Pisces 2018 Yearly Horoscopes	61

January 1st - 7th 2018

This week and year starts off with a full moon on Monday in Cancer and your love sector, so you can start this new year feeling fairly positive, and focused on joy. You may want to bring more joy into your life this year, and spend more time focused on the things you enjoy doing in healthy, positive ways, and be with the people who make you enjoy life and feel good about yourself. You can feel more creative with this full moon, and can use creative hobbies or projects as an outlet for your emotions. This may be a time for you to finish up creative projects or ventures, finalize plans for them, end up in the spotlight or get attention or praise, or settle issues with loved ones. If you're in a newer relationship, you may decide if it's going somewhere or not now. If single, you may want someone you feel a spiritual connection to, and if in an established relationship, you may work on being better connected and more affectionate. On Tuesday, Uranus ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Aries and your money sector, and you may have struggled with changes with your finances over the last few months. Now that the retrograde is ending, you can work on the changes you want to make. Your ruler, Neptune, positively hits Venus on Wednesday, and you can get along better with others, are more charming or compromising, and feel better balanced. You may start the week in a good mood and up for some fun, and can get to small tasks and chores that need to be finished midweek. You can spend more time focused on others later in the week, and may end the week working on a transformation for the better.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

January 8th - 14th 2018

The serious matters that you're dealing with can be your main focus as the week begins, Pisces, and you can work on trying to find all of the information there is to find and get to the core so you can understand and work from there. You can take a serious approach, and your focus can be unrelenting. Later in the week, you can step back a little bit and give yourself some space. You can work on plans for exploration or expansion, and can come up with big ideas that excite you. You can do some learning, teaching, writing, speaking, or traveling. On Thursday, Mercury enters Capricorn, and you can think outside of the box over the coming weeks. You can be open to unconventional ideas and methods, and attracted to original thinkers and beliefs. You can focus more on your future and work on your plans for your dreams. Over the weekend, you can take a realistic approach to your plans, and work on them long-term. You can focus on the goals you believe in most and want to achieve most, and can work on your plans. You can feel confident in your plans, and can work on making progress quickly.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Wednesday, Thursday

January 15th - 21st 2018

Stepping outside of your comfort zone can be on your mind to kick the week off, especially with a new moon in Capricorn on Tuesday. You can focus on opportunities to do things that are outside of your comfort zone, unconventional and not what you'd normally entertain, or that will enact changes in your life that open you up to new paths. You can focus on your dreams for your future as well, and pursue opportunities presented to you to get closer to achieving them. Later in the week, you can feel more intuitive and imaginative, especially with Venus entering Aquarius on Wednesday and the Sun entering Aquarius on Friday. Over the coming weeks, you can spend more time on your own, clear out your life, are more compassionate and empathic, and can work behind the scenes. The Moon is in your sign over the weekend, Pisces, and your energy can increase and you can be more open with what you're feeling and working on. You can start something new that you focus on for the next month, and feel excited about it.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Saturday, Sunday

January 22nd - 28th 2018

You probably want to be certain of your decisions before you make them as the week begins, so you can focus on finding the confidence in your decisions you may be missing before you commit yourself to anything. Once you're confident, you can move forward with your decisions solidly. Later in the week, you can be more active, and can jump into various things without thinking too much, but you can be too excited to slow down. On Friday, Mars enters Sagittarius and your career and goals sector, and over the coming weeks, you can work to achieve a goal, experience success, hit your stride, hit a high point, or set new goals. On the other hand, you may experience setbacks and delays if you need to change the path you're on. You can also work to make good impressions on the right people and gain recognition. Over the weekend, you can spend time with people who support you and make you feel good about yourself.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Sunday

January 29th - February 4th 2018

Mercury enters Aquarius and a lunar eclipse occurs in Leo and your work sector on Wednesday, so that's the big day for the week. With Mercury, you can do your best thinking on your own, without interference and without demands over the coming weeks. You can have an active imagination that wants to roam and soar, so focus may not be the best. You may find other people to be mentally draining, and may need more time to let your mind rest. With the lunar eclipse, you can settle work issues, finish up work projects, focus on the work you're passionate about, or walk away from the work you're not invested in. You can receive praise or recognition for work you've done right and feel passionate about, or experience setbacks with work you don't care for. You may streamline daily life, and focus on improving your health and lifestyle. You may be tempted to take a lot on but this may cause unnecessary stress, so try to avoid that. Work on managing stress in your life better long-term. You may start the week wanting to have some fun and goof off, but can get down to business midweek. Later in the week, you can spend time with loved ones and give relationships more attention, and you may end the week working on a transformation for the better or trying to gain more understanding.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday

February 5th - 11th 2018

A serious matter may require your attention as the week begins, and you can focus on trying to find a solution or gain better understanding of how to approach it. A transformation may be needed, and you can work on making it last. Midweek, you can focus on big ideas and the big picture, and you can be optimistic about what you can do in your life and the new experiences you want to have. There's a big wide world out there, and you can dream about exploring all of it. Later in the week, you can work on your long-term plans, taking a more realistic outlook to your life, yet feeling more ambitious and driven to accomplish some of your goals. On Saturday, Venus enters your sign, Pisces, and over the coming weeks, you can be more charming, attractive, meet new people, enjoy getting attention, or seem more grounded. In love, it can be easy for you to meet new people, if single, and you can enjoy getting attention. If in a relationship, you may want more attention from your partner, and enjoy more romance. You may end the week spending time in a group, pursuing causes you believe in, helping out a friend, or working on an opportunity for one of your future dreams.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Wednesday

February 12th - 18th 2018

A solar eclipse occurs in Aquarius on Thursday, and this can bring good energy for focusing on opportunities that allow you to be in the background or behind the scenes, and you can work on your plans on your own, without interference. Your imagination can be active, and you can clear out your life and do more for others. On Saturday, Mercury enters your sign, Pisces, and the Sun enters Pisces on Sunday. Over the coming weeks, you can do your best thinking and feel most like yourself when you are pursuing new opportunities, new beginnings, taking a positive approach to life, and are more energized and enthusiastic. You may get more attention, and can be comfortable in the spotlight. Your ruler, Neptune, harshly hits Mars on Saturday, and you may be more easily frustrated and need an outlet for your energy. You may start the week venturing outside of your comfort zone, and take time for rest midweek. The Moon is in your sign later in the week, and you can feel more excited and enthusiastic about your opportunities. You may end the week making time to enjoy the moment and not feel rushed.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Friday

