solar eclipse occurring in this sector June 10th. This may be a time to reflect on old ideas and plans, to bring back old projects, and to give a second chance to an idea you had thought you wouldn't get another one with. You can sift through old mental blocks and issues, and work to improve communication if you're feeling misunderstood.

Neptune remains in the sector ruling your subconscious mind all year, and you continue to have strong energy for connecting with your subconscious mind in subtle ways. You can clear out old issues from the past, and work quietly to take care of your subconscious needs. Jupiter helps out when it briefly occupies this sector with Neptune mid-May through July, and it can be easier for you to tap into your subconscious mind.

Aries 2021 General Horoscope

Your ruler, Mars, starts the year in your sign, but only until January 6th. You may kick off 2021 with lots of energy, ready to hit the ground running and set yourself up for a big year. This can be helpful, and you can take initiative for what you want, and feel excited by your prospects. This can be great since Mars retrograded in your sign in 2020, and probably through you off. That ended in November 2020, so you may finally feel like you're moving forward again with greater ease at the start of 2021.

Jupiter and Saturn move in Aquarius December 2020, and Saturn spends all of 2021 in this sign, with Jupiter mostly in this sign (except mid-May through July, when it's in Pisces). This highlights your friends, hopes and dreams, and future, and you can look forward with greater clarity of focus. You can be more hopeful in some ways, yet more practical in other ways with what you're capable of achieving and attaining. You may weed out friendships that don't serve a positive purpose in your life anymore, which can be emotional, but ultimately necessary. And you may become much more concerned about contributing to the world in a positive way, leaving a mark that will last far into the future, and this might make you take up a new cause of two.

Taurus 2021 Horoscope

Taurus 2021 Love & Relationships Horoscope

Mars goes through your love sector August to mid-September, and this can bring a lot of energy and drive for love in your life. You may want to spend more time with loved ones, and expand on the love you have. If single, you can be more open to love and dating, though you may wait in choosing anyone specifically, wanting to keep your options open and enjoying the attention you get. If in a relationship, you may want to make it feel like it did when you first met, and make more time for romance and to have fun with your partner.

Mars tours your relationship and commitment sector November to mid-December, and this can open you up to committing more. If in a relationship, you can strengthen the commitment you have to your partner and relationship in some way, and make them more of a priority. If single, you may only be interested in a real relationship, and gravitate to those you feel are commitment-minded.

Mars enters your intimacy sector mid-December to end the year, and this can help you focus on improving the bonds you have with your partner, if in a relationship. You want to feel as close to them as possible, and can tackle deep issues to try and make that happen. If single, you can take relationships much more seriously, and may focus on someone you feel a passionate, intense connection with. Just watch for obsession.

A solar eclipse occurs in this sector December 4th, and that can bring opportunity to improve intimacy and increase passionate energy. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector earlier in the year on May 26th, and that can bring out some issues and blocks with intimacy that need to be addressed.

Taurus 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Jupiter and Saturn move into your career and life path sector mid-December 2020, and Saturn remains in this sector all of 2021, with Jupiter here most of 2021 (exiting briefly mid-May through July). This can provide a great opportunity for you to make progress with your goals and ambitions, and you can make sure you're on the right path for a long time to come. If you've already been doing things right coming into 2021, then you may see some rewards right away and have some success quickly. If you haven't, or if you need a new direction, then there may be setbacks or overwhelm, and you have to assess what needs to change.

Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) in this sector for most of February, so if there are setbacks and overwhelm, it may come then. Otherwise that period can be a good one for picking back up old goals, making revisions and doing some editing of plans, and reconnecting with mentors.

Mars is in your money sector March to late April, and this can be a good period for you to improve your financial situation and gather financial information, work out financial agreements or partnerships, and make long-term financial plans. There may be an urge to splurge, but you can largely hold that back with some effort.

That is likely wise since Mercury retrogrades in your money sector most of June, and a solar eclipse occurs in this sector June 10th. With smart choices, this can be a good period to assess your financial plans and decisions, and you might look at making money in ways you have before, or trying financial strategies you have before (or wanted to but didn't get to).

Mars is in your work sector mid-September through October with Mercury retrograde in this sector to end September through mid-October. You may spend extra time revising and editing work, picking back up old work projects and plans, or reconnecting with people you worked with or for. It may actually be a great time to work at an old job again or for an old employer again; or, you may find you rediscover passion for what you do if it has felt lost. If you hate what you do, that might get worse though, so this might be a time when you seriously consider calling it quits! Just make sure you're smart about it before you do anything impulsive.

Taurus 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Mars is in your home and family sector mid-June through July, and this can bring lots of energy to matters of the home and family. You may want to spend more time at home or with your family, and can work on improving connections with family or the people you think of as family. You can plan for get togethers, or focus on the expansion of your family. If you have family issues, you may try to work on them, otherwise frustration may grow. You can work on improving your living situation or arrangements, and try to make your home as much of a comfortable, restful place for yourself as possible, wanting a retreat from the world.

If you have children, Mars is in the sector ruling your children August to mid-September, and you may find that they have a lot more energy and drive than usual. This might make them more rebellious, but try to have extra patience with them. Give them some space to be themselves. You may want to spend more time with them, and they may need more attention from you anyway, and this may be what causes them to lash out, if they do.

Taurus 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Mars is in one of the sectors ruling your mind late April to mid-June, and you may have lots of extra mental energy to come up with new ideas, take in new information, and share what you know with others. You can be more curious and engaging, this may be a time to start learning something new, or to start doing something like writing or speaking. You may want to fill up your schedule with plenty to do and be active as much as you can so you can use up the extra mental energy you have, otherwise this can lead to restlessness, anxiousness, and being fidgety.

Taurus 2021 General Horoscope

Uranus remains in your sign all year, so you can continue to focus on major changes with your personality or in your life. The changes you make might be big ones, and they can last for a little while. You can be more open to the new, the different, the unconventional and unexpected, and may want to be more independent, inventive, and true to your individuality. This isn't a time to box yourself in too much as a person! Those of your Bulls born April 25th - May 6th may feel Uranus most in 2021.

Mars quickly moves into your sign early in the year on January 6th to March 3rd, and this can increase your energy and drive overall in life. You may want to get more focused on what you want for yourself, and can be more willing to take the initiative. You can get excited about what you want and have more confidence in yourself to take it. This can be great energy to start the year, and it only comes once every two years or so, so make the most of it!

Neptune remains in Pisces all year, and this lights up your friends, hopes and dreams, and future sector. You can continue to want to make a contribution and help out others as much as you can, and can be super giving and charitable. Your compassion can go with, and you can intuit what others need. You may want to get involved with a charity or some sort of group to have a bigger impact. This feeling can grow stronger when Jupiter is also in Pisces with Neptune mid-May through July.

Venus, your ruler, retrogrades starting mid-December to end 2021 in Capricorn, so you may end the year feeling a bit off in general, though it can be good energy for redoing, revising, rethinking, and reflecting. Try focusing on a second chance at that time, especially one related to expansion or experiences. Go back to school, travel somewhere you've been before, or become more passionate about your beliefs.

