January 1st - 7th 2018

On Monday, a full moon occurs in Cancer and your relationship sector, so you kick off the new year and new week focused on the people in your life and your relationships. You can work on issues that need to be settled and grow closer with some, while with others, you may decide it's time to call it quits, not wanting to go further into a new year in a relationship or partnership that isn't working for you. This full moon may also make balance and peace more important for you, so focus on what you've been neglecting, and try to surround yourself with some peace and harmony. On Tuesday, Uranus ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Aries and your home and family sector, so you may have struggled with changes at home or with family over the last few months, but now you can work to make the changes you want going forward. You may start the week feeling compromising and fair-minded, and can work on strengthening the emotional bonds you have with loved ones midweek. You can focus on the positives and think big later in the week, and may end the week focused on a goal, disciplined and hard-working, and hitting your stride.

Best days of the week for Capricorn: Friday, Saturday

January 8th - 14th 2018

Your goals and ambitions can be your biggest focus to kick this week off, Capricorn, and you can work hard for what you want. You can be better disciplined and focused, and you can create realistic long-term plans for your goals. You may hit your stride with something or hit a high point to start the week, or you can experience a setback or delay if you need to make adjustments with whatever you're working on. Later in the week, you can make changes or step outside of your comfort zone to enact the changes you want. You can reach out to the people in your social circle as well, and you can meet new people who can help you later. On Thursday, Mercury enters your sign, and your mental energy can increase over the coming weeks. You can be more open with what's on your mind, more expressive with your thoughts and opinions, and free with your advice. You can work on new ideas and new plans, and keep yourself busy to use up your mental energy. You can become interested in lots of new things, but may have a hard time staying interested, so try to bring some variety into your life to keep your interest. Over the weekend, you can spend some time alone, wanting to get some peace and quiet, or needing some time to rest. If you're feeling rundown, give your body the rest it needs. If you feel your soul calling, tend to your soul needs and do a little internal reflecting.

Capricorn 2018 Yearly Horoscopes

Love & Relationships:

Uranus begins to start a tour in your love sector this year, entering mid-May through early November, and over the coming years, what you want in love can change, the kind of people you love may change, the way you show love may change, and how you are in love may change.

The July 12th solar eclipse occurs in your relationship sector, and you can eliminate relationship issues, grow closer with a loved one, walk away from a relationship or partnership, or express more emotion with your loved ones.

The January 31st lunar eclipse occurs in your intimacy sector, and you can work on eliminating intimacy issues and strengthen the emotional bonds you have with loved ones. Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) in this sector late July through mid-August, and intimacy issues can be stronger and need to be addressed, and you can struggle to feel closer with loved ones. A solar eclipse occurs in this sector August 11th in the middle of the retrograde, and you can work on restrengthening emotional bonds.

Career & Money:

The February 15th solar eclipse occurs in your money sector, and you can work on pursuing financial opportunities, feel more secure financially, and can explore new ways to make more money. Mars is in your money sector starting mid-May, and you can be more energized and focused on your finances, but is retrograde in this sector late June through mid-August, and financial difficulties can arise, and you need to deal with bad financial decisions. Mars is back in this sector mid-September to mid-November, and you can work on getting on the right path.

Venus retrogrades in your career sector the first half of November, and you can make bad impressions, lack drive to pursue your goals, or experience a setback or delay. Try working on an old goal and giving that another chance.

Home & Family:

Uranus is starting to wrap up his time in your home and family sector, here until mid-May and back again in early November, and you've likely been experiencing a lot of changes at home and with family over the years. This can start to wrap up now, though Mercury does retrograde in this sector mid-March through mid-April, and this can be a period of more change or addressing issues that have come up at home or with family.

Uranus starts moving into the sector ruling your children mid-May through early November, and if you have any children, you may experience changes with them, and they can become more independent, and your relationship with them may shift over the coming years. You can give them more space to be themselves and let them explore more on their own.