February 19th - 25th 2018

Stability and security can be more important to you as the week begins, so you can focus on the areas of life that have felt chaotic lately and require some stable, secure energy. As you bring more stability and security into your life, you can feel more grounded and confident. This can help you in all areas of your life. Midweek, you can have greater mental energy, and can focus on a variety of projects and subjects. You may not focus on anything for very long, but can be enthusiastic about new ideas and new interests. Your ruler, Neptune, aligns with Venus on Wednesday, and you can get along better with others, focus on a relationship, make a compromise, or work to be better grounded. Later in the week, you can give yourself comfort and support, wanting to make yourself feel better emotionally. You can get to the core of your inner self, and work to understand yourself better. Neptune aligns with Mercury on Sunday, and this can stimulate your mind and make you more engaging. You may end the week with a positive outlook and wanting to spend time enjoying yourself and enjoying life.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Wednesday, Sunday

February 26th - March 4th 2018

A full moon occurs in Virgo and your relationship sector on Thursday, and this can bring energy for your relationships. You can give more time and attention to the people in your life, and can grow closer with someone or walk away from someone. You can feel more comfortable with commitment and compromise, and can find middle ground so everyone is on the same page, and you keep the peace. You may want to be better balanced, and this can help you to be more decisive. Your ruler, Neptune, aligns with the Sun on Sunday, and you can get attention, end up in the spotlight, feel creative, or are comfortable with your wants and needs. You may start the week feeling creative and inspired, and wanting to share your good feelings with others. You can be generous and affectionate. Midweek, you can be productive and efficient, and focus on the work you need to finish now. Later in the week, you can see both sides to situations, and play mediator or negotiator. Over the weekend, you can address a serious matter, feel more passionate, and want to feel closer with others emotionally.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Sunday

March 5th - 11th 2018

On Tuesday, Mercury moves into Aries and your money sector, leaving your sign, and Venus leaves your sign and joins Mercury in Aries on Wednesday, so you can enjoy focusing on financial matters and splurging over the coming weeks. You can be more sensual, indulgent, and take your time with decisions, and you can be more stubborn at times, but feel confident in your decisions once you make them. You can focus on bringing stability and security into your life, and your confidence can increase when you feel more grounded and centered. You may start the week trying to develop a more positive outlook on life, thinking a little bit bigger, and wanting to expand your view of life or the world. You can do some learning, teaching, writing, or speaking, and can be open to exploring. Later in the week, you can be more realistic and practical, and this can help you when you want to work on your long-term plans and goals. You can understand what you need to do and how to make progress. Over the weekend, you can let yourself dream about your future, and be open to making changes that can make your future dreams happen.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

March 12th - 17th 2018

You may want more time alone during the first half of the week, needing the time to rest and recharge. You can let your imagination run wild as well, and get lost in daydreams and fantasies, or want to get in touch with your spiritual needs. The Moon is in your sign later in the week, increasing your energy and enthusiasm, and a new moon occurs in your sign on Saturday, Pisces. You can focus on new opportunities, new projects and ventures, and new beginnings, but you may need to hurry up and take advantage of the energy quickly, otherwise you may get stuck just as fast. Push through and take the initiative, and make progress quickly. Mars enters Capricorn on Saturday as well, and over the coming weeks, you can focus more on your hopes and dreams for your future, and can be willing to make changes, be more independent, and step outside of your comfort zone. You can meet new people, expand your social circle, and be open to people who are different from who you'd normally associate with. This energy can be around for some time this year, so you can meet a lot of new people and work on your dreams quite a bit. You may end the week slowing things down so you have the opportunity to be more present in your life.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday, Friday, Saturday

March 19th - 25th 2018

The week kicks off with some challenging energy right at the start, and you may struggle with being stubborn, feeling stuck, overindulging, or a financial issue. On Tuesday, the Sun enters Aries and your money sector, and over the coming weeks, this can shine a light on challenges financially, where you feel you can't budge, or where you're too lazy to get moving. On Thursday, Mercury turns retrograde (appears to move backward) in Aries, and this can be the source of so many of our issues over the next few weeks. You may have a hard time sticking to a budget or understanding financial matters, figuring out how to bring stability to your life, removing blocks to insecurity, or moving from a fixed position. It can be a good time to make money in a way you have before, or to work on being better grounded and more in tune with your senses, and you can benefit when you tune out the people who make you feel bad about yourself. Midweek, you can sort through your short-term plans, tend to inner needs later in the week, and try to not be too serious or too stuck in the mud over the weekend.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Saturday, Sunday

March 26th - April 1st 2018

You may want to focus on the work that needs to be done, and try to tackle smaller tasks and chores, and this can serve to occupy your mind so you don't have to worry about the challenging energy right now.

Later in the week, you can spend time with the people you care about, and this can help you feel better emotionally and more stable. Saturday comes with Venus entering Taurus and a new moon in Libra. With Venus entering Taurus, you can enjoy coming up with new ideas, working on your short-term plans, sorting through ideas, and openly communicating over the coming weeks. With the full moon in Libra, you can finish up research into something important, tackle an issue you hold deep within yourself that weighs you down, or work on a transformation for the better in your life. This can be a focus over the weekend, and you can dig deeper within yourself or a situation, gain better understanding, address something you'd rather avoid, or make progress with a transformation that you've done right by and believe in strongly.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday

April 2nd - 8th 2018

Even if things are really difficult as the week begins, you may choose to try to see the bright side, to be the optimist, and to not get stuck on serious matters. You can focus on big ideas, big plans, and think about the ways you can expand your life for the better and make good things happen. That may not be entirely possible at the moment, but it can help you feel better, and you can get prepared for when it is possible. Later in the week, you can focus on your goals, your ambitions, and what you'd like to achieve, and you can work on your plans for now. You can be more realistic about your options and your decisions, and you can focus on trying to put together a plan that is smart. Just make sure you're flexible about it because there likely will need to be changes later. Over the weekend, you can opt to spend time with friends or meet some new exciting people, wanting to connect with your peers, or focus on a cause that you're passionate about, wanting to have some positive impact on the world in a healthy way and leave a little mark.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday

April 9th - 15th 2018

The week may begin with you wanting to get some extra time to yourself, Pisces, and you may feel more comfortable on your own or out of the spotlight. Later in the week, the Moon is in your sign, and you can have more energy and enthusiasm for new possibilities. Your ruler, Neptune, positively hits Venus on Thursday, and you can get along better with others and make compromises. Neptune positively hits Mars on Saturday, and you can have more energy than as well. Sunday is an important day with a new moon in Aries and your money sector, as well as Mercury ending his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Aries. Over the last few weeks, you may have struggled with financial issues, felt stubborn or stuck, or lacked stability in some way. With the retrograde ending plus a new moon in Aries, you can come out of the retrograde getting on the right track financially and pursuing financial opportunities, bringing stability and security to areas that have been chaotic, improving your confidence, and trying to enjoy the moment a little more.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday, Friday, Saturday