Gemini 2021 Horoscope

Gemini 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Mars tours your love sector mid-September through October with Mercury retrograde (appearing to move backward) in your love sector late September to mid-October. This period might be a time where you focus on bringing love back into your life, so if you're single, you may think about an ex that you'd like to reconnect with, or ways that you can reconnect with loved ones, or how you can improve on self-love. If in a relationship, you may want to work on bringing the love back into your relationship, igniting sparks between the two of you again, and bringing back the feelings you had when you first got together. It can be good for bringing back romance and affection.

Mars enters your relationship and commitment sector mid-December to end the year, so you may exit 2021 with commitment on the brain. If in a relationship, you may want to take the next logical step with it, and show just how committed you are to the relationship and your partner. If single, you may want to settle down in some way with someone serious, and may have less patience for anything superficial, wanting some real commitment from someone.

A solar eclipse occurs in this sector on December 4th, helping out with the energy and providing some opportunity for you. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector earlier in the year on May 26th, and you can work on tackling relationship and commitment issues and blocks that have gotten in the way.

Gemini 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Neptune remains in your career and life path sector all year, and this can bring some of the fog into your dealings with your goals and direction. You may feel uncertain at times about whether or not you're making the right decisions, and if you're on the right path for you. Your intuition can grow stronger though, and can help guide you if you listen to it. Jupiter helps out, entering this sector for a short stay mid-May through July, and you can open up to new career opportunities and make way for recognition and progress. You can feel more comfortable with your responsibilities, and practical with your choices.

Mars is in your money sector late April to mid-June, and you can feel more driven to make more money, and might try to take on a second job or side gig for more, or try to make a hobby something profitable. You may spend more as well, so you might be well served exercising some better control. You can think about your finances moving forward, and gather information, get advice, or put together plans.

Mars is in your work sector November to mid-December, and you can focus on your work and work life. You may only want to do work that you're passionate about, so if you're not, you may struggle with it and want to make a change. If you are passionate, you can become more productive and efficient, and get organized, make lists, and tackle everything you want to do. Your eye for the details can sharpen, and you can see what is needed.

Gemini 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Mars is in your home and family sector August to mid-September, and Mars is the planet of energy and drive, so this can bring more energy to matters at home and drive to deal with issues of the family. You may want more time with family or the people you think of as family, and can work to try to get more of that time. You may step up in authority with your family, and take the reins with something family related. You can also work on improving your home life, wanting to make sure it's encouraging and supportive of yourself as well as the other people there.

If you have children, Mars is in the sector ruling your children mid-September through October, with Mercury retrograde in this sector late September to mid-October. They may be more rebellious, acting out against you for a variety of reasons, but likely just wanting more of your attention and support. Try to help them with whatever stress they're dealing with, and enjoy the time that you get with them when you do.

Gemini 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Uranus remains in the sector ruling your subconscious mind all year, and this can bring opportunity for you to find new, unusual, unconventional ways of diving into your subconscious. You may come to understand subconscious issues, motivations, and desires in new ways, and have flashes of insight into yourself.

This can be strong with Mars also in this sector early January through February, and you may feel like taking some time out of the spotlight to do a deep-dive into your subconscious on your own. You may feel you can understand more about the past, or your karma, and your soul needs.

Mars is in one of the sectors ruling your mind mid-June through July, and you can come up with new ideas, feel open to new information, and want to absorb more. You can have plenty of energy to learn as much as you can, and you can share the information you have with others. Open up your mind, and see what you can come across.

Gemini 2021 General Horoscope

Pluto remains in Capricorn all year, and you can continue to do a deep-dive into yourself and your life, trying to root out deeply-held issues, and work on transforming for the better. This likely isn't something that is done quickly, and can take a while to fully see through, but once done, it can stick around for a very long time, even permanently. You can sense this, which makes you take it more seriously. Venus retrogrades mid-December to end the year (through January 2022) in Capricorn, and this can bring out issues or blocks that may need to be worked on that you've missed or haven't had time for yet.

Saturn and Jupiter move into Aquarius mid-December 2020, and Saturn is in Aquarius all of 2021 with Jupiter in Aquarius most of the year (except mid-May through July when it's touring Pisces). This can get you more serious about the ways you want to expand your life, have new experiences, and explore. You may find you have less options for this, but the options that are left can offer bigger rewards, bigger lessons, and bigger opportunities for growth as a person. Mercury retrogrades in Aquarius for most of February, and this can help you to reflect, to reconnect with beliefs, and to revisit plans for expansion you had before. It might also be a good time to go back to school or uplevel your professional training in some way.

Mars is in your sign March to mid-April, increasing your energy and drive, and making you better equipped to take the initiative for what you want and go for it. This might be a time when you decide to take the first steps with something big, and this can be the start of something that lasts for another two years.

Mercury, your ruler, then retrogrades in your sign for most of June, and you may feel totally off, drained, and scattered. You have to go easier on yourself, leave room for flexibility, and try to focus on second chances, which can be excellent during this period, especially since there is also a solar eclipse in your sign June 10th. If there's something you've been wanting another shot at, whether you already tried and failed, started but didn't finish, or wanted to do but never got off of the ground, this may be the best time to do it.

Cancer 2021 Horoscope

Cancer 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Pluto remains in your relationship and commitment sector for 2021, and this was the sector that got most of the attention in your life in 2020.

Saturn and Jupiter moved forward, and now, you just have Pluto to deal with. You can continue to be passionate about the relationships you're really invested in, and drawn to passionate people. Intimacy can be very important to you, and that can be even more the case in 2021 with Saturn and Jupiter in your intimacy sector.

Any intimacy issues may be brought to the surface with Mercury retrograde in this sector most of February, and you can work to remove blocks so you can improve the connections you have with others. 2020 may have taught you to be more serious and emotionally invested in your relationships, at least the ones that survived the pressure.

Mars is in your love sector November to mid-December, and you can focus on bringing more love into your life and strengthening your love relationships. If single, you can be open to meeting someone new, and can be led by your heart. If in a relationship, you may work to make it feel new again, breathing some fresh life into the relationship, and increasing the romance. This can be good energy coupled with the serious energy of Jupiter, Saturn, and Pluto, and you can take love seriously and deepen the love you feel.

Cancer 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Mars tours your money sector mid-June through July, this can be a period where you want to try and make as much money as you can. You may be tempted to spend as much as you can too, but if you can hold back on that, you can make the most of the money energy available to you. Consider taking on a second job or side gig for extra money, or trying to make a hobby into something profitable. You can get creative, and work on plans to maximize your earning potential. If money is a struggle, you may feel down about yourself, so try to avoid that. You don't want to tie your self-esteem in with what you make. Work on improving confidence by itself, and then you'll have more of what you need when you need it.

Mars enters your work sector mid-December to end the year, and this can greatly increase your attention to detail, your productivity, and your willingness to stick to a schedule. You may find that the more work you get done, the more energy you have to do even more, and you can tackle a lot. Just make sure you don't give in to the temptation to take on too much. If you're passionate about the work you do, you can have even more enthusiasm and excitement for it, and this can shine through in your work. You may get recognition for some work that you do as a result. If you don't like what you do at all, then you may feel extra grumpy, easily irritated, and this can be a time when you decide to start looking elsewhere for different work that you connect with better. Be smart, not impulsive.

