January 1st - 7th 2018

The week (and year!) kicks off with a full moon in Cancer on Monday, and this full moon can be helpful for finding ways to express yourself emotionally and get things off of your chest. You don't need to keep everything to yourself going into the new year, and can find ways to be more honest and authentic with your communications. You can also finish your short-term plans, and this can help you get right to work for 2018. On Tuesday, Uranus ends his retrograde (appears to move backward) in Aries, and letting go and elimination may have been an issue over the last few months, but you can work on moving on now. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Neptune on Wednesday, and you can be more compassionate, understanding, and your intuition can be solid. You can start the week with new ideas and excitement for what you're working on, and work on starting something from the ground up midweek. Later in the week, you can take time to enjoy yourself and remind yourself to have some fun this year, and you can work on your schedule, get smaller tasks and chores done, or streamline to end the week.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Friday, Saturday

January 8th - 14th 2018

There are always a million little things that need to be done, and you can be in just the right mood to attack them to start the week, Taurus. You can work on your long to-do list, and focus on getting the little things out of the way. You can feel more productive and efficient with your time and energy, and this helps you get more done. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Jupiter on Monday, and you can feel optimistic and expansive. Venus positively hits Mars on Tuesday, and you can get an extra dose of energy to get things done. Venus harshly hits Uranus on Saturday, and you may want to stay within your comfort zone, or you can feel restless. Later in the week, you can work on being better balanced and giving more attention to the areas of life you haven't had the time for lately. You can also spend more time with the people you care about, or tend to matters in a relationship. You can continue to focus on relationships over the weekend, but with a much more serious approach. You can unravel and get to the core of situations or people, and gain better understanding. On Thursday, Mercury enters Capricorn, and this can open up your mind and give you a more positive outlook over the coming weeks.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday, Tuesday

January 15th - 21st 2018

Big ideas and plans for expansion can be your main focus to start the week with a new moon in Capricorn on Tuesday. This can open you up to new possibilities, help you pursue new opportunities, and get you thinking much bigger. You can be optimistic and benefit from a positive approach, and you can learn, teach, travel, speak, or write. Later in the week, you can focus on your career, goals, and the path you're on with Venus entering Aquarius and your career and goals sector on Wednesday, and the Sun entering Aquarius on Friday. You can work on new goals over the coming weeks, and can be better focused, disciplined, and work harder and smarter for what you want. You may strive to reach a height with something, and you can feel more ambitious and driven. You can make good impressions on the right people, and you can focus on achieving and succeeding. Over the weekend, you can work on a change that you've been wanting to make in your life, be open to trying something in an unconventional way, or spend time with friends or in groups, or pursue a cause you're passionate about.

January 22nd - 28th 2018

You may feel more comfortable staying in the background to kick the week off, and can stay out of the spotlight, wanting to work on your plans and ideas on your own. Other people can get in the way, and you can do better when you're working alone. Later in the week, the Moon is in your sign, Taurus, and you can be more open with what you're working on, what your plans are, and how you're feeling. You can be more comfortable with attention and with the spotlight. On Friday, Mars enters Sagittarius, and over the coming weeks, you can feel driven to focus on financial matters that impacts others in addition to yourself, to pursue mutually-beneficial projects and ventures, or to enter into a business partnership or arrangement. You can be more researching, your focus can be unrelenting, and your will can be so strong, you can come back from any defeat. Over the weekend, you can feel more sensual, splurge on yourself a little bit, or take your time with a decision or action.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Thursday

January 29th - February 4th 2018

Mercury enters Aquarius and your goals and life path sector, and a lunar eclipse occurs in Leo and your home and family sector, and both occur on Wednesday. With Mercury, you can focus more on your goals and ambitions, working on your long-term plans and merging them with the details over the coming weeks. You can have a good view of the big picture and how it meshes with the small picture, and you can be more realistic with your outlook and approach. With the lunar eclipse, you can focus on home and family matters right now, and work to settle issues at home or with family, improve your living conditions, or get more support from the people you care about. You can tend to your emotional needs, and it can be a good time to strengthen the foundation of something in your life or get in tune with your core self. You may start the week with new ideas and being more open and engaging, and be more supportive and encouraging of those you care about midweek. Later in the week, you can make time to enjoy yourself and have some fun, and you may end the week being productive and getting little things out of the way.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Friday, Saturday