Mental State:

Neptune remains in one of the sectors that rules your mind as year, and you can continue to develop intuitive intelligence, and be charismatic in your communications. Mars is in this sector mid-November through December, and you can end the year with an active mind and imagination, lots of new ideas and plans, and you can be excited by what you come up with and pursue.

Mars is in the sector ruling your subconscious mind late January through mid-March, and you can work on subconscious issues, motivations, and desires, and work to eliminate issues, move on from the past, and let go of baggage that's holding you back. Jupiter enters this sector starting early November, and you start a one year period where you can benefit from understanding your subconscious mind, and can find it easier to do so. It may not happen right away though with Mercury retrograde in this sector the second half of November, and you may need to address some issues that you'd rather avoid but need to come out into the light now.

General:

Pluto and Saturn remain in your sign all year, and you can continue to work on transforming and evolving with Pluto, especially those of you born January 8th - 12th. With Saturn, this is your ruler, so you can feel more at home with his energy, and you can work to be more responsible, take more control over your life, and do things the right way. Those of you born before January 2nd can feel Saturn most this year.

Mars is in your sign mid-March through mid-May, increasing your energy and drive, but is retrograde in your sign the second half of August, and you may be more defensive, argumentative, impatient, or impulsive. Try to have more patience with yourself and others, and have an outlet for frustrations. Those of you born after January 17th can feel this most. Mars stays in your sign until mid-September, and you can work to get back on track and get new projects and plans started.

Mini Month-by-Month Horoscopes:

January: You can venture outside of your comfort zone this month, and be open to trying something different, especially if it means you can uncover something you want to know more about, or dig deeper into something you want to get to the core of. You can be more serious and intense.

February: You can have more energy on your own rather than with others this month, and you can focus on issues from the past, things you need to let go of, or baggage you need to address. You can listen to your instincts, and work to strengthen your ties to your intuitive self and subconscious mind.

March: Your energy can start to increase as the month goes on, and you can find the energy you need to do what you want, but you may need to use that energy to focus on issues at home, with family, that make you feel shaky internally, or that impact you emotionally. Work on being supportive of yourself.

April: You can keep yourself quite active this month, and as you give yourself more comfort and stick to what you know best, you can work to strengthen the foundation for yourself or your life. With a stronger foundation, you can feel ready to do anything you want, and create more opportunities.

May: You can focus on opportunities and new beginnings as the month begins, and stick to what you start and get grunt work out of the way as the month goes on. You can be open to being more creative in whatever you pursue, and you can come up with flashes of creative insight that helps you along.

June: Work on creating as much stability and security in your life as you can earlier in the month so you can withstand the wonky energy later in the month. You may feel insecure about something, and listening to everyone else may only make it worse, and make you even more stuck in your position.

July: You can benefit from seeing both sides of a situation now, and this can help you to get unstuck, if you feel that way. You may have a hard time dealing with a serious issue you'd rather avoid, and this can make your mood darker, so work on being more open with your perspective.

August: Serious matters can take over and leave you feeling completely off as the month goes on. You may feel like the Universe has been out to get you, and could use some time away from the stresses of life. In the moments you have to yourself, find some room to breathe and calm down.

September: You can focus on the bright side with the new moon this month, and this can help you get out of the funk you've felt you've been stuck in for the last few months. You can work on starting something from the ground up with the full moon, taking a big idea and pursuing the first step.

October: You may struggle with a friend or group this month, and may feel better off on yourself own or in one-on-one settings instead. Perhaps consider reconnecting with an old friend or joining an old group again, and deal with the difficulties with new friends and groups when energy has settled.

November: You may not make the best impressions during the first half of the month, but you can work on your plans and ideas on your own, without anyone getting in the way. You may find other people are completely exhausting, and can use your ideas to work on plans for action moving forward.

December: You may start the month questioning your dreams, but you can start to feel more confident again later in the month, and your mind can be incredibly active as you come up with lots of new ideas, plans, and gather information or get advice. You can focus on the positives as you end one year and start another.