A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector May 26th, and you can focus on what you need to let go of work-wise, what stresses you out with your work and how to manage it, and how to better cope in your daily life. A solar eclipse occurs in this sector December 4th, just before Mars enters, so this can stimulate a focus on work you're passionate about, and bring about new opportunities for you to consider.

Cancer 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Mars tours your home and family sector mid-September through October, and Mercury retrogrades in this sector at the same time from late September to mid-October. This brings your attention to home and family matters, and you may need to deal with some old family issues, reconcile with relatives, or try to play mediator for others in your family. You may try to reconnect with family you haven't seen in a while, and can try to strengthen your support system with your family. You can also target your home life, and can make changes to your home with renovations or redecorating, or with your living arrangements in some way. You may revisit a place you've lived at before, or reconnect with people you've lived with before. Little issues may come up at home, like pipes bursting or outlets shocking you, so try to be flexible and adjust quickly whenever anything pops up.

Cancer 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Mars is in one of the sectors ruling your mind August through mid-September, and this can be a good time to focus on your ideas and plans, to be more engaging and curious, and to take in new knowledge and facts. You can share information you have with others, and can be more enthusiastic about learning new things. You may not stick with any one thing for too long, but can still learn quickly before moving on.

You can give more attention to your subconscious mind with Mars touring that sector March through mid-April, and this can be a good time to dive into your subconscious, explore your subconscious issues and desires, and work to let go of old baggage. You can look back to the past to work on understanding what has come to pass, and you can understand yourself better too.

This would be a good thing to do since Mercury retrogrades in this sector for most of June, with a solar eclipse in this sector June 10th potentially highlighting issues you've been ignoring or shining some light in the middle of the fog. You may see something from the past come back into your life needing to be dealt with, and may become much more aware of your subconscious motivations. Try to tap into your subconscious and understand it better so you can navigate more easily any challenges that arise.

Cancer 2021 General Horoscope

Neptune remains in fellow water sign Pisces all of 2021, and this stimulates your desire to focus on your beliefs and expand your mind and life. The more experiences you have in life, the more you can learn, grow wiser, and feel spiritually connected to the world. You can understand what your beliefs really are, and form your own opinions and ideas.

Jupiter moves into Pisces briefly mid-May through July, and this adds to the idea even more. You may want to take up a course of study, spend some time traveling, or do a little writing. Your mood can improve, and you can come up with bigger ideas. You may view the world in a more optimistic light, and want to open up more to opportunities for adventure.

Uranus remains in Taurus for all of 2021, and this activates your friends, hopes and dreams, and future sector. You can open up to different people, expanding your social circle, and may be attracted to wacky people. Your dreams can become more unconventional, and you can be more willing to take a different approach with them. You can think more about your future and what you hope it will be, and can act more independently for what you want. Mars is in this sector early January through February, so this may be the way your year begins.

Mars is in your sign, Cancer, late April to mid-June, and this can increase your energy and drive overall in your life. You may feel excited about the possibilities in front of you, and want to get something new going right away, and this may be something you end up focusing on for the next 2 years or so of your life. Mars is only in your sign once every 2 years, so this is a time to take advantage of all of the energy, the willingness to take initiative, and the courage to take the first step toward something brand new.

Leo 2021 Horoscope

Leo 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

2021 finds you getting serious about your relationships with Saturn in your relationship sector all year and Jupiter in this sector for most of it. You can work on being more committed to the relationships that are healthy and positive influences in your life, and make improvements in relationships to make them stronger. You may see some people fall out of your life over the next year or two, but they're likely people who aren't good for you anyway. You can be more discerning with new people who come into your life, and this can create longer-lasting connections.

Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) in this sector for most of February, and this may be the time of 2021 where you experience the most ups and downs with the people in your life. Take time to get a clear view of your relationship issues and what needs to be worked on.

Mars is in your love sector the second half of December, so to end the year, and this is paired with a solar eclipse in your love sector December 4th. You can focus on bringing more love into your life and expressing the love you have for others. If single, you can enjoy dating around more, but can still take it seriously when you land on someone who really grabs your attention. If in a relationship, you can bring some romance back and reconnect like you did when you first got together.

A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector midyear on May 26th, and you can focus on eliminating love issues and figuring out which love relationships you want to continue with and which may need to be let go of.

Neptune remains in your intimacy sector all year, and this continues to make a spiritual and emotional connection an important aspect of physical intimacy for you. Casual hookups may not have the same impact on you as they did before Neptune was in Pisces.

Jupiter is in this sector briefly with Neptune mid-May through July, and this can help open up new intimate experiences, and you can work on strengthening the emotional and spiritual bonds you have with others. It can be easier for you to share parts of yourself you may normally keep hidden, and you can enjoy exploring the depths of other people as well.

Leo 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Uranus remains in your career and goals sector all year, and this can shake up your direction. You may feel the need to change things up, create new goals, and push yourself outside of your comfort zone with them. You can find new, unconventional ways of approaching what you want to achieve, and your path to success can be one that you wouldn't have otherwise thought of, but ends up making the most sense for you right now.

Mars joins Uranus in this sector early January through February, and you can have lots of energy and drive to push for what you want. You can get recognition and attention for what you've already done, connect with people in the right places, and get good advice from those you respect. Your ambition can soar, and you can make long-term plans to follow. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector November 19th, and you may see the completion of a project, reach a height with something, or finalize plans that you've worked at for a long time.

Pluto remains in your work sector all of 2021, and you can continue to focus on work that you're passionate about and make transformations in your work and daily life to be more productive and efficient. You can take more control, and this can lead to some butting of heads if you work with others, but can be very helpful if you work for yourself or are the boss.

Venus will retrograde in this sector to end the year starting mid-December, so you may feel the need for a break as 2021 comes to a close. If you're worn down, don't be so hard on yourself about taking a break. This can be a good period for redoing work or revisiting something you've worked at before.

Mars will be in your money sector August through mid-September, and this can be a time to focus on your finances. You might work to make more money, have an important purchase to make, gather financial information, or make big financial decisions. This can be a good time to take on a second job, side gig, or make a hobby profitable to pull in some extra cash. Just make sure you're being smart with any extra money and don't give in to blowing it.

Leo 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Mars will be in your home and family sector November to mid-December, and this gives you lots of energy to focus on matters at home or with family. You might make more time to be at home, make improvements to your home or living arrangements, or go back home, if you're away. You can make more time for family, plan for family gatherings or outings, and make them more of a priority. Having a solid home life that feels emotionally supportive of you can be important to helping you feel safe and secure.

Mars is in the sector ruling your children the second half of December, so if you have any kids, they may get more of your attention then, especially with the December solar eclipse in this sector as well. They may be presented with an opportunity, and you can give them support through it. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector May 26th, and you may find them to be a little more rebellious yet also in need of more support from you emotionally, so have some patience.

Leo 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Mars is in one of the sectors ruling your mind mid-September through October, and Mercury retrogrades in this sector most of October. You may focus on old ideas and old plans you'd like to revisit, revise, or give a second chance. You can work to express yourself in different ways, and try to say things over again that you didn't feel heard with. Try to make sure you're listening as much as you're talking, otherwise you may feel more misunderstood.

Mars is in the sector ruling your subconscious mind late April through mid-June, and this can be a good period to tap into your subconscious to get a better understanding of your motivations, desires, and issues. You may want some extra quiet time alone to do this, and you can enjoy that time, diving into the parts of yourself that are hidden. You may release old issues and gain better understanding of the past, and this can help you move into the future with greater certainty and confidence.

