Extra: New Eclipse Series

On November 19th, we'll have a lunar eclipse in Taurus, and this kicks off a new eclipse series. A solar eclipse occurs in December in Sagittarius, and that closes the Gemini-Sagittarius set of eclipses (which went really fast!). The Taurus-Scorpio series will last about 2 years.

Eclipses occur with the New (solar) and Full (lunar) Moons, and are when they're within 18 1/2 degrees of the Lunar Nodes (the points in the Moon's orbit where the Moon crosses the ecliptic). The Lunar Nodes are moving into Taurus (North Node) and Scorpio (South Node), hence new signs for the eclipses.

The Taurus-Scorpio eclipses can focus on our values and resources, what we invest in, and what we feel is worth something. We may experience changes in our morals and ethics, with what is shared, with what we do to create stable structures for our lives, and even financially.

The last Taurus-Scorpio eclipse set was November 2012 to April 2014, so you can look back to them to get an idea of how this may impact you personally.

What parts of your natal chart are in Taurus and Scorpio, and what do they rule? How can you give focus to your values, stability and security, your legacy and investments, and your resources with those areas? Brainstorm:
