Aquarius 2018 Yearly Horoscopes	60

January 1st - 7th 2018

This week and year begins with a full moon on Monday in Cancer and your work sector, so you go into this new year focused on finishing up work projects or work plans, settling issues with the people you work with or for, or leaving the work you're doing for something that you're really passionate about. You may also work to streamline your daily life, eliminating waste and anything that seems frivolous, and you can work to be healthier, especially by giving up a bad habit. On Tuesday, your ruler, Uranus, ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Aries, and you may have struggled to make changes with your ideas or plans, and felt off in a subtle way. Now that the retrograde is ending, you can work to make the changes you want, and feel more like yourself. On Saturday, Uranus positively hits Mercury, and you can work on new ideas, new plans, and be more engaging. You may start the week focused on the details and being attentive, and can meet people in the middle midweek. Later in the week, you can focus on something intensely, trying to gain as much information as you can and understand it at the core. You may end the week feeling a little adventurous or bold, and dreaming up ideas to expand your life and explore the world. They don't have to just be ideas, ya know!

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

January 8th - 14th 2018

You can find the silver lining in every difficult situation as the week begins, Aquarius, and you can try to focus on the positives. You may believe that being upbeat helps to unlock opportunities for you, and you can stay open to new possibilities, whatever they may be. Later in the week, you can work on your long-term plans for any big ideas you have, and take a more practical approach to what you can come up with. You can work hard for what you want, take on a new responsibility, or hit your stride with something. On Thursday, Mercury enters Capricorn, and you can do your best thinking on your own over the coming weeks. You can have a more active imagination, but can also find other people drain you mentally, so you may need more time alone or to get more rest. You can focus on the past, work on old plans, or bring out a secret. On Saturday, your ruler, Uranus, harshly hits Venus, and you may have a hard time getting along with someone, feel uncompromising, are indulgent or lazy, or may feel stuck. Uranus harshly hits the Sun on Sunday, and you may feel uncomfortable with something, get attention you don't want or lack attention you do want, or stay out of the spotlight. Over the weekend, you can spend time with friends, in groups you belong to, pursuing causes you believe in, or following your dreams.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday, Tuesday

January 15th - 21st 2018

Staying in the background might be most appealing to you as the week begins, and with a new moon in Capricorn on Tuesday, you can focus on opportunities that keep you in the background, behind the scenes, and out of the spotlight. You may prefer to work on projects and ventures on your own, not wanting any interference or just wanting some quiet time. Later in the week, the Moon is in your sign, Aquarius, and your energy can zoom and you can focus on your own wants and needs, especially with Venus entering your sign on Wednesday and the Sun entering your sign on Friday. Over the coming weeks, you can be more comfortable with attention, get something new started, have more energy and enthusiasm, and can be more charming and compromising. Over the weekend, you can slow things down, wanting to take a moment to enjoy yourself and relax. You may feel more indulgent or splurge on yourself, and not feel any need to be in a rush to do anything.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday, Friday

January 22nd - 28th 2018

There can be plenty of ideas that you feel strongly about as the week starts, but you may have a hard time remembering them since you come up with so many, so keep track or write down the ones you really like. You can focus on doing something with them later. Later in the week, you can work on matters at home, home improvement projects or real estate transactions, moving or cleaning up, or focus on matters with family, settling disputes, planning gatherings, or being supportive. On Friday, Mars enters Sagittarius, and over the coming weeks, you can expand your social circle and meet new people, go outside of your comfort zone and try new things, make some changes in your life, and you can feel more independent. You can focus on your dreams for your future and what you hope for most in life. Over the weekend, you can be more fun-loving, creative, and affectionate, and can set aside work to enjoy yourself.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

January 29th - February 4th 2018

On Wednesday, Mercury enters your sign, Aquarius, and a lunar eclipse occurs in Leo and your relationship sector, so it's a big day for you. With Mercury, you can come up with new ideas, new plans, be more engaging, and be more open with what you come up with over the coming weeks. You can keep yourself busy, feeling active with the mental energy, and work to sort through your ideas. With the lunar eclipse, you can focus on your relationships with others, and work to improve the ones that you feel can be improved, commit more to the people you care for, or walk away from the relationships you think can't be salvaged or you aren't as invested in anymore. You can also work to be better balanced, and to feel you've found some middle ground. The more balanced you feel, the more decisive you can be, but if you feel out of balance, you may struggle emotionally. You may start the week being productive and efficient, and work on being better balanced midweek. Later in the week, you can give more time to serious matters, and you may end the week with big ideas and working on plans for expansion.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Sunday

February 5th - 11th 2018

You can be open to expanding your life in new ways and having new experiences to start the week, and you can feel a little bolder and more daring to do so. You can take a chance on yourself, and feel good about your ability to make the most of opportunities you have. Midweek, you can be more practical with what you can achieve, but this can help you to work on realistic long-term plans for big ideas and goals that you can follow. Your ruler, Uranus, positively hits Venus on Tuesday, and you may get help from someone in your life, or benefit from a partner. Later in the week, you can move outside of your comfort zone and see what opportunities you can find when you try the unconventional route. You can be more comfortable with trying something unusual and out there. On Saturday, Venus enters Pisces and your money sector, and you may enjoy bringing stability and security into your life, and doing some more splurging over the coming weeks. In love, you want want more passion, and if single, you can focus on finding someone passionate yet stable and reliable. If in a relationship, you can work to ground the connection between you and your partner. You may end the week with imagination and whimsy, and help out someone you care about.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday, Tuesday

February 12th - 18th 2018

This may be a very good week for you as a solar eclipse occurs in your sign, Aquarius, on Thursday, and this can bring good energy for focusing on new opportunities, new beginnings, new projects and ventures, and you can open yourself up to the possibilities in your life. You can be more energetic, enthusiastic, positive, and willing to take the first step. Make the most of the energy while you have it. On Saturday, Mercury enters Pisces and your money sector, and the Sun enters Pisces on Sunday. Over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself and do your best thinking when you feel stable and secure, take your time, focusing on financial plans and ventures, increase your confidence, and aren't in any rush. Your ruler, Uranus, positively hits the Sun on Tuesday, and you can get attention, feel creative, or focus on new opportunities. Uranus positively hits Mercury on Thursday, and your mind can be active and you can focus on new ideas. You may start the week with an active imagination, and have more energy midweek with the Moon in your sign. You can stick to what you start later in the week, and you may end the week gathering information, getting or giving advice, and sharing your plans with others.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

February 19th - 25th 2018

You can keep yourself busy and be more engaging as the week begins, and it may be because you have a lot of mental energy that you want to use up. You can focus on projects and situations that challenge you mentally, and you can be interested in a variety of subjects and issues. You can sort through your new ideas, and gather information to work on your plans. Midweek, you can focus on starting something from the ground up that culminates in about 2 weeks. You can get to your roots, or focus on the foundation of something. You may get to the bottom of something, or tackle something at the core. Later in the week, you can be more in tune with your heart. You can spend time with the people that you love, or make more time for your hobbies or the things that you love to do in healthy and positive ways. You can be more playful and less serious. You may end the week feeling more productive and efficient, and trying to get work done that you didn't get to during the week. You can get them out of the way and set yourself up going into next week.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Friday, Saturday

February 26th - March 4th 2018

On Thursday, a full moon occurs in Virgo, and this week can bring focus on your plans for transforming and sharing. You can focus on transforming for the better, and work to dig deeper into something or into yourself to figure out the best ways to go about it. You can share more with others and want to feel closer emotionally. You may be more in tune with what you hold deep inside of yourself, and you may need to bring something out into the light so it can be addressed and dealt with properly now. This can be an emotional experience, but likely necessary. You may start the week working to get organized, make lists, be productive, or bring structure and order to your life. Midweek, you can work to find some balance, and give more attention to others than to yourself. Later in the week, you can take a serious approach and get to the heart of matters that you're intensely focused on or passionate about. Over the weekend, you can make time to do what you want, when you want, and can be more passionate about your beliefs and more optimistic about your life.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

March 5th - 11th 2018

Mercury enters Aries on Tuesday, and Venus joins Mercury in Aries on Wednesday, and you can enjoy focusing on your new ideas and new plans over the coming weeks. You can have more mental energy, and you can share what's on your mind. You may want to connect with others mentally in love, and can work on having open lines of communication with the people you care about. You can keep yourself busy and be more engaging. Your ruler, Uranus, positively hits Mars on Sunday, and you can have more enthusiasm for new beginnings and more drive for new opportunities. You may start the week quickly focusing on taking your big ideas and turning them into actionable plans, and you can take a realistic approach to your goals during the first half of the week. You can reach out to those you need to, do your homework, or take on new responsibilities. Later in the week, you can expand your social circle, meet new people, and make new connections that may be helpful down the road, and you can open yourself up to new ways of thinking. Over the weekend, you can do your best thinking on your own, and may get more done when you don't have anyone looking over your shoulder or making demands of you.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Sunday

March 12th - 17th 2018

The Moon moves into your sign on Monday, so you can focus on your own wants and needs during the first half of the week, and may be more comfortable with attention and being in the spotlight. You can have more energy and enthusiasm, and you can use that to get something new started quickly. Try to make it something you can accomplish in a short period, otherwise you may not be able to see it through. Later in the week, you can feel calmer, more grounded, and strive to improve stability and security in your life. A new moon occurs in Pisces and your money sector on Saturday, and you can pursue financial opportunities, work to be more stable and secure, or get more grounded. You can be more sensual and indulgent, and benefit from being more confident. Mars moves into Capricorn on Saturday as well, and over the coming weeks, you can feel you have more energy and drive when you're on your own and not with demanding people. Your overall energy levels may be a little lower than usual, but your imagination can be very active, and you can have more intuitive and spiritual energy. You can address issues from the past, subconscious issues, and work on letting go and moving on from the things that hold you back. This can be a focus for the next few months, and you can do a good amount of clearing out this year. You may end the week with new ideas, and working on short-term plans.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Tuesday, Wednesday

March 19th - 25th 2018

As the week starts, you can start to feel the challenging energy that comes with this week, and you can experience issues with communication, focus, and mental discipline. On Tuesday, the Sun enters Aries, and over the coming weeks, this can become more apparent, and you may have difficulty expressing yourself or getting your point across. Mercury turns retrograde (appears to move backward) in Aries on Thursday, and this can impact us for the next few weeks. You may have difficulty finding the right way to express yourself, to be heard, to hear others, and may need to spend more time listening and less time wrapped up in your own head. It can be a good time to focus on old ideas or plans, and you can benefit from having a mental outlook to avoid getting into it with others and use up the scattered, unfocused, but extra enthusiastic mental energy you may have. Midweek, you can focus on comfort and support, try to focus on the positives later in the week, and spend the weekend tending to the little things so you're not completely off schedule.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Thursday, Friday

March 26th - April 1st 2018

You may want to spend time with others as the week begins, feeling that this might help you to feel better about the energy we're dealing with for now. You can give more attention to others as a way of distracting yourself as well. Later in the week, you can focus on a transformation that you feel will make things better once completed. Your ruler, Uranus, aligns with Venus on Wednesday, and you may get along better with others and be more charming. Saturday is a big energy day, and Venus enters Taurus and your home and family sector, and a full moon occurs in Libra. With Venus entering Taurus, you can enjoy spending time in the places you know best, with the people who support you, tending to emotional needs, and tackling the foundation of something over the coming weeks. With the full moon in Libra, you can defend your beliefs, become more invested in your beliefs or walk away from them, and can still try to focus on the good, especially over the weekend. You may make time to have some fun and not be so serious about life.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Saturday, Sunday

April 2nd - 8th 2018

It may be difficult to have total focus, but you may start the week trying to hit your stride or hit a high point with one of your goals. In spite of your focus, you can still work at it and try to make progress. You may feel that you do, even if it's just a little bit, and you can feel that you're on the right path. Even if you don't, there's likely no need to be discouraged for now as we're all doing the best we can. Later in the week, you can think more about the future, the long-range prognosis, and what you may need to do to make things happen. Changes are likely going to be needed, as always, and you can be open to them if they make sense. You may focus on using your social circle to your advantage as well, and work on any issues that have come up with friends or groups. Over the weekend, you may feel that your energy is a little low, and the more time you spend with others, the lower it may feel that it goes, especially emotionally. You may want more time to yourself so you can rest and recharge, and give yourself some quiet time to think things over.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday

April 9th - 15th 2018

The week starts with the Moon in your sign, Aquarius, and you can have more energy and enthusiasm, and try to be more positive about life. You can focus on yourself, your own wants and needs, and look at new opportunities for your life. Later in the week, you can slow down and work to be more confident in yourself and your abilities. Energy may be strong over the weekend with a new moon in Aries and Mercury ending his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Aries on Sunday. Over the last few weeks, you may have struggled with mental focus and discipline, open communication, and feeling understood. With the retrograde ending and a new moon in Aries, you can come out of the retrograde feeling renewed enthusiasm for your ideas and plans, wanting to take action as quickly as you can, and having a more positive outlook on life. You can work to open up lines of communication and find ways to feel heard again.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday, Tuesday

April 16th - 22nd 2018

If you want to work on something from the ground up, that can be a focus to start the week, and you may work on trying to get it going now. You may see progress made with it in about two weeks, and work on creating a strong foundation for it now. Midweek, you can come up with a creative approach to any projects and plans you have, and this can help you enjoy what you're doing. Your ruler, Uranus, aligns with the Sun on Wednesday, increasing creative energy, and you can get attention or feel more at ease with yourself. Later in the week, you can tackle work projects, focus on the mundane, and feel more productive. On Thursday, the Sun enters Taurus and your home and family sector, and over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself when you're spending time at home or in the places you know best, with family or the people you think of as family, getting or giving emotional support and comfort, sticking to your comfort zone, strengthening the foundation of something, or working on something from the ground up. You may end the week wanting to put work aside and make time for people you care about.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday

April 23rd - 29th 2018

You can spend more time with the people you care about most to start the week, and give them more attention and make them a higher priority. You can focus on the ones that need the attention most and you've been too busy for lately. On Tuesday, Venus enters Gemini and your love sector, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy making more time for your hobbies and the people you love, connect more to your heart and the hearts of others, be more generous and fun-loving, enjoy getting attention and being theatrical, and can feel more creative. Midweek, you can work to understand something at its core, and try to get to the heart of it. Later in the week, you may want more space after the time spent wrapped up in it, and can take a rosier view of the world. The week comes to an end with a full moon on Sunday in Scorpio and your career and life path sector, and you may make progress with a goal you've done right by, or experience setbacks with a goal you haven't or you don't care for. Focus on what you're passionate about most, and make adjustments as needed.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Friday, Saturday

April 30th - May 6th 2018

The goals and ambitions you're most invested in right now can be your main priority to kick the week off, and you can focus on ways to get closer to success and make progress along your path in life. You can work to hit your stride, feel you hit a high point in some way, and get a little closer. If you feel further away or experience a setback or delay, you may need to adjust your approach, your plans, or ask yourself if you really want to be doing this. Midweek, you can be more true to yourself and your originality, what makes you special and you, and you can be more independent and free-thinking. You can focus on stepping outside of your comfort zone, and you may work on expanding your social circle. You can spend more time with friends or in groups, and may feel more comfortable with them. Later in the week, you can shy away from the spotlight and attention, feeling more comfortable in the background and behind closed doors. You can crave some quiet time for reflection, and this can go through the weekend, though you may end the week starting to open up.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Sunday

May 7th - 13th 2018

The week begins with the Moon in your sign, Aquarius, and you can focus on what you want to get started with that can be a focus for the next month. You can have more energy and drive to get started, and can be willing to take the first step and take charge. You can be excited by what you're working on, and move forward. Midweek, you can stick to what you start and feel more confident in your decisions and actions, but may take your time with new decisions and plans, wanting to be certain first. Later in the week, you can keep yourself busy with lots to do, wanting to use up your mental energy, and can be more engaging, especially on Sunday with your ruler, Uranus, aligned with Mercury. On Sunday, Mercury enters Taurus and your home and family sector, and over the coming weeks, you can have an easier time expressing your emotions, work on plans for starting something from the ground up, or work on plans for matters at home or with family.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday, Tuesday, Sunday

May 14th - 20th 2018

This week has a lot going on, and it starts with a new moon in Taurus and your home and family sector and Uranus entering Taurus on Tuesday. With the new moon, you can start home improvement projects, make plans for family gatherings, give yourself emotional support, or start something from the ground up. With Uranus, this is the start of this transit, and you can make changes at home or with family over the coming months. On Wednesday, Mars enters your sign, Aquarius, and you can have more energy, drive, enthusiasm, and excitement for new beginnings and new opportunities over the coming weeks. On Saturday, Venus enters Cancer and your work sector, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy getting work done, being productive, and paying attention to the little things. Your ruler, Uranus, positively hits Venus on Saturday as well, and you can get along better with others. On Sunday, the Sun enters Gemini and your love sector, and you can feel most like yourself when you're making time for hobbies, spending time with people you love, or being creative over the coming weeks. You may start the week in tune with your emotions, connect to your heart midweek, pay closer attention later in the week, and end the week spending time with people you care about.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday

May 21st - 27th 2018

Having a little balance as the week begins can help you to feel more decisive and emotionally at ease, so you may spend time focusing on the areas of life that feel most out of balance and restore a little peace of mind. You can also spend more time with others, and enjoy having a little company. Midweek, you can dive deeper into what you're passionate about, and you can work on the emotional bonds you have with others. You can work on serious matters, and take a serious approach to life. Later in the week, you can focus on your beliefs, and you can connect more deeply to the ones you feel are most compatible with who you are now, and let go of the ones you don't feel are relevant to you anymore. Over the weekend, your goals can be the priority for you, and you can work harder, be more responsible, hit your stride, make progress, or work on your long-term goals. If you feel you're not going in the right direction, you can work to correct that.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Thursday, Friday

May 28th - June 3rd 2018

Mercury enters Gemini and your love sector on Tuesday, and on the same day, a full moon occurs in Sagittarius. With Mercury entering Gemini, you can focus on creative projects, have better focus on the things you enjoy doing, have a more positive outlook, and can be more theatrical in your communications over the coming weeks. You can be more open with loved ones and share what's on your mind with the people you love. With the full moon in Sagittarius, you may work to eliminate issues in a friendship or with a group, grow closer with a friend or become more invested in a group or cause, walk away from a friendship, group, or cause, or make progress with a dream for your future or give up a dream. You may start the week focused on one of your goals and working hard to make progress or hit your stride. Midweek, you can take a different approach and be open to unconventional methods. Later in the week, your intuition can be strong and you can use this to guide you down the right path. The week comes to an end with the Moon in your sign, Aquarius, bringing more energy and drive, and increasing your enthusiasm and excitement.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Sunday