Leo 2021 General Horoscope

Mars is in your sign mid-June through July, and this gives you lots of energy and drive to go for what you want. You can feel more enthusiastic and excited, and willing to take initiative for something new. Mars is in your sign once every two years, and this is traditionally an excellent period to start new projects, ventures, and pursue opportunities that will be a focus for the next two years to come. Make the most of the energy while you have it!

Just prior to that, Mercury will retrograde the first half of June in your hopes and future dreams sector, and a solar eclipse occurs in this sector June 10th. You may question some of the dreams you have, what your future holds, and feel less hope than usual. Work on your confidence and believe in yourself and your abilities. The eclipse helps with bringing back an old dream, and you can pursue opportunities to make progress with one that you had given up on before. With Mars moving into your sign after this period, that helps give you energy to keep going and come out of the period with a better sense of self.

Virgo 2021 Horoscope

Virgo 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Pluto remains in your love sector all of 2021, and you can continue to take love more seriously. You can be more passionate and committed in love, and this makes you take it more seriously, not wanting to be involved with anyone who doesn't show that passion and commitment to you in return. You may attract more intense love into your life, so there may be times when you have to work on making it a little lighter. If in a relationship, you can crave a closeness with your partner that is unbreakable. If single, you may go for those who are mysterious and magnetic. Venus retrogrades (appears to move backward) in this sector the second half of December, to end 2021, and this can bring out love issues that haven't been dealt with yet. You can reconnect with old flames, and you may want to spend some time being reflective with love.

Neptune remains in your relationship sector all year, and this makes having a spiritual connection important in your relationships. Some people may fade in and out of your life, some relationships may come and go quietly. You can be much more compassionate and giving in your relationships, but do need to make sure you're not giving so much that you're draining yourself dry and not getting anything in return. This just makes you more vulnerable to those who have bad intentions or energy vampires.

Jupiter joins Neptune in this sector briefly mid-May through July, and this can make it easier for you to show how committed you are, to welcome new relationships into your life, and to be more empathetic with others, but boundaries also need to be established.

Virgo 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

The Mercury retrogrades of 2021 target your professional areas, with Mercury retrograde most of February in your work sector, most of June in your career sector, and most of October in your money sector. The first Mercury retrograde in your work sector can stimulate some dissatisfaction with work you're doing, and if you're not happy with it, that can get worse. You likely need to focus on work that you're passionate about and really believe in. Saturn is in your work sector all year and Jupiter is as well for most of it, so this is definitely a year where you need to get serious about the work you're doing and dedicate yourself to something you can do long-term.

The second Mercury retrograde comes in your career and goals sector, and you may be left questioning your direction, unsure of your long-term plans, or experiencing a setback that has you reeling. Pressing pause for a moment may be needed, and you can assess if you're doing things the right way and for the right reasons. Before this retrograde, Mars is in your career sector for March through most of April, and this can be an opportunity for you to set yourself up so you go into the Mercury retrograde in a better position. Use the energy and drive of Mars to get work done, get little things out of the way, get organized, be more efficient, and make sure you're doing work you love. During the retrograde, a solar eclipse occurs in this sector, and that can be good energy for focusing on an old goal, taking a second chance, and working to hit your stride again.

The final Mercury retrograde occurs in your money sector, and Mars is in this sector at the same time (mid-September through October). This can bring out unexpected expenses, or generally make you feel more insecure about money, even if you don't have any actual issues. Try to shore up your finances leading into the retrograde to avoid this. This may be a good period to make some extra money in a way you have before and can again.

Virgo 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Mars is in your home and family sector the second half of December to end 2021, and a solar eclipse occurs in this sector December 4th. This can give more attention to your home and family life, and with the eclipse, you may want to start a new home improvement project, spruce up your home, and inject new life into it. You can make a move, or change up your living arrangements. You may spend more time with family, planning a gathering or outing, or one of your family may be presented with an opportunity that you support them with. You can focus on making your home and family life supportive and nurturing.

A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector May 26th, and this may be a time to focus on issues at home or with family that need to be worked on. Issues may become worse and difficult to handle, and this makes it important to deal with. Facing them can help improve the relationship and situation. Avoiding them might bring things down more.

Virgo 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Mars is in one of the sectors ruling your mind November to mid-December, and this can increase your mental energy. You can come up with lots of new ideas and plans, and want to take action with them right away. You can be more willing to take initiative with your ideas and plans, but you may become scattered and start lots of them but not see them through. Try to choose which ones to focus on so you're not so scattered, and then see them through before moving on to any others. This may be a good period for learning or sharing information you have.

Mars is in the sector ruling your subconscious mind mid-June through July, and this can give you energy and drive to forge a stronger connection to your subconscious. You can gain a better understanding of what's come to pass, and of yourself. This can help you eliminate some unneeded baggage, and strengthen your intuition as well so you can move forward with less holding you back and better internal guides to make decisions.

Virgo 2021 General Horoscope

Mars is in your sign August through mid-September, and this is a time when energy and drive can surge. You can feel motivated to pursue what you want for yourself instead of for everyone else, and you can be more confident in your abilities. This helps you take initiative, and what you start now can be a focus for the next two years. Mars comes to your sign every two years, so this is a time you want to make the most of to get your life moving forward in exciting ways.

Uranus spends all of 2021 in your future dreams sector, and Mars is in this sector early January through February, so you can start 2021 giving more time and attention to your hopes and dreams. You can be more hopeful about what the future holds for you, and more willing to think outside of the box with how to get there. You may come up with new, unusual goals and ambitions, and can push yourself outside of your comfort zone a little bit. This can help you be more independent and more of an individual.

Libra 2021 Horoscope

Libra 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Saturn spends all of 2021 in your love sector, and Jupiter is with Saturn for most of the year. This is a time when you can get more serious about love relationships, and you can take love a lot more seriously. This might mean some relationships are let go of because you recognize they aren't good for you and can't be saved, while others get more of your devotion because they're healthy and contribute to your life. Some may be in the middle, and decisions have to be made as to whether or not you should put in the time and effort to improve them. If single, you may be less open to random dating and only are interested in something that can be serious quickly. If in a relationship, you may want to strengthen your bonds and become more committed to your partner.

Mercury will retrograde (appear to move backward) in this sector most of February, and this may bring out some love issues that you haven't been fully aware of and need to address. It can also bring back old flames and loves.

Uranus spends all of 2021 in your intimacy sector, and Mars is with Uranus in this sector early January through February. This can open you up to new ways of improving your intimate connections, and you may want to explore unconventional ways of strengthening your emotional bonds. You may be more attracted to people who are different from your usual 'type' as well, if single.

Libra 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Mars is in your career and goals sector late April through mid-June, and you can feel more ambitious and driven to succeed. You can come up with new goals, work on long-term plans, and get advice from those you trust and respect. You might hit a high with something, hit your stride, make great progress, or get recognition for what you've done, especially with something you started 12-18 months ago.

Neptune remains in your work sector all of 2021, and this can make it so you need to do work that makes you feel spiritually fulfilled. Without a spiritual, emotional connection to what you do, you may lack love for it and have little focus. Jupiter joins Neptune in this sector briefly mid-May through July, and this can give more opportunities for you to pursue work you want to be doing, and enjoying yourself becomes even more important.

Mars is in your money sector November to mid-December, and you can focus on your financial situation. This may be a time where you decide to take on extra work to make more money, gather information to make an important decision of transaction, and can think more about money now and long-term. Work to be smarter, and don't be too impulsive.

Libra 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Pluto remains in your home and family sector all of 2021, and you can continue to make major transformations of your home and family life. You may try to take more control, and can find more personal power as you work through old emotional issues tying to the home and family. You can focus on making your home life as solid and secure and possible, and you may end up confronting some deeply-held issues that have been there for a long time but need to be brought to the surface.

This can become more apparent with Venus retrograde in this sector the second half of December to end the year, and the issues that have been present become more pronounced, while the issues you haven't been so aware of can start oozing out. The more you work things out, the better relationships can become and the more comfortable you can be emotionally, but it may be uncomfortable in the process of it all.

Libra 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Mars is in one of the sectors ruling your mind the second half of December to end 2021, and this can increase mental energy, give you lots of ideas and plans, and you can be excited by what you come up with. You may be more willing to share your ideas and plans with others, as well as opinions and arguments. You can be more engaging and open, and enjoy anything that stimulates you mentally. A solar eclipse occurs in this sector earlier in December, and that can give you energy to actually pursue a new idea and plan and make something happen with it.

A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector May 26th, and you may sort through ideas and plans, wanting to get serious about a few instead of spreading yourself too thin. You can be more authentic with the way you express yourself, more open and honest, and you can find it easier to merge your head and heart.

Mars is in the sector ruling your subconscious mind August through mid-September, and your subconscious mind can get more attention. You can spend some time alone, just with your thoughts, and thinking about the past. You may want to understand more about what has happened, why you make decisions you did and took the actions you took, and how others factored into it, and how all of this has left a lasting impact on you subconsciously. This can help you work things out and let some things go you don't need anymore.

Libra 2021 General Horoscope

Mars in your sign mid-September through October, and this is usually a time when you experience a big boost in energy and drive to pursue what you want, start new projects and ventures, and are more enthusiastic and excited. But this round for you, Mercury will also be retrograde in your sign late September through mid-October, and you have that to deal with! Mercury retrograde in your sign can throw you off in big ways, make you feel stressed out and throw too much at you, and you have to be more patient with others and with yourself. With the two paired up, this may be a fantastic time for a second chance with something, one of the best times of your life probably. What have you wanted another chance with? A relationship, a job, a goal, anything. This may be the absolute perfect time for you to go for it.

Venus will retrograde the second half of December to end 2021 and go into 2022, and Venus is your ruler, and this can also throw you off, though in more subtle ways than the Mercury retrograde. Still, you may need to be more mindful later in the year about giving yourself plenty of time to get things done, being easier on yourself and not demanding so much perfection, and being more understanding with both yourself and others.

Scorpio 2021 Horoscope

Scorpio 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Neptune remains in your love sector all year, and Jupiter joins Neptune briefly mid-May through July. You may be more open to romance and love, and focus on love relationships where you feel a spiritual connection. You can be open to new people, and share the love you feel more freely. If single, you may keep your options open, wanting to find someone you feel a spiritual or karmic link to. If in a relationship, you may strengthen the spiritual connection you have, and try to bring back some of the sparks.

Uranus remains in your relationship sector all year, so you can continue to experience changes in your relationships and with the new people coming into your life. You can be more open to unconventional people and partnerships, and want some extra space. Mars is in this sector with Uranus early in the year, entering early January through February. This can give you extra drive to commit to the people you care about, and you may not want to settle. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector November 19th, and you can let go of someone who isn't good for you or a partnership that hasn't been healthy, and grow closer with the good ones.

Mars will tour your intimacy sector March to mid-April, and this can give you a stronger drive to connect on a deep level emotionally, spiritually, and physically. You can have very little patience for anything that feels superficial in any way. Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) in this sector most of June with a solar eclipse in this sector June 10th, so you may see old lovers come back into your life, and existing relationships may get a closer look to deal with long-standing issues. It can be a good time to reconnect and understand old baggage.

Scorpio 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Mid-June through July, Mars is in your career and life path sector, and this can increase your ambition and make you more driven to succeed and make progress. You can pay closer attention to your long-term plans, make tweaks and get advice from those you respect, and stick to being practical and focused. Your energy can be disciplined, and you can understand what you're capable of. You may get some attention for what you've done, some recognition that you deserve, and can hit new heights in some way. If you need to change your course, you may experience setbacks and delays that let you know it's time to shift gears.

A lunar eclipse occurs in your money sector May 26th, and this can bring an end to a financial situation, arrangement, or partnership. You can ground your finances, and feel more secure when your finances are in shape. A solar eclipse occurs in your money sector December 4th, and this can be an excellent time to pursue a new financial opportunity, make money in new ways, and make solid financial decisions. Mars is in this sector mid-December to end the year, and this gives lots of energy and drive to make more (but also watch spending!).

Scorpio 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Saturn is in your home and family sector all year, and Jupiter is in this sector most of the year as well. You can take on more responsibilities at home or with family, and feel more falls on your shoulders. You may be more restricted in some ways, limited with what you can do, and more expansive in other ways, open to finding alternatives. You may think more creatively when it comes to dealing with matters at home or with family, and this can help you find solutions when you get frustrated. What you set up now can get you ready for the next couple of decades of your life, personally.

Mercury will retrograde in your home and family sector for most of February, and this can be a time when you have to take a step back, press pause, and assess your situation at home or with family. You may need to work on core issues to strengthen the foundation of your home and family life, and try to be more supportive, encouraging, and helpful. At the same time, you may need this from others as well. Little issues may come up at home or with family that need to be addressed, so exercise patience when dealing with them.

Scorpio 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Pluto remains in one of the sectors ruling your mind all year, and you can continue to focus on ideas and plans that you're passionate about, assert your thoughts and opinions, and transform the way you research, learn, share knowledge, and connect mentally. You can be more researching, more open to darker subjects, and more interested in getting to the heart of matters. You may have little interest in anything that you feel lacks depth. Venus retrogrades to end the year in this sector as well, and you may need to pick back up some old ideas and plans, and do some more revisions.

Mars is in the sector that rules your subconscious mind mid-September through October with Mercury retrograde in this sector most of October, so you may have to dip back to the past, come to terms with some old issues, and sort through some baggage. You can gain a better understanding of subconscious issues, desires, and motivations, and can take some time alone to recharge yourself internally. This can help you feel free to move on.

Scorpio 2021 General Horoscope

Mars is in your sign November to mid-December, and this is a period that comes around every two years or so, and it's one to take full advantage of. Mars in your sign gives you lots of energy and drive, enthusiasm and excitement, and you can use that to start new projects, new journeys, new ventures, and pursue opportunities that are a focus for the next two years of your life. You can be willing to take initiative, and want to go for what you want for yourself. Make use of the energy, and get moving. You have plenty of passionate energy inside of you that can be used for your own gain in a healthy way, so go for it!