February 5th - 11th 2018

The work that needs to be done can take up your focus as the week begins, and you can tackle the smaller tasks and chores and projects that you have to finish. You can feel more productive and efficient, and the more work you do, the more energy you may have to get even more done. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Uranus on Tuesday, and you can step outside of your comfort zone or try out an unconventional method. Midweek, you can spend time on your relationships and with loved ones, enjoying company and having a partner. You may feel more emotionally at ease and get more done when you have someone by your side and feel that you're being fully supported and respected in your ventures. Later in the week, you can work to transform something for the better, or some aspect of yourself or your life, and you can dive deep into it to make it something that will last for a long time. On Saturday, Venus enters Pisces, and you can enjoy spending more time focused on your dreams for your future, expanding your social circle, pursuing causes, or being with friends over the coming weeks. In love, a foundation of friendship can be your priority, and you want to make sure you have that from the beginning, if single, or work to strengthen it, if in a relationship. You may end the week focused on the bright side and open to new possibilities.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Tuesday, Sunday

February 12th - 18th 2018

With a solar eclipse in Aquarius and your life path sector on Thursday, this week has a lot of enthusiastic energy. You may have good energy for focusing on your goals, your ambitions, what you hope to achieve in your life, your long-term plans, and the direction your life is going in. You can set new goals, work to make new connections with important people, and make better impressions. On Saturday, Mercury enters Pisces, and the Sun enters Pisces on Sunday. Over the coming weeks, you can do your best thinking and feel most like yourself when you are with your friends, in a group, being independent, venturing outside of your comfort zone, thinking outside of the box, being true to yourself, focusing on your dreams, being unconventional, and gaining a new perspective. On Thursday, your ruler, Venus, positively hits Saturn, and you can be more disciplined, focused, and strive to make progress with your goals. You may start the week focused on big ideas, work hard on your goals midweek, and venture outside of your comfort zone later in the week. You may end the week wanting some time to yourself, needing extra rest, or wanting time to let your imagination soar.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday, Thursday

February 19th - 25th 2018

You may need extra time to yourself as the week begins, and may prefer spending time alone to work on your projects and plans. You may feel that you do your best when you are on your own, away from prying eyes and demanding people. You may also feel that you need time to yourself so you can rest and restore your energy. Midweek, the Moon is in your sign, Taurus, which can increase your energy, drive, enthusiasm, and excitement. You can take this energy and focus it on a new beginning, new opportunity, or new project. Your ruler, Venus, aligns with Neptune on Wednesday, and you can use your imagination, feel more intuitive, and have more compassion. Later in the week, you can work to bring more stability and security into your life. You can take your time with decisions so you can be more confident in them when you make them. Venus harshly hits Mars on Sunday, and you may be more easily frustrated and need an outlet for the energy. You may end of the week with lots of new ideas to sort through, and new plans to gather information for.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Thursday

February 26th - March 4th 2018

On Thursday, a full moon occurs in Virgo and your love sector, and you can use the energy to finish creative projects, become more involved in your hobbies or give up one you don't care about anymore, spend more time with loved ones, and feel more affectionate. You may want more attention from others, and can be more generous and return. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Pluto on Tuesday, and you can be more researching and thorough. Venus positively hits Jupiter on Thursday, and you can think bigger and have a more positive outlook. Venus aligns with Mercury on Sunday, and your mind can be active. You may start the week with new ideas, and work on short-term plans. Midweek, you can work on starting something from the ground up that culminates in about 2 weeks. You can strengthen the foundation of something that has felt shaky lately. Later in the week, you can be more playful and want to spend time doing the things you enjoy most in healthy and positive ways. Over the weekend, you can pay closer attention to the details, get more work done, and strive to be as productive as you can.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, Sunday

March 5th - 11th 2018

On Tuesday, Mercury enters Aries, and your ruler, Venus, joins Mercury in Aries on Wednesday, and you can enjoy spending more time on your own, working behind closed doors, and resting over the coming weeks. You can use your active imagination, and work on issues from the past. It can be a good time to get some peace and quiet, and spend more time reflecting and working to understand yourself better. You can also connect to your soul and tend to spiritual needs. You may start the week wanting to spend more time with the people in your life once you've tied up smaller project or task quickly, and you can give more attention to others and enjoy the time you get with others, especially one-on-one during the first half of the week. Later in the week, you can do more research into something you need to know more about and are looking for a solution with. You can focus on serious matters, and take the right approach with them. Over the weekend, you may want time to let loose and not be quite as serious, and let yourself wander freely and take in new experiences and new knowledge.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Saturday, Sunday