June 4th - 10th 2018

The week starts with the Moon in your sign, Aquarius, and you can feel more energized, enthusiastic, and ready to take charge. You can go down a new path, start something new that excites you, and you can feel enthusiastic and positive about life. You can make the most of the energy you have and channel it into something positive and productive. Midweek, you can stick to whatever you get started with or decide, and can take a slow, steady approach. You can get some of the grunt work out of the way, and keep on the path. Later in the week, you can gather information, work on short-term plans, and tweak your approach if necessary. You can talk things over with others and get advice, and think more about what you want to be doing or what you need to know more about. You may end the week working on things from the ground up, wanting to make certain that you have a solid foundation to grow from so you have a better chance of success long-term.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

June 11th - 17th 2018

There is a lot going on with the planets this week, starting with Mercury entering Cancer and your work sector on Tuesday. Over the coming weeks, you can have a better eye for the details and fine print, pay closer attention and have a practical outlook, get more done, and strive to be productive. On Wednesday, Venus enters Leo and your relationship sector, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy spending more time with loved ones one-on-one, making compromises, being charming, and keeping the peace. A new moon occurs in Gemini and your love sector on Wednesday as well, and you can pick up a new hobby, start a new creative project, spend time with loved plans, plan for something fun like a vacation, be more generous, or get some attention. Your ruler, Uranus, harshly hits Venus on Thursday, and you may struggle with someone in your life, or are more indulgent. You may start the week in tune with your emotions, and help yourself feel better by connecting to your heart midweek. Later in the week, you can get organized and bring in some structure and order, and over the weekend, you can work on being better balanced.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Tuesday, Wednesday

June 18th - 24th 2018

There may be something you need to know more about and dig deeper into as the week begins, and you can remain intensely focused until you get to the core. You can figure out a solution or gain better understanding of what the right approach should be. Later in the week, you can take a step back and see the bigger picture, and you can focus on being more optimistic. You can take life a little less seriously, and can be more gregarious. On Thursday, the Sun enters Cancer and your work sector, and over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself when you're getting work done, getting organized, bringing structure and order to your life, setting a routine and sticking to it, improving your regimen for daily life and your health, and being as productive as you can be. Over the weekend, you can work on your direction in life, wanting to make sure you're on the right path as you move forward, and making adjustments now if you need to.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday, Friday

June 25th - July 1st 2018

Mars turns retrograde (appears to move backward) on Tuesday in your sign, Aquarius. Mars is retrograde in your sign until August, and this may bring out lots of anger, frustrations, annoyances, and irritations you have. You can get into a lot of rights, and feel you're right in all of them, but you may be starting things that you shouldn't. Perhaps try some deep breaths before you start unloading on anyone. You can also feel way off, and may feel like you're the target of the Universe right now, but try not to take things so personally. A full moon occurs on Thursday in Capricorn, increasing emotional energy around this retrograde, but you may keep a lot of the emotions you're feeling down, or get in your own way and act as your own worst enemy, playing out subconscious issues, so try working on some baggage. Mercury enters Leo and your relationship sector on Friday, and you can be more expressive with others over the coming weeks. Your ruler, Uranus, harshly hits Mercury on Saturday, and you can have a misunderstanding and lack focus. As the week begins, you can make some changes, and get some extra rest later in the week. The Moon is in your sign over the weekend, and you can work to find an outlet to help you feel calmer and channel your energy positively.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Sunday

July 2nd - 8th 2018

You may be focused on the issues that you're struggling with to start the week, and that may feel consuming, but you can quickly slow things down and try to make time to enjoy the moment, be a little lazy and indulgent, and find some stability somewhere in your life. You can focus on trying to feel more confident, and you may benefit from getting grounded and centered. Later in the week, you can be more active and engaging, and use up some of your mental energy. You may find an outlet for your mind, or work out a new way to express yourself so you don't feel quite so frustrated anymore. You can work on trying to be a better communicator, and try to listen more. Over the weekend, you can spend time at home or in the places you know best, with family or the people you think of as family, or with your support system. You can stick to what you know best, stay within your comfort zone, strengthen yourself internally, and get in tune with your emotional self.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

July 9th - 15th 2018

Venus enters Virgo on Monday, and over the coming weeks, you may enjoy doing research and being investigative, getting to the heart of matters or people, growing closer emotionally to the people you care about, strengthening your will, transforming for the better, or pursuing mutually beneficial projects and ventures. On Friday, a solar eclipse occurs in Cancer and your work sector, and you can start new work projects, focus on work you want to be doing and are passionate about, feel more productive and efficient, improve daily life, streamline, get organized, improve your routine, and get healthier once you have the opportunity to do so after we're done with this wacky energy. Your ruler, Uranus, positively hits Venus on Wednesday, and you can get along better with others and be more charming. You may start the week being creative and connecting to your heart, and midweek, you can focus on work and try to do what you can with the time and energy you have. Later in the week, you can spend time with loved ones, and you may end the week strengthening emotional bonds.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Tuesday, Wednesday

July 16th - 22nd 2018

You may start the week doing research into something you need to know more about, and your focus can be intense and unrelenting, allowing you to get to the heart of the matter. You may uncover information that allows you to figure out the right way to proceed. Midweek, you can give yourself some space and focus on the positives. You can share your knowledge and wisdom with others, and try to gain new knowledge and wisdom through life experience. Later in the week, you may feel that you hit your stride or hit a high point with something that you've been focused on for a while. If you've done things the right way, you can make progress, but if you experience setbacks or delays, you may need to change your approach. You may spend time with friends or in groups as the week comes to an end. On Sunday, the Sun enters Leo and your relationship sector, and over the coming weeks, you may feel most like yourself when you are spending time with the people you care about, improving your relationships, making commitments, being compromising, and playing fair.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday

July 23rd - 29th 2018

It's a high-energy week for all of us but you in particular with Mercury turning retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Leo and your relationship sector on Thursday, and a lunar eclipse occurring on your sign, Aquarius, on Friday. You may struggle with dealing with the people in your life over the coming weeks, and may experience more opposition, more communication issues, and struggle to figure out how to manage the difficulties brought on by others. You can feel out of balance, out of sorts, and this can make it difficult for you to be decisive. You may feel surrounded by disharmony, and find compromise difficult to attain. All of this can make you a lot more emotional, and you can have a hard time hiding that or finding the detachment you prefer. You may feel like you're being attacked at times, and need to work on being more objective instead of subjective with your emotions. Some things can go well and you may feel you're making progress, while other things may feel like a mess. Work on balancing your focus on your own wants and needs with focusing on the wants and needs of the people you care about. When you can find that, you can manage the energy better that you have right now. Your ruler, Uranus, harshly hits the Sun on Wednesday, and you may feel uncomfortable with something, lack attention you want, or get attention you don't want. You may start the week thinking more about the future, and take time to get some rest later in the week. The Moon is in your sign over the weekend, and you can feel the eclipse energy strong, so tend to emotional needs and find an outlet, if needed.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

July 30th - August 5th 2018

The start of the week can be a good time for you to work on getting better grounded in your life. The more grounded you feel, the easier it can be to manage difficult energy. Life has no doubt been a little bit difficult lately, and grounding yourself can help prevent you from feeling overwhelmed. Focus on areas in your life that have seemed a bit chaotic and work to bring more stability and security to them. On Wednesday, your ruler, Uranus, harshly hits Mars, and you may be more argumentative, frustrated, irritated, and easy stirred. Make sure you have an outlet for the energy so you're not getting sucked into needless drama. Later in the week, you can have more mental energy, and it can be good for you to keep yourself busy to use that energy up. You can be more engaging, and share what's on your mind. If you need to get something off of your chest, choose your words wisely. Over the weekend, give yourself some comfort and familiarity. Be with supportive people, spend time in the places you know best, and try not to make too many demands of yourself.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

August 6th - 12th 2018

To kick off this week, Venus moves into Libra on Monday, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy spending time expanding your life in new ways, having new experiences, exploring, and getting more space. On Tuesday, your ruler, Uranus, turns retrograde (appears to move backwards), and over the coming months, you may feel more off in a subtle way. On Saturday, a solar eclipse occurs in Leo and your relationship sector, and this can help you focus on your relationships and the people in your life. You may not be able to make time for them very much right now, but you can be ready when the time comes. On Sunday, Mars retrogrades into Capricorn, and you may experience struggles with issues from the past, subconscious issues, emotional baggage, and things you need to let go of. You may need more time to yourself, and can find other people to be physically draining, so give yourself plenty of time for rest. You may start off the week wanting to have fun, and can focus on work midweek. You can work on being better balanced later in the week, and may end the week doing research.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

August 13th - 19th 2018

You can do research into something that you need to know more about as the week begins, and your focus can be intense, allowing you to get to the heart of the matter. Midweek, you can take a step back and view the big picture. This can give you a more optimistic outlook on life, and help you come up with big ideas. Later in the week, you can focus on the direction that your life is taking. You want to be certain that you're on the right path, and can think about adjustments you may need to make. You may end the week open to change, and can get advice from friends. The big event for the week occurs on Sunday with Mercury ending his retrograde (appearing to move backwards) in Leo and your relationship sector. If retrograde has been ongoing for the last few weeks, and you've likely had to struggle in your relationships, dealings with other people, have felt out of balance, or lacked the peace that you've wanted. Now that the retrograde is coming to an end, you can improve your relationships, connect with others, be more understanding, work to see both sides of situations, regain your balance, and keep the peace.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Tuesday, Wednesday

August 20th - 26th 2018

On Thursday, the Sun enters Virgo, and over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself when you're working to transform your life for the better, and doing research into serious matters. You can seem more intense, have an unrelenting focus, and be more passionate. On Sunday, a full moon occurs in Pisces and your money sector, and you can settle financial issues, work on being more stable and secure, and try to remove blocks that prevent you from being more confident. Your ruler, Uranus, positively hits the Sun on Saturday, and you can get attention, focus on opportunities, and feel more creative. You may start the week feeling independent and open to change, and use your intuition and imagination midweek. Later in the week, the Moon is in your sign, and you can work on your own wants and needs, be more comfortable in the spotlight, and be more open emotionally. You may end the week wanting to detach emotionally from all of the intensity, and focus on getting grounded, finding your center, and enjoying the moment while you can.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Friday, Saturday

August 27th - September 2nd 2018

On Monday, Mars ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward), which began in your sign, Aquarius, back in late June, and ends now in Capricorn, where he's been retrograde for the last few weeks. The start of the retrograde was likely pretty rough for you in your sign, and you've had to deal with lots of arguments and wild energy and difficult people, and even out of your sign, some issues have likely been dredged up you thought you were done with. Now that the retrograde is finally ending, you can start to get back to your usual self again, but it may be a few more weeks before you really feel that. You may start the week wanting to take your time and not be in too much of a rush with anything, and have more activity and keep yourself busy midweek to give your mind something to focus on. Later in the week, you can focus on your emotions, and work on meeting your emotional needs and giving yourself some comfort and support. You may end the week making time to be joyful, to remind yourself to have fun and focus on the good, and to get in tune with your heart again.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Sunday

September 3rd - 9th 2018

On Wednesday, Mercury enters Virgo, and over the coming weeks, you can do more research, get to the heart of matters, and have unrelenting focus for whatever interests you and you're passionate about. You can take a serious approach, and people can take what you say seriously. A new moon occurs in Virgo on Sunday, and you can pursue opportunities to transform your life in new ways for the better, and work on research and investigation, do something mutually beneficial, or address financial matters that impact others. Venus moves into Scorpio and your goals and life path sector on Sunday as well, and you can enjoy pursuing opportunities to achieve your goals, making connections with the right people, hitting your stride, and being ambitious over the coming weeks. You may start the week feeling creative and trying to infuse that into everything you do, and working to be as productive as you can be midweek. You can focus more on the people in your life and help others out with their issues later in the week, and spend the weekend getting to the heart of matters and finding inner power.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