Sagittarius 2021 Horoscope

Sagittarius 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Mars is in your relationship sector March through mid-April, and this can bring energy and drive to commit to the people you care about and get serious about your relationships. You may want to weed out which ones are doing well and which aren't, and determine if the ones that aren't are worth saving. If single, you can give more focus to finding someone open to commitment and that you respect. If in a relationship, you may want to take things to another level and re-affirm your commitment to your partner.

Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) for most of June in your relationship sector, and a solar eclipse occurs in this sector June 10th, so you may need to work on relationship and commitment issues, and try to improve the relationships you have. You may decide to take a different approach to dealing with the people in your life, and you may see the return of people from the past. This can be a good time for recommitting.

Mars is in your intimacy sector mid-April to mid-June, and this can increase your intensity and passion in your relationships. You want to dig deeper and have a better understanding of those you're closest to, and forge stronger emotional, spiritual, and physical bonds. You can give your all in your relationships and share everything you have, so you may need to work on not giving away too much or being overwhelming to others.

Sagittarius 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Uranus remains in your work sector all of 2021, and this can prompt you to want to make changes in your work environment, who you work with or for, or with the job you do. If you don't love it, you may crave even more change and look to do something completely different. If you do love it, you may find new ways of being more productive, new projects that allow you to keep doing what you love, or unexpected opportunities arising. You can operate more independently with work as well.

Mars joins Uranus in this sector to start the year through February, and this adds in energy and drive for work and getting things done. You can get organized and maximize your time and energy, and enjoy being productive. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector November 19th, and you can settle work issues, finish work projects, and make progress with work plans.

Pluto remains in your money sector all of 2021, so you can continue to transform your approach to money, the way you manage money, the way you make money, your attitude about money, and what you feel has value in your life. This area likely got hit in a big way in 2020, so if you did the work in 2020, you may find you have an easier time taking control and getting on track in 2021. Venus will retrograde in this sector mid-December to end 2021, so any financial issues can get magnified at that point, and you may want to set yourself up before that retrograde hits to put yourself in a better position to handle it.

Mars is in your career and life path sector August to mid-September, and you can feel more ambitious and driven to succeed. You may set new goals for yourself, work on long-term plans, and think more about the direction you're going in. You may have more energy to do more as you make more progress, and can feel like you hit new highs.

Sagittarius 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Neptune remains in your home and family sector all year, and you can continue to work on forging stronger spiritual ties with your family or at home. The more comfortable you are at home and the more support you get from family (or the people you think of as family), the more spiritually confident and secure you can become. Your intuition can be strong when it comes to dealing with home and family matters, and help guide you with challenging situations. You may find that some situations or people may fade from your life, and it doesn't seem like that much effort.

Jupiter joins Neptune in your home and family sector briefly, mid-May through July, and you can focus on expanding your home or living environment in some way, making improvements, moving, or finding some space of your own. Giving yourself some more space can help you a lot emotionally. You may also see your family expand in some way, and you can feel more connected to the people you think of as family, enjoying your time spent with them and giving them support.

Sagittarius 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Mercury retrogrades in one of the sectors ruling your mind for most of February, and this might make you feel more misunderstood, frustrated mentally, and lacking focus. You may need to give your mind a break, and take some time to reflect on the past, old issues, and bring back old ideas and plans to work on. It can be a great period for revising and editing. You may find that different ways of communicating help you feel heard, and you can work on doing a better job at listening.

Saturn spends all of 2021 in this sector, and Jupiter is here for most of the year as well, so outside of that Mercury retrograde, you actually have a solid year for mental work. You can learn new things, share knowledge with others, come up with lots of ideas, work on practical plans, and make your ideas tangible. You can focus on trying to optimize your mental abilities and energy, and make more progress from that.

Mars is in the sector ruling your subconscious mind November through mid-December, and you can work on your connection to your subconscious mind, and try to understand yourself better. Old issues, inner motivations and desires, and baggage can come to your conscious mind, and you can work on moving on, releasing some of the anger or pain, and find new, better ways of tackling situations and relationships moving forward. Looking back to the past can be extremely helpful to guiding you through future challenges so you don't repeat the same mistakes.

Sagittarius 2021 General Horoscope

A lunar eclipse occurs in your sign May 26th, and this can be a time when you reap what you've sown in a big way. You can make major progress with things you've done right and believe in and are passionate about, and reap the rewards for that. But you can also experience major setbacks with the things you haven't done right, don't care for, or that you need to change your approach with. Your emotions can be sky-high, so try to care for yourself emotionally and give yourself the support you need.

A solar eclipse occurs in your sign December 4th, and Mars enters your sign mid-December to end the year, so you can end the year with excellent energy to start new projects and ventures, pursue new opportunities, and make the most of enthusiasm and excitement. This is excellent energy for you to start something that can last for at least the next couple of years of your life. Venus will be retrograde though, so do try to manage laziness. That can get in the way and keep you from making the most of this, so avoid that!

Capricorn 2021 Horoscope

Capricorn 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Uranus remains in your love sector all of 2021, and you can continue to make changes in your love relationships. You can find new ways of connecting with loved ones, and find new ways of expressing the love you feel. If single, you may attract different types than usual to you, while if in a relationship, you may want to experiment to spice things up.

Mars is in this sector with Uranus to start the year through February, and this increases your energy and drive to share the love you feel. You can be more romantic, and want to share your generosity with others. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector November 19th, and this can increase your romantic side as well. If single, you may only be interested in someone you feel a spiritual connection with, and can give your heart fully to. If in a relationship, you may want to strengthen the bond with your partner.

Mars is in your relationship sector mid-April to mid-June, and you can be more commitment-minded. You may dedicate yourself to the people in your life and to the relationships you're serious about. If single, you may only show interest in those you feel are serious about commitment. If in a relationship, you may want to strengthen your commitment to the relationship, and improve your connection with your partner.

Mars moves to your intimacy sector mid-June through July, and you can feel more passionate and invested in your relationships. You may want to understand the people you love better, and feel that the bonds between you are unbreakable. If single, you may go for someone you find brooding or mysterious. If in a relationship, you may want to work on connecting fully with your partner.

Capricorn 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

2021 may be a big year for your work life, Capricorn! First, the Mercury retrogrades (which is when a planet appears to be moving backward) will all impact your professional areas of life. Mercury retrogrades in your money sector most of February, and you may need to deal with financial issues and try to make better financial decisions. You may feel insecure financially, but you can do research and work on finding value.

Mercury retrogrades in your work sector most of June, and you can struggle with meeting deadlines and have a lot of your plate. You may need to give yourself some time away from it all, and go easy on yourself. This comes with a solar eclipse in this sector June 10th, and you may want to take advantage of a second chance opportunity with work.

Mercury retrogrades in your career and life path sector most of October, and you can feel overwhelmed by a goal, experience a setback, and need to take a break. You may need to reassess your plans and gather more information. With the Mercury retrogrades, this can be a good year to go back to work at a job you've done before, for someone or with someone you've worked before, attempting a career you wanted to before, or rediscovering your passion for what you do.

Saturn is in your money sector all year, and Jupiter is in this sector for most of the year, so you can drill down financially in 2021. You can pursue opportunities to improve your financial situation with Jupiter, and make long-term financial plans and decisions to set yourself up with Saturn. If you experience challenging financial periods, they may get worse if you don't work to rectify them quickly and do things the right way. But if you experience beneficial financial periods, you can make them even more beneficial and put yourself in a great position.