March 12th - 17th 2018

You can work to turn your big Ideas into realistic long-term plans during the first half of the week. You can be more practical and realistic about what you can and cannot achieve. You can understand the responsibilities that you need to take on in order to achieve what you dream of. You can be optimistic about your future, and you can focus more on your future later in the week. You can think outside of the box, and can make good use of social connections. On Saturday, a new moon occurs in Pisces, and you can pursue opportunities that get you closer to your dreams for your future. You can make changes, be more independent, step outside of your comfort zone, and test out unconventional method. You can meet new people, and make new connections. Mars enters Capricorn on Saturday as well, and over the coming weeks, your big Ideas can be even more important to you. You can focus on expanding your life in new ways, having new experiences, and exploring new places. This can remain important to you for many months, so even if you don't see progress right away, you can still have the chance to make progress as the year goes on. As the week comes to an end, you may want more time to yourself, and need extra time to work on your plans without interference.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday

March 19th - 25th 2018

This week is full of energy, though it may not feel that way much to you as it kicks off and your energy levels feel quite low. You may need some time to rest and recover, and may find other people to be draining, and this can continue on with the Sun entering Aries on Tuesday, and over the coming weeks, you can find other people to be draining on your in every way, and need more time to yourself. You can feel more comfortable on your own, out of the spotlight, and letting your imagination roam. This is all complicated by Mercury turning retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Aries on Thursday, and this is something we all have to deal with for the next few weeks. You may struggle with issues from the past, subconscious issues, baggage you need to let go of, or something weighing on your soul, and all of this can be exhausting, so try to give yourself lots of time to rest. It can be good for reconnecting with your spirituality and refocusing on something you need to let go of. Your ruler, Venus, harshly hits Pluto on Friday, and you may fight over power and control of something, and need to keep a cooler head. The Moon is in your sign midweek, and you can tend to your own wants and needs. Later in the week, you can work to be more stable and secure, and you can be more expressive over the weekend.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Tuesday, Wednesday

March 26th - April 1st 2018

You may focus on tackling your emotional needs or strengthening yourself internally as the week begins, hoping that this will help you manage some of the challenging energy that you're dealing with right now. Later in the week, you can focus on being more positive and spend more time doing the things that you love to do. Your ruler, Venus, aligns with Uranus on Wednesday, and you may focus on change or feel more independent. Saturday is the big day for this week with Venus entering your sign, Taurus, and with a full moon in Libra and your work sector. With Venus entering your sign, you can be more charming, feel more grounded, are more comfortable with getting attention, and can crave more attention from the people in your life over the coming weeks. With the full moon in Libra, you can finish up smaller tasks and chores, get small projects out of the way, streamline your daily life so you can be more productive, or tackle health issues. You may be more easily stressed, so manage your stress levels and have an outlet. This may be more important for you over the weekend, and you can keep yourself busy with lots to do, but should make certain you don't push yourself too much.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Thursday

April 2nd - 8th 2018

It can be good for you to work on being better balanced as the week begins, and this can help you to stay calm and even emotionally. As you feel more balanced, you can also be more decisive, and you can help the people in your life with whatever issues they may be struggling with as well, so it can benefit the people you care about as much as it benefits you. Later in the week, you can dig deeper into something you want to know more about, and you can take matters more seriously. You can focus a little bit better, and you can work on trying to make things better through transforming and evolving. On Saturday, your ruler, Venus, positively hits Saturn, and you can have better focus, discipline, and maturity. Over the weekend, you can take a step back to view the big picture, and this can help you to focus on the positives and see the opportunities that you can pursue when you have the chance. It may be a little while longer before that chance comes around, but you can prepare yourself so you can take full advantage when it does.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Saturday, Sunday