September 10th - 16th 2018

On Monday, Mars enters your sign, Aquarius, and you can experience a surge in energy and drive over the coming weeks. You can focus on new beginnings, new opportunities, and feel excited by what you have in front of you. If you don't see anything you want to pursue, you can work to create the opportunities on your own. You can be enthusiastic about life, and can't wait to get started with something, and whatever you start now can be a focus for the next two years of your life. You may have been stalled and felt held back in some way over the last few months, but you can get moving now. Your ruler, Uranus, opposes Venus on Wednesday, and you may have a hard time with someone in your life, or feel a little indulgent. You may come up with big ideas and focus on plans for expansion earlier in the week, and work on realistic plans for your goals later in the week, wanting to make progress or experience some success. Over the weekend, you can venture outside of your comfort zone, be independent, and be open to changes that get you closer to your dreams.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday, Tuesday, Saturday, Sunday

September 17th - 23rd 2018

Imagination can take over as the week begins, and you may have a hard time focusing your mind on anything for too long. Your imagination can keep taking control, and you can slip into a fantasy world you create in your head. Try to make the time and space to let your mind wander when you can, and this can help you to focus when you need to. On Tuesday, your ruler, Uranus, harshly hits Mars, and you may have erratic energy, feel frustrated, or are argumentative, and may need an outlet for the energy. Later in the week, the Moon is in your sign, and you can give more time and attention to what you want to get started and are more enthusiastic about right now. You can pursue a new beginning, and envision the way things can go, and feel excited about it. On Friday, Mercury enters Libra, and the Sun joins Mercury on Saturday, so over the coming weeks, you can focus more on plans for expansion, exploration, and new experiences. You may feel most like yourself when you're expanding your life in new ways, exploring the world, or opening up to new experiences and adventures. You can come up with big ideas and focus on the bright side of life. Your optimism can become infectious, and you can share your wisdom with others. Over the weekend, you can spend time being lazy and indulgent, getting in touch with your senses, and pressing pause so you can be present and mindful.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Thursday, Friday

September 24th - 30th 2018

If there's an area of your life that feels a bit chaotic, you can focus on bringing some stability and security to it as the week begins. You can work well at stabilizing and securing your life, and this can help you feel more confident moving forward, and like you're on solid ground.

Midweek, you can work on your ideas, sorting through them and working on your short-term plans for them. Pick the ideas you feel most passionately about, and hold on to the rest for later. You may not be able to take action right away, but you can work on your plans some more and gather new information or get new advice. Later in the week, you can strengthen your support system and work to feel more supported by your loved ones. You may also work to give yourself more support so you're not as reliant on other people to make you feel supported. You should be your biggest cheerleader! Over the weekend, you can use the time you have to enjoy yourself and not take life too seriously, and remind yourself to let loose when you have the opportunities to do so and not get so caught up in serious stuff.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

October 1st - 7th 2018

On Friday, Venus turns retrograde (appears to move backward) in Scorpio and your career and life path sector, where she will retrograde for the rest of October. This retrograde can impact your ability to pursue your goals, and you may lack motivation or drive to do so right now, or feel blocks in your path to progress. You may make bad impressions, lack connections you need, or experience a setback or delay. You may feel you need to adjust your strategy, or go down a new path. It can be a good time to focus on old goals again, and take a second chance on an old goal or reconnect with an old boss or mentor. You may start the week feeling creative and wanting a little fun, and quickly get down to work midweek, trying to get organized and stay on track. Later in the week, you can spend time with loved ones and give your relationships more attention. Over the weekend, you can work on a transformation for the better, and you can focus on it intensely and passionately, wanting to make sure it can withstand the challenges and help you to better yourself or life.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

October 8th - 14th 2018

You can work to be more positive to start the week, and come up with big ideas and see the good in life. A new moon occurs on Monday in Libra, and this can bring helpful energy for being optimistic, and open you up to expanding, exploring, and new experiences. You can work on plans for big ideas, and feel more excited by the possibilities. On Tuesday, Mercury enters Scorpio and your goals and life path sector, and you can focus on your long-term plans and see the big picture, as well as focus more on the issues brought up by Venus retrograde in this sign over the coming weeks. You may not feel like you're getting anywhere right now, or aren't even entirely sure where you're going, but you can work on being clearer about your long-term plans and what you need to be doing, especially later in the week. Your ruler, Uranus, opposes Mercury on Wednesday, and communication may be difficult, and you may lack focus, so give your mind a break. Over the weekend, you can spend time with friends or in groups, wanting the interaction and to connect with peers, or push yourself to try something different.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday, Tuesday

October 15th - 21st 2018

If you feel you need time alone to start the week, and you're feeling rundown and in need of a break, try to give that to yourself. Continuing to push yourself and giving in to the demands of others may only serve to break you down and make you more stressed out, so try to avoid that, if you can. The Moon is in your sign later in the week, and you can have better energy and drive then. You can focus on what you want to get started with, anything you want to pursue, and whatever you do, you can do with enthusiasm and zeal. You can be more excited, and you can be willing to take the first step, go down a road you haven't before, or blaze a new trail. Your pioneering spirit can come out, and you can lead the way. Over the weekend, you can slow things down and take a break from the excited energy, wanting to make sure you're on the right path and willing to do what you have to before you fully dedicate yourself. Once you do, you can stick with it no matter what, so be certain of your choices before you throw yourself into them head-first.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday, Friday

October 22nd - 28th 2018

Ideas can be plentiful as the week begins for you, and you may need to take time to sort through them all. You can work on short-term plans for the ones you want to work on immediately, keep track of the ones you want to pursue later, and forget about the ones you don't see as feasible. The Sun enters Scorpio and your goals and life path sector, and you may feel most like yourself when you're pursuing your goals, hitting your stride, making progress, achieving success, and hitting high points over the coming weeks. You can take on additional responsibilities, and be more mature. Your ruler, Uranus, opposes the Sun on Tuesday as well, and you may want to avoid attention and the spotlight. On Wednesday, a full moon occurs in Taurus and your home and family sector, and you can settle issues at home or with family, finish home projects, or finalize plans for spending time with family. Your emotions can also be stronger, and you can tend to emotional needs. You can strengthen the foundation of something, or see something in your life hit bottom. Over the weekend, you can spend time tending to your heart, and get in touch with your playful and joyful side.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