Mars is in your career and life path sector mid-September through October, so this coincides with Mercury retrograde in this sector. This means you can have more energy and drive to deal with issues that do arise, and you may want to bring back old goals, take a second chance with something important, or reconnect with an old boss or mentor. You can feel more ambitious, so you just need to make sure you don't take any shortcuts and keep your passion alive.

Mars is in your work sector March to mid-April, and this can increase your productivity and efficiency. This comes before the Mercury retrograde in this sector, so you can use the Mars energy to set yourself up so you're not so thrown off with the retrograde and don't have as much to worry about getting done. Be a busy worker bee with Mars!

Capricorn 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

2020 came with a Mars retrograde in your home and family sector, and Mars was in your home and family sector for the second half of the year, spending a good long time there. Mars finally leaves January 6th 2021, and you can go into 2021 taking away such intense focus on home and family matters, and feel a little bit of relief. You may not want to deal with challenges with the home and family, but you may not have as many of them to deal with either. You can get some space emotionally, and want to keep energy calm for the year.

If you have children, Uranus is in the sector ruling your kids all year, with Mars moving into that sector early in January through February. This can make them more rebellious, more independent, and they may push back against you more, but they're likely just testing your boundaries. They can be more creative and energetic, and can get attention that they may need your guidance with. A lunar eclipse also occurs in this sector November 19th, their emotions may run high, and their demand for attention and support may test you a bit, but it's important to be there for them.

Capricorn 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Neptune remains in one of the sectors ruling your mind all year, and you can continue to explore spiritual subjects and strengthen your intuitive intelligence. Your creativity can soar, and you can be more artistic and expressive. Your charisma may also be heightened, and you can sense what people mean behind what they say. It might be easier for you to be duped by pretty words though, so make sure you have solid mental boundaries and are paying attention to logic and reason.

Jupiter is with Neptune in this sector for a brief period, mid-May through July, and you can expand your mind, open up to new ideas and new plans, and become more interested in learning new things. You can be more open with your own knowledge as well, and you can be more engaging and sociable. You may want to take up learning, but you may prefer to do it in your own time and way, not caring for anything too structured. Your outlook can also be more positive, and you can look toward the future with a brighter attitude and bigger dreams.

Capricorn 2021 General Horoscope

Pluto remains in your sign all year, but at least the Capricorn stellium of 2020 is over for 2021! That might make Pluto alone feel like a breath of fresh air! You can continue to work on transforming and evolving, digging deeper and understanding, and facing harsh realities at times, but it may not be quite as intense as 2020 was (most years aren't as intense as 2020!). Those of you Capricorns born January 13th - 17th may be impacted most by Pluto in 2021, and you may be the ones undergoing more personal transformations and putting yourselves under the microscope. Give yourself some space, and take control of the transforming. Find personal power and get comfortable with it.

Venus will retrograde in your sign mid-December to end the year, so you may end 2021 feeling a little lazier, not wanting to move too much, and in need of a break. You may be pretty busy this year, so that can be a good way to end it. But try to avoid stubbornness, being stuck, or being closed off. Ground yourself and get in tune with your senses. Also exercise patience when dealing with others. It may be a good time to reconnect with people from the past you'd like to see again.

Aquarius 2021 Horoscope

Aquarius 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Mars is in your love sector March to mid-April, and this gives extra energy and drive to focus on love in your life. You can be more motivated to share the love you feel with others, and make others feel as good as you do. You can be much more affectionate and romantic, and may pursue love with greater zeal and purpose. If single, you may want to keep your options open, while if attached, you may want to plan for some romantic time together.

Mercury will retrograde (appear to move backward) in your love sector for most of June, and this comes with a solar eclipse in your love sector June 10th. Love issues may be exposed, and you can encounter challenges in your love relationships that you need to work on. Some of your loved ones may get under your skin, and you have to exercise more patience and understanding. Old loves may come back into your life, and if single, you may feel like reconnecting, and the eclipse might make this a good time for it. If in a relationship, you can work on making it feel fresh and new again, reigniting the spark.

Mars tours your relationship sector mid-June through July, and this can get you more serious about commitment and your relationships. You may want to take the next step in your relationship, if you're attached, and show just how serious you are about your partner. If single, you may have little interest in anyone who isn't willing to take commitment seriously, and demand more respect from others who want to court you.

Mars moves to your intimacy sector August to mid-September, and this can help you improve the emotional bonds you have with others. You want to strengthen your ties, and feel that your relationships can withstand any pressure from the outside world. You can be much more passionate, and want to share fully with your loved ones.

Aquarius 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Neptune remains in your money sector all of 2021, and you can continue to use money in ways that help others or enrich you spiritually. You may feel less attachment to physical objects, and instead focus on experience and spiritual nourishment. Money may be harder for you to keep track of at times, but you can also manifest it more easily by connecting with the Universe and trusting intuitive guidance with financial matters.

Jupiter joins Neptune in this sector briefly from mid-May through July, and you can pursue more financial opportunities, take advantage of financial projects and advice, and can work on improving your financial situation overall. You can feel more grounded and centered, and this can help you stabilize your finances and expand opportunities for you to explore.

Mars is in your work sector mid-April to mid-June, and you can focus on trying to get as much work done as you can. This can be a highly productive period, and you can get organized, make lists, stick to a schedule, and bring in some structure. It can be a good time to tackle the little tasks and chores that pile up and need to be finished. If you're passionate about the work you do, you can have even more energy and motivation to do more during this time; if you're not passionate about it, you may hate it even more and need to bring more passion into your daily life to counteract the dissatisfaction.

Mars is in your career and life path sector November to mid-December, and you can feel more ambitious and driven to succeed. You can improve long-term plans, have a practical eye for how to get things done, and keep moving forward until you make progress. You may feel like you hit a high point with something, especially something you began 12-18 months prior. You may get attention for what you've done, and recognition for your success. If you don't care for what you're doing or haven't taken the right approach, you may experience a setback or delay, and have to make changes to get back on track.

Aquarius 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Uranus remains in your home and family sector all year, and you can continue to make changes at home and with your family. You might want to move, or renovate or redecorate, or make sudden plans for family gatherings, or experience changes brought on by your family. You may want more freedom to do things your own way at home and with family rather than being boxed in by rules, yet you may also want to grow your family by welcoming in anyone and everyone into your extended family.

Mars joins Uranus in this sector to start the year, January through February, and you can have more energy and drive to focus on home and family matters. You may feel more motivated and willing to take initiative in life if you have a solid home life and feel supported by those you think of as family. This may be a time to work on strengthening yourself internally, tackling old issues at your core, and gaining more emotional understanding of yourself and others.

A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector November 19th, and you can finish a project at home, settle an issue with family, and may want to give more focus to matters of the home and family to improve your emotional stability. You may crave more support and encouragement from others, and can be more nurturing in return.

Aquarius 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Pluto remains in the sector ruling your subconscious mind all year, and this comes off of a year in 2020 where you had to spend a lot of time in your subconscious! If you did it right, you should have formed a strong connection in 2020 with your subconscious and worked through old issues, let go of old baggage, and came to an understanding of your subconscious motivations and desires. Going into 2021, you should be in a stronger place with a stronger connection to your subconscious mind, and this can help you trust your intuition and have a solid inner guide. You can also feel less like you're being weighed down and held back by the past, and Pluto allows you to find more personal power and take control quietly, in your own way.