April 16th - 22nd 2018

Your mind can be more active than usual as the week starts, and you can come up with plenty of new ideas that you can work on short-term plans for and give attention to. You can sort through them and figure out which ideas you care most about and focus on those. Midweek, you can get to the core of something, and can focus on strengthening the foundation of something in your life. Later in the week, you can remind yourself to be joyful and try to have more fun in healthy and positive ways. On Thursday, the Sun enters Taurus, and over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself when you're pursuing your ideas and short-term plans, being engaging and open with what's on your mind, gathering information, learning or sharing knowledge, keeping yourself busy and filling up your schedule, or looking at the bright side. You may end the week wanting to quickly get some of the little things out of the way, or at least get your schedule ready so you can go into next week feeling productive.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Saturday, Sunday

April 23rd - 29th 2018

You can work on the little things that need to be finished right away to start the week, and can make good use of your time and energy to get them done so you're not fretting about it later. On Tuesday, Venus enters Gemini and your home and family sector, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy spending more time in the places you're most comfortable, being with the people who support you emotionally, expanding your support system, strengthening the foundation of your life, connecting with others emotionally, improving matters at home, tending to emotional needs, or working on something from the ground up. Midweek, you can work on being better balanced in your life, and can feel better emotionally when you feel balanced. Later in the week, you can feel more passionate, and want to grow closer with the people you care about emotionally, willing to share more. The week comes to an end with a full moon in Scorpio on Sunday, and you may finalize plans for expansion and exploration, speak up about something, defend a belief, and look at the bright side of emotional situations.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Sunday

April 30th - May 6th 2018

Some big ideas can come to you as the week starts, and you can feel excited and optimistic, and believe you have a real chance at success. Sometimes you just need to believe in yourself, and that can open up new opportunities and possibilities to you. Midweek, you can be more realistic though, and you can work on long-term plans that are practical and attainable, and this can be helpful for your big ideas. You can focus on trying to take a good look at the big picture and understand how all of the pieces fit together down the road. You can think about your future later in the week, and focus on how the pieces can come together to make your dreams reality someday. You may feel a little hopeful, and can work on trying to open yourself up to new ways of thinking and new methods to attempt. This may continue through the weekend, and you may end the week feeling more imaginative. Your ruler, Neptune, positively hits the Sun on Sunday, and you can feel creative, comfortable with some attention, and focus on the positives.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Sunday

May 7th - 13th 2018

You can spend time on your own and get some extra rest as the week begins, Pisces, and have an active imagination you can get lost in. You can focus on taking a break and getting away. Your ruler, Neptune, harshly hits Venus on Monday, and you may struggle with someone in your life, or feel indulgent. Midweek, the Moon is in your sign, Pisces, and you can focus on a new beginning, start a new project you can focus on for the next month, and feel more excited by the opportunities you have. You can take charge and use your energy. Later in the week, you can focus on financial matters, bring more stability and security into your life, or improve your confidence levels. On Sunday, Mercury enters Taurus, and over the coming weeks, you can have a more active mind, come up with lots of new ideas and work on short-term plans, share more of what you're thinking, gather information, learn or teach, keep yourself busy, and can be more engaging with others.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Wednesday, Thursday

May 14th - 20th 2018

This week has lots of movement, and it starts with a new moon in Taurus and Uranus entering Taurus on Tuesday. With the new moon, you can come up with new ideas, be more engaging, and pursue opportunities to make your ideas real. With Uranus, this is the start of this transit, and you can work on changing your outlook or mode of expression over the coming months. Mars enters Aquarius on Wednesday, and over the coming weeks, you can have more energy and drive on your own, out of the spotlight, and may want more time to yourself to get rest. On Saturday, Venus enters Cancer and your love sector, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy making time for your hobbies and being creative. On Sunday, the Sun enters Gemini and your home and family sector, and you can feel most like yourself when you're connecting to your emotions, getting or giving support, strengthening the foundation of something, or spending time at home or with family over the coming weeks. You may start the week with new ideas, work on something from the ground up midweek, feel creative later in the week, and end the week getting things done.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Friday, Saturday

May 21st - 27th 2018

The little things that require your attention as the week begins can take up a lot of your focus, and you can work on trying to get as much out of the way as quickly as possible. You can be quite productive, and pay closer attention to the details. Your ruler, Neptune, positively hits Mercury on Tuesday, and this can help with your focus. Midweek, you can spend more time with the people you care about, especially one-on-one, and help them with anything they're going through. You can enjoy being of use, and feel good emotionally with a partner. Later in the week, you can work on a transformation for the better of something in your life or some aspect of yourself, and it may not be a change that happens overnight, but it's one that can have a lasting and positive influence over you. Neptune positively hits Jupiter on Friday, and you can feel more optimistic and think a bit bigger, and this can continue over the weekend. You can focus on the bright side, and open up to expansion and abundance.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday

May 28th - June 3rd 2018

On Tuesday, Mercury enters Gemini and your home and family sector, and on the same day, a full moon occurs in Sagittarius and your career and life path sector. With Mercury entering Gemini, you can focus on matters at home or with family, do your best thinking when you feel emotionally supported, and may find it easier to express yourself emotionally over the coming weeks. With the full moon in Sagittarius, you can make progress with the goals that you have been responsible with, have done your homework for, have worked hard at, and are passionate about. On the other hand, you may experience setbacks or delays if you've been reckless, irresponsible, or aren't invested in what you've been doing. You may start the week coming up with big ideas and feeling optimistic. Midweek, you can be more realistic and work on your long-term plans. Later in the week, you can focus more on your dreams for your future or spend time with your friends. You may end the week taking time to rest and recharge, or quietly working on your plans without interference.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday

June 4th - 10th 2018

You may start the week wanting some time to yourself to get some extra rest or work on your plans without interference before you take action with anything. You can use your imagination or listen to your intuition with your plans, and wait for the right time to take action. The Moon is in your sign midweek, and you may start to feel motivated then. Your energy and drive can increase, and you can feel more enthusiastic about whatever you do. You can keep busy and take action, start down a new road or pursue a new opportunity. Later in the week, you can take your time with decisions and actions you want to be certain about, and you can focus on finding the certainty you need. If anyone tries to budge you before you're ready, you can push back against them and resist. You want more confidence and security. You may end the week with new ideas, working on short-term plans, and feeling more excited, wanting to be more active and engaging.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

June 11th - 17th 2018

This week is quite busy, and it starts with Mercury entering Cancer and your love sector on Tuesday. Over the coming weeks, you can be focused when you're feeling creative and enjoying what you do, and without that, you may be unable to focus at all, so try to inject creative energy into the mundane. On Wednesday, Venus enters Leo and your work sector, and over the coming weeks, you can focus on the work you're most passionate about, enjoy paying closer attention to the people you care about, and can feel more productive. A new moon occurs in Gemini and your home and family sector on Wednesday, and you can start a new home improvement project, do something with real estate, plan a family gathering, strengthen the foundation of something, or get started with something from the ground up. You may start the week with lots of new ideas, and focus on your emotions midweek. You can be more joyful later in the week, over the weekend, you can get some of the little things out of the way.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday, Friday

June 18th - 24th 2018

The people in your life can get your attention as the week begins, and you can spend more time with others, especially one-on-one. You can feel better emotionally when you're being there for the people you care about, and can feel more balanced. Your ruler, Neptune, turns retrograde (appears to move backward) on Monday, and you may feel off in a subtle way and like a fog is over you over the coming months, so try to give yourself more time and space for anything important. Neptune positively hits Mercury on Wednesday, and you can be more engaging and keep busy. Later in the week, you can be more intense, passionate, and researching. The Sun enters Cancer and your love sector on Thursday, and over the coming weeks, you may feel most like yourself when you're with your loved ones, doing the things you love most in healthy and positive ways, using creative energy, making time for hobbies and fun, and being generous and playful. Over the weekend, you can be optimistic, open to adventure, or think bigger.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Wednesday, Saturday, Sunday

June 25th - July 1st 2018

Mars turns retrograde (appears to move backward) on Tuesday in Aquarius, and Mars is retrograde in Aquarius until August. This may impact issues from the past, your subconscious mind, and baggage, and it may feel like old ghosts come back into your life, you're your own worst enemy, and the weight of emotional baggage pushes you down. This is a time when you need to work on letting go and moving on instead of holding on to what no longer serves a positive purpose. A full moon occurs on Thursday in Capricorn, increasing emotional energy around the retrograde, and you may feel more rebellious if you think anyone is trying to box you in, so try to avoid pushing too much against others. Mercury enters Leo and your work sector on Friday, and you can focus on mundane tasks and chores over the coming weeks. As the week begins, you can tend to a goal, and make spend time with friends later in the week. Over the weekend, you can get some rest and think about what you need to work on moving on from.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Sunday

July 2nd - 8th 2018

You may be stuck in the past and weighed down by emotional baggage to start the week, but the Moon enters your sign, Pisces, fairly quickly, and for the first half of the week, you can focus on yourself and try to make use of a little surge in energy. You can bring some things out into the light, exposing them, and step out from the shadows a little. You can tend to your wants and needs, and try to be more positive. Later in the week, you can become more grounded with the Earth or in your body, and you can get more in tune with your senses and the physical plane. You can feel rooted to the ground and to reality, and this can help you not get so scattered and lost in your imagination. Over the weekend, you can gather information, learn and use your mind, trying to be more logical and not get sucked into paranoia or fears. You may be able to use logic and reason to think your way out of situations. Your ruler, Neptune, positive hits the Sun on Sunday, and you can end the week getting attention, being positive, and feeling comfortable.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Wednesday, Sunday

July 9th - 15th 2018

Venus enters Virgo and your relationship sector on Monday, and over the coming weeks, you may enjoy spending more time with the people you care about, improving your relationships, meeting new people, committing and compromising, and may be more charming and fair-minded. On Friday, a solar eclipse occurs in Cancer and your love sector, and you can focus on what you love most in life in healthy and positive ways, and work to show the love you feel with others. You can give more attention to your loved ones, and can be more affectionate and romantic. You may start the week tending to emotional needs or matter at home, and can strengthen yourself internally or the foundation of something in your life. Midweek, you can be more positive and generous, and can enjoy attention. Later in the week, you can get the work done you missed earlier in the week, and feel more productive. You may end the week with loved ones, restoring balance, and trying to maintain some harmony.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday

July 16th - 22nd 2018

You may start the week spending time with the people you care about or trying to improve one of your relationships. You may be better understanding of other people's viewpoints, and can work on making compromises to get everyone on the same page. Midweek, you may work on a transformation for the better of something in your life, and it can be intense, but you can stick with it if you believe it will truly make your life better. Later in the week, you can be more optimistic, and work on plans for expansion and exploration. You can be open to new experiences, and can be more gregarious. You may focus on the direction your life is going in or on one of your long-term goals as the week comes to an end. On Sunday, the Sun enters Leo and your work sector, and over the coming weeks, you may feel most like yourself when you are focused on the work that needs to be done, being as productive and efficient with your time and energy as you can, improving your lifestyle, streamlining your daily life, or being healthier.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Friday, Saturday

July 23rd - 29th 2018

This week comes with some big energy as Mercury turns retrograde (appears to move backward) in Leo and your work sector on Thursday and a lunar eclipse occurs in Aquarius on Friday, the sign opposite Leo. You may struggle with being productive and efficient, getting things done, and have to redo projects, revise work, or manage a schedule that is too much or stresses you out over the coming weeks. Stress can be a problem, and you can stress yourself sick, especially if you try to do too much. On the other hand, you may not have enough to do, preferring to avoid work, and this can make you anxious. You may feel much more rundown as a result, and require more time alone, needing to give yourself rest, or wanting to deal with things on your own without anyone making demands of you that pushes you down further. It's important for you to find time to tend to your soul needs, subconscious issues, and to work on clearing out baggage from your life. With less baggage, you can feel less stressed, and this can give you some breathing room with work and daily life matters. Also, try to give yourself time to get things done, and don't be too hard on yourself. Your ruler, Neptune, opposes Venus on Tuesday, and you may struggle with someone in your life, or feel unbalanced and out of sorts, needing a break. You may start the week working on one of your goals, and step outside of your comfort zone later in the week. Over the weekend, you can feel the eclipse energy strong, and may need more time to rest, recover, or let your imagination take over.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Saturday, Sunday

July 30th - August 5th 2018

The week begins with the moon in your sign, Pisces, and this is usually a good time to focus on something new that you want to get started with that you can focus on for the next month. The energy isn't the best right now, so try to choose something that you can accomplish quickly. You may feel like you have a lot of energy, so keep yourself busy. You can also be more comfortable getting attention or being in the spotlight. Later in the week, you can slow things down, and take your time with decisions and actions. You can focus on being more confident, and this can help you be more certain in your decisions. It can also be important to you to take time to enjoy the moment while you have the chance. Over the weekend, you can keep yourself busy, and have lots of new ideas to focus on. You make think all of the ideas you come up with are good right now, so keep track of them. Hold on to them so you can do something with them when the opportunity presents itself later. You may also spend more time with others to use up your mental energy.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday

August 6th - 12th 2018

Venus enters Libra on Monday, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy spending time doing research, getting to the heart of matters, growing closer with others emotionally, and transforming your life for the better. On Saturday, a solar eclipse occurs in Leo and your work sector, and this can help you focus on the work you want to be doing, the improvements you want to make in your daily life, and how you want to better your wellbeing. You may not be able to do anything regarding these areas right now, but you can work on your plans. On Sunday, Mars retrogrades (appears to move backwards) into Capricorn, and you may experience struggles with your dreams for your future, friendships, groups you belong to, the causes you champion, being independent, change, or venturing outside of your comfort zone. You can be rebellious if you feel anyone is trying to box you in, so try not to push too hard. You may need some emotional support as the week begins, and can connect to your heart midweek. You can be more productive later in the week, and may end the week spending time with loved ones.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Wednesday, Thursday

August 13th - 19th 2018

You may spend more time with others to start the week, and you can feel better emotionally when you have company. Midweek, you can work on a transformation for the better of something in your life, and this can be something that last for a long time. Later in the week, you can open your mind to new ways of thinking, and want to understand how the world operates. You may end the week with better focus, feeling disciplined, and taking responsibility. On Sunday, your ruler, Neptune, positively hits Jupiter, and you can be more optimistic, come up with big ideas, and be open to expansion. Also on Sunday, Mercury ends his retrograde (appearing to move backwards) in Leo and your work sector. We've been dealing with this retrograde for the last few weeks, and you have likely been struggling to get work done, be productive, stick to deadlines, keep up with the smaller tasks and chores life, health issues, or have felt stuck in the mundane. Now that the retrograde is coming to an end, you can get back on track with work, improve daily life, be more efficient, tackle your health, and get things done.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday, Friday, Sunday

August 20th - 26th 2018

The Sun moves into Virgo and your relationship sector on Thursday, and over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself when you're spending time with others, focused on your relationships, and trying to be better balanced. You can be more charming, compromising, and fair-minded. A full moon occurs on Sunday in your sign, Pisces, and you can make progress with the things you've done right, and experience setbacks with the things that require adjustments or you're just not really invested in. Your emotions can be heightened, and you can be more open with what you're feeling. You may start the week tending to goals and working on your long-term plans, and can be open to change and venturing outside of your comfort zone to make progress midweek. Later in the week, you can do more on your own, and may want to avoid anyone too demanding as they can drain you more than usual. The week ends with the Moon in your sign, and you can have more energy and drive, but may need to hold off before you pursue any opportunities.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Sunday

August 27th - September 2nd 2018

Mars ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward) on Monday to start the week, and this retrograde began in late June in Aquarius, and comes to a close now in Capricorn. You've likely been impacted by this retrograde when it comes to your friendships, groups, dreams, hopes, imagination, issues from the past, and general drama brought out in your dealings with others. With the retrograde coming to an end, you can focus on getting back on track again, especially in your dealings with others, but it may take a little time before it fully takes effect, so have some patience still. The week begins with the Moon in your sign, and you can focus on meeting your own wants and needs, and the new beginnings you want to pursue once things have died down and you have the chance to focus. Midweek, you can get better grounded and centered, calming yourself emotionally, and later in the week, you can enjoy focusing on new ideas and working on new plans. You may end the week working on something from the ground up, getting back to basics, or tending to matters at home or with family.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday

September 3rd - 9th 2018

Mercury moves into Virgo and your relationship sector on Wednesday, and you can do your best thinking with a partner, bounce ideas off of people, see both sides to situations, work on compromises, negotiate, mediate, and keep the peace over the coming weeks. You can be charming in your communications, and more diplomatic. A new moon occurs in Virgo on Sunday, and you can meet new people, enter into a new relationship or partnership, make a commitment or compromise, or strike a balance. Venus enters Scorpio on Sunday as well, and you can enjoy thinking bigger, pursuing opportunities for expansion or exploration, and giving yourself some space over the coming weeks. Your ruler, Neptune, opposes the Sun on Friday, and you may avoid attention or feel uncomfortable with something. You may start the week wanting to get some emotional comfort and support, and connect with your heart midweek. Later in the week, you can get organized and try to be as productive as you can, and over the weekend, you can focus on finding peaceful and harmonious surroundings.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Wednesday

September 10th - 16th 2018

Mars moves into Aquarius on Monday to start the week, and your energy can lower over the coming weeks. You may find that other people drain you more, and you may prefer to spend time alone. You can have more energy on your own, and get the most done without anyone looking over your shoulder or making demands of you. Your imagination can be extremely active though, and you can have more spiritual and intuitive energy. This may feel like the end of a cycle, and you can clear out your life or get some stuff finished. Your ruler, Neptune, opposes Mercury on Thursday, and you may have difficulty with focus or have a misunderstanding to work through. You can focus on a serious matter and try to get to the core of it earlier in the week, and try to think bigger and be more optimistic later in the week. Over the weekend, you can make your goals your priority, and work to make progress or hit a high point with one of your goals in particular, or try to make a good impression on the right person or get recognition for what you've done.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday, Friday

September 17th - 23rd 2018

Pushing your own boundaries may be a focus as the week begins, and you can challenge yourself to make changes or to go down the unknown path. You may be more open to the unconventional methods and routes, and to trying things you'd ordinarily not be into very much, but still remain true to yourself. You can embrace what makes you unique and an individual, and refuse to be boxed in during the first half of the week. Later in the week, you can make time to be alone, to collect your thoughts and tend to soul needs, and to get better in tune with your intuitive and spiritual self. You can be more compassionate and understanding with others as well, and want to be there for the people you care about. On Friday, Mercury enters Libra, and the Sun joins Mercury on Saturday, so over the coming weeks, you can focus more on transforming and sharing. You can feel most like yourself when you're working on transforming aspects of your life or self for the better, and you can work on plans for transformations. You may seem more intense and passionate, and you can dominate conversations. People can take what you say more seriously, and you can focus on matters intensely, getting to the core of any matters. Over the weekend, the Moon is in your sign, so you can focus more on yourself, your own wants and needs and desires, and feel more comfortable with attention and being in the spotlight.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Saturday, Sunday