October 29th - November 4th 2018

There is always plenty of work to get done and you can focus on tackling some of the smaller projects and chores as the week starts, feeling more productive. You can be efficient with your time and energy, and get more done. Midweek, you can shift your focus to the people in your life, and work to be a better partner and have some balance between your own wants and needs and theirs. On Wednesday, Venus retrogrades (appears to move backward) into Libra, and you may struggle with your big ideas, with expanding and exploring and new experiences, and may have too much space from others or not enough. Give yourself the freedom you need without pushing everyone away, and try to focus on the bright side. Mercury also enters Sagittarius on Wednesday, and you can think outside of the box, focus on plans for changes, and expand your social circle over the coming weeks. You can work on a transformation for the better later in the week, and work on the details for it. You may end the week wanting to work on some of the Venus retrograde issues, and focused on the big picture.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

November 5th - 11th 2018

It's a wild week astrologically, and it starts with Uranus retrograde (appearing to move backward), going from Taurus back into Aries for the next few months. Uranus started a new tour in new sign Taurus this year, and his time in Aries will be his last, so we can tie up loose ends, finish what we started, and make the most of the time we have left, and this may impact your ideas and plans. On Wednesday, a new moon occurs in Scorpio and your goals and life path sector, and you can set new goals, pursue opportunities to achieve your goals, feel more ambitious, focus on your direction, make good impressions, or hit a high point. On Thursday, Jupiter enters Sagittarius for the next year after spending the last year in Scorpio, and you can expand your focus to not only being long-term, but further into the future. You can focus on your dreams for your future, and pursue opportunities to make them reality. You can venture further outside of your comfort zone, become more independent, expand your social circle, and take a wider view of life. Mercury retrogrades in sagittarius starting next week though, so this may not kick in until after that ends. You may start the week with big ideas, and work on realistic plans midweek. You can spend time with friends later in the week, and end the week wanting some time alone to rest.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

November 12th - 18th 2018

It's a busy week astrologically, and it starts with Mars entering Pisces and your money sector on Thursday. Mars leaves your sign so your energy slows down, and you can be more focused on what you do start over the coming weeks. You can pursue financial opportunities, improve your confidence, and increase stability or security in your life. On Friday, Venus ends her retrograde (appearing to move backward), moving forward again in Libra, and you can start to look at the bright side and pursue plans for expansion again. But maybe not right away with Mercury starting his own retrograde on Friday as well in Sagittarius, and you may question your dreams, your future, or have difficulty with the people in your life over the coming weeks. Try not to rebel and give yourself space to do things your own way. Your ruler, Uranus, positively hits Mars on Thursday, and you can get a surge of energy and drive for what you want midweek. You may start the week spending time on your own, working on your plans quietly, and the Moon enters your sign later in the week, so you can be more open. Over the weekend, you can press pause and try to relax.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

November 19th - 25th 2018

There may be an abundance of ideas as the week starts, and you can feel positive about each of them, but you may come up with so many that you forget them quickly, so keep track of the really good ones you can use later. Midweek, you can get in touch with your emotions, getting to your own inner core, and you may be more open with what you're feeling. You may be more emotional, and can crave more support. On Thursday, the Sun enters Sagittarius, and over the coming weeks, you can spend more time with friends, meet new people, take up a cause, work on your future dreams, or step outside of your comfort zone. On Friday, a full moon occurs in opposing sign, Gemini, and your love sector, and you can finish up creative projects or ventures, settle issues with loved ones or walk away from someone, and may require more attention from others. You may focus more on being engaging and connecting with others emotionally. You may end the week tending to the details, the little things, and the chores that need to be out of the way quickly.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Friday, Saturday

November 26th - December 2nd 2018

There is always plenty of tasks and chores to get done, and you can start the week focused on getting as many of them done as you can. The more you do, the more energy you may feel you have to do more. Midweek, your attention can turn toward the people in your life, and you can feel better emotionally around others, and spend more time with people rather than focusing on tasks and chores and stuff. Later in the week, you can be researching, and you can keep digging until you get to the core of whatever you need to know more about. This can help you figure out how to deal with a problem. On Friday, your ruler, Uranus, opposes Venus, and you may be indulgent, lazier, or stubborn. On Saturday, Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) into Scorpio and your career and life path sector, and over the next week, you may struggle with your goals, experience setbacks and delays, make a bad impression, lack discipline, or get kicked down (hopefully not literally!). Focus on old goals and old plans, and stay focused. Over the weekend, you can be more optimistic and focus on big ideas.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Sunday

December 3rd - 9th 2018

On Thursday, Mercury ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Scorpio and your goals sector, where he's been retrograde since December 1st. You may have struggled with focusing on your goals, having discipline, being responsible, feeling overwhelmed, experiencing setbacks or delays, or making bad impressions during this time. With the retrograde coming to a close, after another week or two, you can start to get back on the right track and see where you're going again. On Friday, a new moon occurs in Sagittarius, and you can pursue opportunities to achieve your dreams, step outside of your comfort zone and find new opportunities, meet new people and expand your social circle, or work on a new change in your life for the better. You may start the week coming up with big ideas and trying to be positive, and midweek, you can work on your long-term plans. Later in the week, you can spend time with friends or think outside of the box, and over the weekend, you can take time for yourself, needing some time to rest or to get away from the noise and demands of life.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Monday

December 10th - 16th 2018

You may feel quiet as the week begins, wanting to have time to ponder your thoughts and ideas without anyone getting in the way, but with the Moon entering your sign on Monday, you can quickly jump to action. You can focus on something new that you want to get started with, and your energy and drive can propel you to take the first step. You can be enthusiastic about what you're doing, and want to get going quickly. On Wednesday, Mercury enters Sagittarius, and this can help you think outside of the box and become open to different views over the coming weeks. You can look at your plans and ideas in new ways, with fresh eyes, and consider approaches that you wouldn't have before. You can also be more open with your friends, peers, or in groups, and can take the lead within a group. Later in the week, you can feel more confident and secure, or work to be more confident and secure. You can ground yourself and improve your stability in life. You may end the week with an active mind, feeling more engaging and open, and focused on new ideas, new plans, and a packed schedule.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Tuesday, Wednesday