Venus will retrograde in this sector the second half of December to end 2021, and this might bring the focus on subconscious issues in relationships and when dealing with others. Anything that lingers in your relationships, you may become more aware of, and this can be a good time to work it out. You may see someone leave your life with this retrograde, and it may be something that has been in the making for a while. People from the past may come back into your life as well, and this may be for a reason or to help you with a life lesson.

Aquarius 2021 General Horoscope

Saturn is in your sign all of 2021, freshly entered in December 2020. Saturn is joined by Jupiter in your sign for most of 2021, so you have both big players in your sign. This is huge energy! This is a big period for you to focus on starting anew in some way. This is the start of a big new life cycle for you that can last for decades. You can take on new responsibilities, set new goals, work on new long-term plans, pursue new opportunities, expand your life in new ways, and take initiative for what you want. You can be smart and thoughtful in your approach, and do things the right way and for the right reasons. It may be overwhelming at times thanks to Saturn, and you may feel the weight of it all pressuring you, but you can handle it.

Mercury will retrograde in your sign for most of February, so this may be the most challenging time of the year for you. You may feel like every little thing that can go wrong does go wrong, or you have lots of little issues pop up that only you can address. You may feel impatient with others, have misunderstandings, and need to give yourself a break. Don't be so hard on yourself, and try to plan for pulling back so you don't have to stress so much during this time. What it can be great for is a second chance, so think about something you'd like another shot at.

Pisces 2021 Horoscope

Pisces 2021 Love and Relationships Horoscope

Mars is in your love sector mid-April to mid-June, and this can increase your desire to express love and affection. You can be more romantic and want more time and attention from others. If single, you may enjoy playing the field, keeping your options open, and seeing what's out there. If in a relationship, you may want to spark the fire again and make it feel like it did when you first met. You can spend more time sharing the love you feel, and can feel more loving and heart-centric.

Mars is in your relationship sector August to mid-September, and this can make you more in the mood for commitment. If in a relationship, you can strengthen your commitment to your partner in some way, or take the next step in the relationship. If single, you may want to settle down with just one person for a while, and can go for someone you have a lot of respect for and you feel will take commitment seriously.

Mars is in your intimacy sector mid-September through October, and this comes with Mercury retrograde in this sector most of October. Intimacy issues may come out, and you have to work on dealing with them. You may struggle with feeling as close to others as you want to, and barriers may be in the way that need to be torn down. You may need to dig deeper into yourself and your approach to relationships to find what needs to be corrected. It may not be pleasant, but it can help you to have the strong emotional bonds that you want with the people you love.

Pisces 2021 Career & Money Horoscope

Mars is in your work sector mid-June through July, and you can get right down to work. You can enjoy getting things done, and the more you do, the more energy you may have to do more. You can get lots of little tasks and chores out of the way, and break bigger projects down into smaller tasks to make them more manageable. You can focus on work that you're passionate about, and have more passion for it. But if you don't like the work you do, you may enjoy it even less than usual. Try to bring more tasks into your daily life that you do enjoy.

A lunar eclipse occurs in your career and life path sector May 26th, and you can make great progress and achieve new heights with the goals you've been passionate about, worked hard on, and been smart with. Rewards can come for that, and you can get recognition for what you've done. If you haven't done things right, you may experience setbacks, and have to look at where you need to change direction to smooth everything over.

Mars is in your career and life path sector the second half of December to end the year, and a solar eclipse occurs in this sector December 4th.

This can be excellent energy for working on new long-term plans, setting new goals, and pursuing opportunities to start new ventures. You can feel ambitious and energized, ready to go and willing to take the first steps. You may hit your stride in some way, and can make connections with people in the right places at the right times.

Pisces 2021 Home & Family Horoscope

Mars is in your home and family sector March to mid-April, and this can bring your attention to matters of the home and family. You may want to spend more time with family or the people you think of as family, and it can be a good time for coming together. You may spend more time at home too, or work on improving your home or living situation in some way. It can be a time to move, to remodel or redecorate, and you can feel more energized with a solid home base to jump off of.

Mercury will retrograde in your home and family sector for most of June though, so you may have some issues with the home and family that need to be dealt with. Little issues may pop up at home, like outlets shocking and pipes bursting, and little things may come up with your family that they need your help with. You may feel more unsettled at home or with family, and have to work on strengthening the core foundation. A solar eclipse occurs in this sector June 10th, and this can make for good energy for moving back to somewhere you lived before, living with someone who lived with you before, reconnecting with family, renovating your home, or restoring some part of your home.

Pisces 2021 Mental State Horoscope

Uranus remains in one of the sectors ruling your mind all of 2021, and this can keep you open to thinking outside of the box, coming up with unconventional ideas and plans, and pushing you outside of your mental comfort zone. You can get flashes of insight and have a little brilliance at times, though others may struggle with understanding it at the moment.

Mars is in this sector to start the year through February, and your mental energy can soar. You can come up with even more ideas and plans, and can share what you come up with. You may take charge with making your ideas tangible, and can focus on doing something with them, but may need to work on being focused so you don't get scattered. A lunar eclipse occurs in this sector November 19th, and you can focus on sorting through your ideas to find the ones you're most passionate about, and finalizing plans or making progress with one. You can also find that it's easier to openly communicate what you think and feel.

Saturn spends all of 2021 in the sector ruling your subconscious mind, and Jupiter is in this sector most of the year as well. You can dig deep into your subconscious mind and work on understanding your motivations, issues, and desires, and try to let go of some old subconscious baggage. You may retreat into your subconscious at times this year, and can spend a lot of time analyzing this past. This is good if you're gaining understanding and strengthening your connection to your inner guide. Just watch for getting lost in it. Mercury retrogrades in this sector for most of February, and this may be a time when you need to disconnect and get some rest, otherwise you may have some bigger issues to deal with weighing you down.

Pisces 2021 General Horoscope

Neptune, your ruler, remains in your sign for all of 2021, and you can continue to strengthen your intuition, imagination, compassion, and empathy. Your creativity and artistic abilities can soar, and you can be more charismatic and easier to get along with. Others may see you as they want to see you at times, which may be a little maddening, and you do have to be on top of your boundaries. It can be easy to let others trample all over them, but this just puts you in a bad position, so respect yourself enough to have healthy boundaries. Those of you Fish born March 8th - 15th can get a direct hit from Neptune in 2021, and feel this energy strongest.

Jupiter is in your sign briefly in 2021, mid-May through July, and this is a taste of Jupiter in your sign. This is traditionally excellent energy for new beginnings and ventures, expanding your life and opening up to new experiences, and being more optimistic about your life and possibilities. You can come up with bigger ideas, thinking bigger and brighter, and feel that more is possible for you than ever before.

Jupiter officially moves into your sign December 28th, so right at the end of 2021, and this period earlier in the year is a glimpse of what you can go into 2022 with. Make the most of the time Jupiter is with Saturn in Aquarius to clear out mental, emotional, and spiritual clutter in your life so you're ready to charge ahead when Jupiter is in your sign. Those of your Fish born before February 22nd can get the strongest hit by Jupiter in 2021.