September 24th - 30th 2018

The week begins with the Moon in your sign, so you can feel energized, excited, and enthusiastic, and may want to take action quickly. You may not be certain with what though, so try listening to your intuition to see where it guides you. You may not have very long to work on whatever you get started, so work fast and focus on a project or venture you can tackle very quickly. Midweek, you can slow yourself down and work on bringing more stability and security into your life, improving your financial issues, or working to remove blocks that make you feel insecure and lack confidence. If other people bring you down, listen to your own feelings and assess whether or not they have a hidden agenda. Later in the week, you can talk things over with someone you trust, have lots of communications, come up with new ideas, and keep yourself busy to use up the extra mental energy you may have. Over the weekend, you can connect to your emotional side, working to make sure your emotional needs are being met, and strengthening yourself internally.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday

October 1st - 7th 2018

Venus turns retrograde (appears to move backward) on Friday in Scorpio, where she will be retrograde for the rest of October. This retrograde can impact your ability to expand, explore, and have new experiences, and you may lack the motivation and drive to pursue opportunities to get out into the world, open up your life, or do something new. You may come up with big ideas, but not take action with them, and may just dream up adventures instead of having them for now. You may also crave more space and freedom, and this might push some people away from you, so be careful not to do that to the people you want to stick around when this is all said and done. You can struggle with your beliefs as well, and if you don't feel connected to them, you may pull away. It can be a good time to re-learn, re-teach, go somewhere you've been to before, or focus on an old big idea. You may start the week giving yourself some comfort and familiarity, and tend to your heart midweek. You can get work done later in the week, and spend the weekend with loved ones or trying to regain some balance.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Wednesday

October 8th - 14th 2018

It can be a good time to consider a transformation for the better as the week begins, and you can benefit your life in many ways from it. A new moon occurs on Monday in Libra, and you can get started with that transformation, or do some research, address a serious matter, or share with others. You can get to the core of something, and work on emotional bonds. On Tuesday, Mercury enters Scorpio, and you can focus on big ideas and look at the bright side, as well as focus on the issues brought up by Venus retrograde in this sign over the coming weeks. You may think a little too big at times and want a little too much space with Venus, but Mercury can help you to come down a little and try to get more detailed, especially later in the week. Over the weekend, you can focus on your goals, your direction, and where you want to be in life, and can take on more responsibilities and more work to make it happen. You can be more practical with your plans and more realistic about what you can achieve, and try to hit your stride quickly to make some progress.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Friday, Saturday, Sunday

October 15th - 21st 2018

Your friends and the groups you belong to may be of comfort to you as the week begins, and if you need to reach out for support, advice, or help, you can. You may simply want to spend more time with them, and can enjoy your time together, and help them with whatever they're dealing with. You can enjoy connecting with others and feeling that you have your place. Later in the week, you can crave some more time alone, easily rundown and in need of some rest, or with an active imagination requiring you to step away from the mundane and demands of life to let your mind soar. Without any time or space to let your mind wander, you may get grumpy and be more easily rundown. Your ruler, Neptune, positively hits Mercury on Friday, and you can be more engaging and inquisitive. Over the weekend, the Moon is in your sign, and this can give you some extra energy and drive, and help you to focus more on yourself, your own wants and needs, and get you more attention. You can be more comfortable tending to yourself and making yourself more of a priority.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Friday, Saturday, Sunday

October 22nd - 28th 2018

Getting yourself more grounded can be helpful as the week begins, and you can feel more centered and calm. This can help to boost your confidence, as well as help you to feel more secure and stable in your life. On Tuesday, the Sun enters Scorpio, and you can feel most like yourself when you're pursuing opportunities to expand your life in new ways, have new experiences, or explore the world. You can open your mind and share wisdom gained through experience, and may come across as more of a teacher, wanderer, or free-thinker. On Wednesday, a full moon occurs in Taurus, and you can find it easier to express what you're feeling, and can get things off of your chest that you've been holding back on. You can strongly identify with the words you say and write and read, and can understand what people really mean, regardless of what they're saying. You can be more easily hurt with words though, so you may need to guard yourself, especially later in the week. Over the weekend, you can get in tune with your emotions, and try to keep yourself steady.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday

October 29th - November 4th 2018

Your creative energy can be strong as the week begins, and you can use that energy to focus on creative projects and ventures, or to bring creativity into the mundane to make everyday tasks and chores more pleasant and enjoyable. Midweek, you can work on the mundane stuff that has to be done and out of the way, and have an eye for the details. On Wednesday, Venus retrogrades (appears to move backward) into Libra, and you may struggle with emotional bonds, intimacy, and obsession in relationships over the coming weeks. You may demand too much from others or deal with someone who does that to you, struggle for power and control in relationships, and lack proper emotional bonds. Work on gaining better understanding and having solid boundaries. You may spend some time with your loved ones later in the week, and this can be a good time to work on it through the weekend as the Venus retrograde issues heat up and you can make it more of a priority.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday

November 5th - 11th 2018

This is a big week for 2018, and it starts with Uranus retrograde (appearing to move backward), going from Taurus to Aries for the next few months. Uranus began his tour of Taurus this year, so the next few months while he's in Aries will be his last. It's a time to tie up loose ends, finish what you've started, and take advantage of opportunities while you have the chance. You can make the most of your ideas and plans, and sort through them quickly. On Wednesday, a new moon occurs in Scorpio, and this week can bring good energy for plans for expansion, new experiences, exploring, opening up your mind, learning, teaching, writing, speaking, and being optimistic. On Thursday, Jupiter leaves Scorpio and enters Sagittarius and your goals and life path sector, where he'll spend the next year. This is often a time where you pursue opportunities to achieve your goals, set new goals, work on long-term plans, put yourself on the right path, make important connections, get praise or recognition, and set yourself up long-term. This may not happen quickly though, because Mercury will retrograde starting next week in Sagittarius, so it may not kick in until after that is over. You may start the week getting to the heart of something, and see the bigger picture midweek. You can work on your long-term plans later in the week, and feel more independent to end the week.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Wednesday

November 12th - 18th 2018

There's plenty going on this week with the planets, and it starts with Mars entering your sign, Pisces, on Thursday. Over the coming weeks, you can experience a surge in energy and drive for what you want, and you can focus on your own wants and needs. You can pursue new beginnings and new opportunities, and focus on what you want to embark on now that can be a focus for the next two years of your life. On Friday, Venus ends her retrograde (appearing to move backward), moving forward again in Libra, and you can get out of the funk you've been stuck in and stop being so moody and emotional with loved ones. But Mercury starts his own retrograde on Friday as well, in Sagittarius and your career and goals sector, so you may experience setbacks or delays, make bad impressions, or question your direction over the coming weeks. Pick back up old goals, and hold off on big decisions for new goals until after the retrograde ends. You may start the week willing to make some changes, and have an active imagination later in the week. The Moon is in your sign over the weekend, and you can focus on yourself and be more open.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday, Saturday