December 17th - 23rd 2018

You may want to keep a pen and paper handy (or use your cell) to keep track of all of the ideas that swirl around in your mind to start the week. If something strikes you that you think is really good, keep track of it somewhere, otherwise it may be gone from your memory as soon as it comes in. Midweek, you can focus more on your emotions, and can work to make yourself feel more secure and stable emotionally. You can connect with others emotionally as well, and want to feel supported. Later in the week, you can make time for the things you love to do most in healthy ways, or for the people who make you feel best about yourself and life. On Thursday, your ruler, Uranus, positively hits the Sun, and you can get attention, feel comfortable with yourself, or focus on an opportunity. The Sun enters Capricorn on Friday, and you can spend more time alone working on your plans, wanting to be uninterrupted over the coming weeks. You can tend to your soul needs, spend more time on your spiritual self, work on something from the past, or let go of something that's holding you back. On Saturday, a full moon occurs in Cancer and your work sector, and you can finish up work projects, settle issues at work, walk away from work you're not passionate about, or become more invested in work you do care about. You can give up a bad habit to get healthier, and can work to manage your stress better. You may end the week making lists and working on your schedule for next week.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Thursday, Friday

December 24th - 30th 2018

As the last week of 2018 starts, you can focus on the little things, the tasks and chores that have piled up, and work on getting as much of the little things done as you can. You can get them out of the way, and this frees you up to focus on the people in your life midweek. You can give them more attention, work to improve your relationships, and forge a stronger connection. Emotional bonds can be important later in the week, and you may need to feel they are as strong as possible to keep you feeling emotionally stable. You can share more with the people you care about, and want to understand them better. Over the weekend, you can come up with plenty of big ideas, and focus on the good in your life. You can open up your mind to learning or teaching, exploring or expanding, and you can dream of new experiences and adventures. Your optimistic outlook can help bring new opportunities and possibilities to pursue and explore.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Saturday, Sunday

December 31st 2018 - January 6th 2019

On Monday, Mars enters Aries to end 2018, and you can move into 2019 with lots of mental energy over the coming weeks. You can come up with new ideas, work on new plans, and feel excited by what you can come up with. You can identify with them strongly, and can be more open with others about what's on your mind. You can stand up for your ideas, and you can take action with them. On Friday, Mercury enters Capricorn, and over the coming weeks, your imagination can soar, and you can let your mind wander and roam. Your intuition can grow stronger, and you may find it easier to listen to what your gut has to say. You can work on your plans on your own, and may feel you do your best thinking on your own, without interference, so you can work on your plans for your ideas and gather information quietly. With a solar eclipse in Capricorn on Saturday, you can pursue opportunities to do work in the background, behind the scenes, and out of the spotlight, feeling more comfortable with less attention on you. You can be more imaginative, and work to connect to your intuition and spiritual self. Your ruler, Uranus, ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward) on Sunday, and you can also feel more like yourself again and feel you're moving forward again. You may start the week focused on a goal, make some changes later in the week, and take time to rest over the weekend.

Best days of the week for Aquarius: Wednesday, Thursday, Friday

Aquarius 2018 Yearly Horoscopes

Love & Relationships:

The January 31st lunar eclipse occurs in your relationship sector, and you can work on eliminating relationship or commitment issues, become more committed to the people you care about, or see someone leave your life. If single, you can be very serious about commitment quickly, and if attached, you can analyze your relationship. Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) in your relationship sector late July through mid-August, and you can see people come back into your life or old relationship issues resurface. A solar eclipse occurs August 11th, in the middle, and you can reconnect with people and be more committed.

Career & Money:

Neptune remains in your money sector all year, and you can be more giving and generous, and may have a harder time keeping track of money at times. Mars is in your money sector mid-November through December, and you can work on pursuing financial opportunities, create new ones for yourself, take on a second job or side gig for extra money, or make a hobby profitable.

The July 12th solar eclipse occurs in your work sector, and you can focus on new work opportunities, new work projects and ventures, and want to do work you're excited about, so if you don't care for what you're doing, you can work on changing that somehow so you do something you love.

Jupiter is in your career sector to start the year until early November, and Mars is also in this sector the month of January. You can kick the year off on the right foot, hitting a high point, hitting your stride, and experiencing success and making progress. You can be optimistic about what you can do, and you can get recognition for what you've done or make a good impression on the right person. Venus retrogrades in this sector the first half of November, and you may struggle with focus and discipline, wanting to just relax. Mercury retrogrades in this sector the first week of December, and you can focus on old goals again.

Home & Family:

Uranus begins to enter your home and family sector this year, staying here from mid-May to early November, and this begins a time of change for your home or family life. You may change your relationships with your family or bring new people into your family; you may make changes to your living space, renovate or remodel, or move to somewhere new; or you may change your definition of what home and family means to you. This change lasts for many years once it's fully in effect.

Mental State:

Uranus is ending his time in one of the sectors ruling your mind, staying here to mid-May, and coming back early November. You've likely been more open-minded with Uranus here, and had lots of flashes of insight and brilliance. Mercury retrogrades in this sector mid-March to mid-April, and you may struggle with focus and mental discipline at the time, though can do well with old ideas.

Venus retrogrades in the other sector ruling your mind in October, and you may struggle to see the bright side of situations, or see it a little too well. Don't make promises you won't or can't keep.

Pluto and Saturn remains in the sector ruling your subconscious mind all year, and you can take old issues seriously, working to address subconscious issues, motivations, and desires. You can work to eliminate baggage and come to terms with what has come to pass, and move on. Mars is in this sector mid-March to mid-May, and you can have more energy and drive to do this, but is retrograde in this sector the second half of August, and you may struggle with old issues, baggage, or karma. Mars stays in this sector to mid-September, and you can move on quickly.

General:

Mars is in your sign starting in mid-May, increasing your energy, drive, and enthusiasm, but turns retrograde in your sign in late June to mid-August. You can feel completely off by this, and you can be more impulsive, easily frustrated, and ready to snap at times. You may need an outlet for the extra energy so you're not unloading on everyone and creating more problems for yourself. Mars is back in your sign mid-September to mid-November, and you can finally get some of your plans going and work on taking action with the ideas you've been holding off on.

Jupiter enters your dreams sector in early November, and you can spend the next year focused on pursuing opportunities to making your dreams come true, stepping outside of your comfort zone, and being more independent. Mercury retrogrades in this sector the second half of November though, so you may need to focus on old dreams first before the new ones.
