January 1st - 7th 2018

With a new week and new year comes a full moon in Cancer and your money sector on Monday, and you can use the energy to work out financial issues, get serious about a budget, finalize plans for a financial transaction, or end a financial arrangement. If you've been making good decisions, been smart and responsible with your finances, you can experience some rewards for that now. You can also work on being more confident, having more security, or feeling more stable. On Tuesday, Uranus ends his retrograde (appears to move backward) in Aries, and you may have had a hard time with change in general over the last few months, but can focus again on making the changes you want to make in your life moving forward. On Saturday, your ruler, Mercury, positively hits Uranus, and this can open you up to changes, make you more independent and innovative, and you can push outside of your comfort zone a little bit. As the week starts, you may take your time with decisions and actions so you can be certain of what you're doing, and you can pick up speed midweek and keep yourself busy. Later in the week, you can work on strengthening yourself internally and give yourself some comfort and support, and you can take time to enjoy yourself and goof off to end the week.

Mars is in this sector mid-March through mid-May, bringing more focus and energy to this, and is retrograde (appears to move backward) in this sector the second half of August, which can bring out problems or issues with intimacy or your intimate relationships that you need to address. Mars remains in this sector to mid-September, and you can work on getting back on track quickly.

Venus is retrograde in your love sector the first half of November, and this can bring about difficulties getting along with others, with commitment, or within your relationships and the people in your life. You may need to be more patient and generous, focused on them and giving them and your relationships the attention they need.

Mars is in your relationship sector late January through mid-March, and this can bring energy and drive to focus on the people in your life and your relationships at the time. Jupiter enters your relationship sector in early November, and you get a one year period where you can have beneficial energy for your relationships, and you can enjoy time spent with others, meet new people, enter into new commitments and partnerships, and improve your relationships. This may not be evident right off of the bat though with Mercury retrograde in this sector the second half of November, and you may see extra communication problems and misunderstandings, so try to listen more.

Career & Money:

Jupiter remains in your work sector to start the year, and stays here until early November, so this can be an excellent year for you when it comes to work opportunities. You can pursue ones that are presented to you, or create opportunities for yourself to do work that you love. This can especially be the case in January with Mars also in your work sector. Venus retrogrades in your work sector in October, and this may be a time when you need to reassess your work and make sure you're really doing what you love. Mercury retrogrades in this sector the first week of December, and you may need to take a break so you're not overwhelmed by work.

Neptune remains in your career and goals sector all year, which can make it more difficult for you to figure out the path you're on and what you ultimately want to achieve. If that's the case, try listening to your gut for guidance. This can be good for focusing on Neptune work (with the metaphysical, spiritual, medical, or artistic). Mars is in this sector mid-November through December, so you may focus more on your direction and goals to end the year, and work hard to make progress, achieve success, and hit your stride.

The July 12th solar eclipse occurs in your money sector, and this can bring positive energy for you financially, and you can be presented with new financial opportunities, start making extra cash through a side gig or making a hobby profitable, or work to feel more financially stable and secure.

Home & Family:

Venus is retrograde the first week of November in the sector ruling your children, so if you have any, you may have some struggles with them during this time. They can be extra rebellious and unruly, and they may demand more attention but through bad behavior, and you may need to exercise more patience with them. Try to give them a creative outlet for what they're feeling, and a way to vent so they don't have to lash out too much.

Mental State:

The January 31st lunar eclipse occurs in one of the sectors ruling the mind, and you can work on eliminating ideas that you don't care for and focusing on what you do care about. You can work on making the most of your ideas, and choosing which ones you're going to make something out of. The August 11th solar eclipse occurs in this sector, and you may focus on new ideas and plans then, though Mercur will be retrograde in this sector late July through mid-August, so you may need to work on ideas from the past, refreshing them and making them new again, or rework your plans.