November 19th - 25th 2018

You can feel more confident and take your time with actions and decisions to start this week, and you believe that you'll stick with whatever you decide once you do, but you likely feel no rush. Midweek, you can fill up your schedule and feel more engaging, wanting to connect with others mentally and share your ideas. On Thursday, the Sun enters Sagittarius and your career and life path sector, and over the coming weeks, you can work toward your goals, hit your stride, get recognition, work on your long-term plans, or make adjustments. On Friday, a full moon occurs in opposing sign, Gemini, and your home and family sector, and you can settle issues at home or with family, feel more connected to your emotions, and tend to your core. You may focus on strengthening the foundation of something in your life. On Saturday, your ruler, Neptune, ends his retrograde (appears to be moving backward) in your sign, Pisces, and while you've likely felt like you were in a fog over the last few months, that can start lifting now. You may end the week wanting to have fun, not focus on anything too serious, and feeling more creative.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Sunday

November 26th - December 2nd 2018

Your creative self can take over as the week begins, and you may want to use the energy, but if you have to focus on mundane tasks and chores, you can get grumpy easily. Try to inject creativity into everything you do to keep yourself focused and enjoying life. Midweek, you may have better focus for the mundane, and you can have an eye for the details. You can focus and try to get things done. Later in the week, you can work on being better balanced in life, and focus on the areas of life that you haven't had time for lately. With more balance, you can feel better emotionally and be more decisive. On Saturday, Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) into Scorpio, and over the next week, you may struggle with having the space to do what you want or with having too much space and feeling isolated, think too big or not big enough, or have difficulties with your beliefs. Try not to be too defensive, and find space within limitations. Over the weekend, you can get to the heart of a matter or situation or person, and use the information to formulate a plan moving forward.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday

December 3rd - 9th 2018

On Thursday of this week, Mercury ends his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Scorpio, where he's been retrograde since December 1st. You may have struggled with having the space you want and need, feeling suffocated in some ways and like you have too much room to roam in others, or were overly defensive of your beliefs. With the retrograde ending, after another week or two, you can start to feel more like yourself again, and work on plans for expansion and exploration. On Friday, a new moon occurs in Sagittarius and your career and life path sector, and this can be a great time of the year for you to hit your stride, hit a high point, experience success, or make major progress. You can set new goals, make good impressions, connect with the right people, or get recognition for what you've done. Your ruler, Neptune, harshly hits the Sun on Wednesday, and you may want to stay out of the spotlight, or need to tend to your own wants and needs. Neptune aligns with Mars on Friday, and you can get a surge of energy to focus on your goals and feel motivated and driven. You may start the week doing research into something serious, and have a lighter approach midweek. Later in the week, you can get serious about your goals and long-term plans, and have a realistic outlook. Over the weekend, you can be true to yourself, step outside of your comfort zone, or focus on one of your dreams.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Tuesday, Friday

December 10th - 16th 2018

Shifting your focus on something may be important as the week kicks off, and you can look at a situation, person, or project in a different way than you have been. Midweek, your imagination can take over, and you can get lost in daydreams and fantasies. You can be more intuitive and focus on your spiritual self, and tend to your inner needs. On Wednesday, Mercury enters Sagittarius and your career and life path sector, and this can bring more attention and focus on your goals and ambitions over the coming weeks. You can merge the big and little picture, and you can work on your plans for achieving your goals. You can get advice from people you respect, and feel like you hit your stride with something, or get recognition for something. Later in the week, the Moon is in your sign, Pisces, and you can have more energy, enthusiasm, and spunk. You can focus on a new beginning, something you're excited by, and you can do what it take to get started. You may end the week pressing pause on everything so you can ground yourself, enjoy the moment, and not feel so pressured and pushed.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Thursday, Friday, Saturday

December 17th - 23rd 2018

It can be a slow start to the week as you don't feel the need to rush and fuss, and want to be certain of decisions and actions before anything is done and you're stuck. Your energy can pick up midweek, and you can get moving, finding yourself interested in a variety of subjects, projects, and ventures. You can come up with lots of ideas, talk them over with others, work on your short-term plans, and feel excited as you fill up your calendar. Later in the week, you can spend some time in the places you know best or with the people you know best, wanting some familiarity to give you some emotional comfort and ease. Your ruler, Neptune, positively hits Venus on Friday, and you can get along better with others and focus on the people in your life. The Sun enters Capricorn on Friday as well, and you can meet new people, expand your social circle, spend more time with friends or in groups, and can be more sociable over the coming weeks. You can feel more independent and original, and open to change. You can also focus more on your dreams for your future, and pursue opportunities to make them happen. On Saturday, a full moon occurs in Cancer and your love sector, and you can settle disputes with loved ones, grow closer with a loved one or walk away from one, become more invested in a hobby or drop one, and you can be more expressive with what you're feeling. You can be more positive, and creative outlets can help you to stay positive. You may end the week wanting to have fun and not take anything too seriously.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Friday, Sunday

December 24th - 30th 2018

The last week of 2018 kicks off with you focusing on what you enjoy most in life, and you may take time away from work to just have some fun. It's been a long year, and you could use a little break! Your ruler, Neptune, harshly hits Mercury on Monday, and you may have a hard time with open communication and expression, or lack focus. Midweek, you can turn your attention toward the work that needs to be done, and get done as much as you can. You can be more productive and efficient with your time and energy, and try to get the little things done and out of the way so you don't go into 2019 with such a long list of things to do. Later in the week, you can spend more time with the people in your life, and work on growing closer, being more committed, or being more fair-minded. You can make compromises, and keep the peace. Over the weekend, you can focus on what you want to make better in your life, and you can dig deeper to find the right approach.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Friday

December 31st 2018 - January 6th 2019

Mars moves into Aries and your money sector on Monday, ending 2018 and starting 2019 with energy and drive for financial matters over the coming weeks. You can pursue financial opportunities, create new ones for yourself, and strive to improve financial stability and security. You can take on a new job, second job, side gig, or start making money from a hobby. You can improve stability and security in your life in general, and can work to be better grounded and present. On Friday, Mercury enters Capricorn, and over the coming weeks, you can focus more on your dreams and future. You can work on plans that make you think outside of the box, and you can be open to change. You can think best with friends or groups to bounce ideas off of, and can push your mind to focus on ideas that are unconventional. With a solar eclipse in Capricorn on Saturday, you may pursue opportunities to achieve your dreams, make changes in your life, or expand your social circle. You can be more independent, original, and don't want to be boxed in by anyone. You can pursue causes you're passionate about, make a difference or leave your mark, or find your tribe. You may start the week with big ideas, work on realistic plans later in the week, and spend time with friends over the weekend.