The February 15th solar eclipse occurs in the other sector ruling your mind, and you can come up with big ideas and feel more optimistic about what you're doing. The July 27th lunar eclipse occurs in this sector as well, and you may see hard and smart work pay off with your ideas and plans, and you can focus more on the ideas and plans you can see are going somewhere. Mars is in this sector mid-May, bringing more energy and focus to your mind, and is retrograde in this sector late June through mid-August, so you may need to work on ideas from the past, or can be overly defensive of your ideas and need to be more open. Mars is back in this sector mid-September to mid-November, and you can open your mind to the possibilities.

Uranus enters the sector ruling your subconscious mind mid-May to early November, and you can focus on subconscious issues but in unusual ways, taking an unconventional approach to issues from the past and to letting go of baggage and karma.

General:

Your ruler is Mercury, so whenever he is retrograde, you can feel off in a subtle way. For 2018, this is late March to mid-April (bringing more changes into your life, making you question your dreams, or experiencing difficulty with friends or groups), late July to mid-August (bringing miscommunications, fights, a lack of focus, or difficulty with plans), and mid-November to early December (bringing issues with work and relationships). It's important you give yourself time and are more patient with others and with yourself while Mercury is retrograde, and keep yourself flexible.

Uranus is also ending his time in your friendship sector, here until mid-May and re-entering early November for the final run. This can be the time for you to meet those last unusual people, make changes with your dreams, or work to be more of a humanitarian.

Mini Month-by-Month Horoscopes:

January: You can focus on the smaller tasks and projects that you need to get done this month, and work to be more organized, structured, detailed, and disciplined. You can take some of your ideas and make something of them, or eliminate some of the ideas you don't feel are practical anymore to focus on the ones you feel are.

February: The people in your life can get most of your attention this month, and you can work to be there for them, give them more, and help them out. You may want a certain degree of space though, and can focus on finding ways to expand your life, have new experiences, and explore the world, opening your mind and heart.

March: You can continue to focus on others in March, and can take your relationships more seriously, especially later in the month, but you may experience some trouble later in the month, especially with friends or groups. Try not to push your ideas on others, and try not to let them rain on your dreams and hopes for your future.

April: You can do a lot of research this month, trying to get to the heart of the matter, situation, or person and gain more understanding of what you need to know. You can keep digging until you find it, and you can feel a little like an expert once you do. You can also work on understanding your friends better, and their own motivations.

May: You can dig deeper into your subconscious mind this month, and the desire may come about suddenly or unexpectedly as you try to understand your own motivations and desires. Your mood can lighten up later in the month, and you can be more flexible, adaptable, and open to going with the wind.

June: You can be overly defensive of your beliefs and ideas this month, and need to hold your tongue a little bit. You may feel a little preachy, but that isn't a good thing. Work on having beliefs you're passionate about and true to, but don't force everyone else to be in the same boat. Embrace the differences.

July: You may try to take advantage of opportunities to bring stability and security into your life this month, wanting to avoid anything too drastic, or feeling you need to put up some more boundaries around yourself or your life. It may be difficult for you to explain, but you can feel you know it in your head.

August: Your focus can become more limited later in the month, and you can focus more on darker subjects or intense matters. You can work on letting go of some deeply held issues, and this can free you up mentally so you're not stuck in the past and can work on new ideas and new plans that excite you.

September: The new moon this month can help you focus more on the positives emotionally, and to strengthen yourself internally or the foundation of your life. You can focus on starting something from the ground up, and you can do what you need to in order to get started, feeling excited by what you can do.

October: The little things, the tasks and chores that need to get done, and the work you need to do may not go as planned this month. You may want to give yourself more time to get things done, and take a little time away from what you find boring. You may want to make a little change with your daily life.

November: This can be an important month for maintaining balance because you can feel out of balance very easily, and this can impact your ability to get things done, to be productive, and to handle the people in your life. If you're getting short with people or lack focus, you may need to work on being better balanced.

December: Your work life can get your main attention as the month begins, but any issues that you deal with can lead you to find new goals and tweak your long-term plans to be more realistic and attainable. You can feel more disciplined and focused, and you can work hard for what you want to achieve in life.