Best days of the week for Pisces: Monday, Tuesday

Pisces 2018 Yearly Horoscopes

Love & Relationships:

The July 12th solar eclipse occurs in your love sector, and you can focus on sharing the love you feel, being more affectionate and sweet, and bringing more love into your life. If single, you can enjoy playing the field and leaving your options open, while if in a relationship, you can make it feel like it did when you first met and plan to make more time for fun together.

Venus retrogrades (appears to move backward) in your intimacy sector in October, and you can have a hard time being close emotionally with others, feeling that you're not close enough and acting a little clingy, or having to deal with someone who smothers you. Try not to let it get your mood too dark, and be calm before lashing out.

Career & Money:

Uranus is ending his time in your money sector, in this sector to mid-May and then back again in early November, and you've likely been experiencing changes to the way in which you make money, save money, think about money, or use money over the years. Mercury retrogrades in this sector mid-March to mid-April, and this can be a period of more change, and you may need to work on financial issues that need to be addressed.

The January 31st lunar eclipse occurs in your work sector, and you can finish up work projects, eliminate issues at work or with co-workers, or you can be extra stressed by work and need to lighten the load.

Mercury retrogrades in your work sector late July to mid-August, and you can focus on redoing work projects, but may need more time to get things done, missing deadlines and having a hard time sticking to schedules. A solar eclipse occurs in your work sector August 11th during the retrograde, and this can be a good time to go back to work at a job you worked before or for someone you worked for before.

Jupiter enters your career sector in early November, and you get a one year period where you can achieve, succeed, and make progress with your goals and ambitions. Mercury retrogrades in this sector the second half of November, so this may not be the case right away, and you can focus on old goals again. Mars is in this sector earlier in the year, late January to mid-March, and you can work hard for what you want and try to stay on the right path.

Home & Family:

The July 12th solar eclipse occurs in the sector ruling children, so if you have any, you can give them more attention, and they may be in the spotlight for some reason, or pursue opportunities for themselves. You can be supportive of them, and work on improving your relationship with them, being more generous and letting them shine on their own.

Mental State:

Uranus begins to enter one of the sectors ruling your mind, coming here mid-May to early November, and you can start to look at the world with a different perspective, take a new look at situations, and become interested in a variety of unusual, unorthodox subjects. You can explore your mind and what you're capable of mentally over the coming years.

Jupiter is in the other sector ruling your mind to early November, and you can enjoy expanding your mind, learning new things, and sharing your wisdom with others. Venus retrogrades in this sector the first half of November though, and you may have a hard time finding the space you want and need. Mercury retrogrades in this sector the first week of December, and you can struggle with focusing on what you want, and make need to avoid making promises you won't keep.

Mars is in the sector ruling your subconscious mind starting mid-May, and you can have more energy and drive to address subconscious issues, motivations, and desires, but Mars is retrograde in this sector late June to mid-August, and you can struggle with issues from the past, subconscious issues, and can feel overwhelmed by the weight of baggage. Mars comes back to this sector mid-September to mid-November, and you can work on letting go and moving on from what you need to.

General:

Your ruler, Neptune, remains in your sign all year, and you can feel more comfortable with your natural tendencies, and be more compassionate, empathic, imaginative, and sacrificing. Those of you born March 1st - 7th can feel the impact of Neptune most in 2018.

Mars is in your sign mid-November through December, so you end the year with a lot of energy, excitement, and enthusiasm, and you can start new projects, work on new plans, and pursue new opportunities so you set yourself up moving into 2019.

Pluto and Saturn remain in the sector ruling your friendships and dreams this year, and you can get more serious about your dreams, wanting to focus on the dreams you feel are realistic and working hard to make them happen, and focus more on your friendships, only wanting people in your life who can take the friendship seriously and do the right thing. Mars is in this sector mid-March to mid-May, bringing more energy and drive to your dreams and friendships, and retrogrades in this sector the second half of August, so this is where you can experience difficulties during the year and question your dreams or get into it with friends or groups. Mars is in this sector to mid-September, and you can work to put everything back together again after the retrograde is over.

Mini Month-by-Month Horoscopes:

January: You can eliminate blocks in your daily life that have prevented you from being as productive and efficient as possible, and give yourself more space to do your own think, expand your life, and explore the world, open to new possibilities and coming up with big ideas for what's possible.

February: You can work on hitting your stride this month with something, and you may find an opportunity to do something behind the scenes or in the background without anyone getting in the way, stopping you, or selfishly putting you down the wrong path for you but right path for them.

March: You can think more about your direction, your future, how all of the pieces fit together, and what comes next this month, and you may not do much about it now, feeling a little stuck or insecure about your decisions, and instead just think about what you can do down the road.

April: Something in your life may need more stability and security, feeling chaotic and wonky this month, so spend time working on bringing the stability and security you need. Address the chaotic areas of life that need some fixing, and bring some calm back into your life.

May: You can be more inclusive and open earlier in the month, wanting to spend more time with people and bring new people into your life, but can turn inward as the month goes on. You may need more time to yourself later in the month, and can tend to your soul needs and internal issues.

June: You may do a lot for other people this month and focus less on yourself, and this can become worse late in the month and you can start to feel drained or resentful. Don't do so much that you feel like you're being taken advantage of, and work on setting up better boundaries.

July: Your creative energy can be strong this month, and you can focus on creative projects, ventures, and hobbies to use as outlets for emotional energy. You may be dealing with some issues from the past or subconscious issues, and this may cause some stress without an outlet.

August: You can work on streamlining your daily life this month, getting as much done as you can and working toward finishing up all of the little tasks and chores you need to finish. You may still be feeling off internally and feel restless or agitated, but work on channeling the energy elsewhere.

September: You can enjoy spending time with the people in your life around the new moon, and work on improving your relationships with others. The full moon can bring more stable energy, and you can settle financial issues or disputes as well. You may need more rest later, but intuitive energy can be strong.

October: You may want more space than you can get from others this month, and can be a little pushy with other people so you do get more space, but this may not be the right answer. Work to find the space you need within your own life, and try not to push people away that you care about.

November: Your energy can return later in the month, but you may need it to address issues with goals you're working on, or with setbacks you experience. You may have a hard time getting to the heart of the matter, but you can do better when you're taking control and being decisive.

December: You can feel like the Universe is on your side later in the month, and your compassion, empathy, and imagination can be strong as you focus on what you want and start taking action as the year comes to a close. You may start the month needing a creative outlet though.