April 9th - 15th 2018

The week may begin with you focused on your goals and ambitions, trying to hit your stride or wanting to get some sense that you're on the right path. Your future can seem more important to you later in the week, and you can focus on trying to make certain you have some options to get closer to your hopes and dreams. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Neptune on Thursday, and you can benefit from imagination and intuition. Energy may be strong over the weekend though with a new moon in Aries coupled with Mercury ending his retrograde (appearing to move backward) in Aries on Sunday. If the past has been an issue, if baggage has plagued you, if you've struggled to move on lately, this can start to improve, and with the new moon, it may start improving rather quickly, much quicker than usual with the end of Mercury retrograde. Even if it takes another week or two, you can still feel more connected to your inner self, more spiritually motivated, and more willing to shed what holds you back, and can focus on moving on quickly.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Thursday

April 16th - 22nd 2018

The week kicks off with the Moon moving into your sign, Taurus, and you can focus on new beginnings, new opportunities, new projects, and a new path. Your energy can be higher, and you can feel more enthusiastic and positive. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Pluto on Tuesday, and you can find more personal power and control. Midweek, you can be more confident and work on being more stable and secure. Later in the week, you can come up with new ideas that you're excited about, and make use of your mental energy and enthusiasm. On Thursday, the Sun enters your sign, and over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself when you're focused on new beginnings, opportunities, using your energy and enthusiasm, getting attention, and can be motivated to get moving. You may end the week wanting to merge your heart and mind, and getting support for your ideas and plans or getting started with them from the ground up.

April 23rd - 29th 2018

Your emotions may demand more attention as the week starts, and you can focus on tending to emotional needs and making yourself feel more emotionally secure. On Tuesday, your ruler, Venus, moves out of your sign and into Gemini and your money sector, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy relaxing more, enjoying the moment, taking your time, splurging and indulging, pursuing financial opportunities, bringing stability and security into your life and relationships, and connecting to your senses. Midweek, you can work to bring more joy into your life, wanting to feel better about life, see the good around you, and infect others with your own good mood. Later in the week, you can focus on work that needs to be done, smaller tasks and chores you'd like out of the way, and pay closer attention to the little things. The week comes to an end with a full moon on Sunday in Scorpio and your relationship sector, and this full moon can be a period where you take stock of your relationships, grow closer with some and further apart with others, and crave stronger connections.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Thursday

April 30th - May 6th 2018

The people in your life may demand more attention from you, and you can help them through whatever they're dealing with, and focus on spending more time with others as the week starts. You can tend to relationship issues, and work to improve your ties to others and show how committed you are. You can work on emotional bonds midweek, and want to feel closer to the people you care about most, and have great understanding of them. You may demand more in return, but you can share more as well. Later in the week, you can take a step back and make some time for yourself so you can focus on your big ideas, big plans, and what you'd like to be pursuing in life. You can come up with some pretty big ideas, but feel quite optimistic about your chances. You can believe in yourself, in your abilities to make things happen, and work to do what it takes to get moving. This can be your focus through the weekend, and you can end the week trying to create realistic plans of action for the big ideas you're most passionate about.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Friday, Saturday

May 7th - 13th 2018

You can work on the goals that you're most invested in as the week begins, and strive to make as much progress with them as possible. You may hit your stride or hit a high point, make progress or feel you're on the right path. If you don't or you experience a setback, you may need to adjust your approach. Your ruler, Venus, harshly hits Neptune on Monday, and you may lack focus, are more sensitive, or get lost in daydreams. Midweek, you can focus on your dreams for your future, and think about ways you can make changes that will get you closer to your dreams. You can feel more independent and open to the unconventional. Later in the week, you can spend some time on your own, and may want to get extra rest and give yourself a break from life. On Sunday, Mercury enters your sign, Taurus, and over the coming weeks, you can be more open with what's on your mind, share your opinion, work on plans for new beginnings and opportunities, and can be more active with your ideas.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Sunday

May 14th - 20th 2018

There is a lot of movement happening this week, and it's quite big for you, Taurus, because it starts with the Moon in your sign to kick the week off, and a new moon in your sign Tuesday plus Uranus entering your sign the same day. With the new moon, you can focus on a new beginning, a new opportunity, and have more energy and enthusiasm to take action. With Uranus, this is the start of this transit, and you can start to make changes over the coming months and feel more comfortable with change energy. On Wednesday, Mars enters Aquarius and your career and life path sector, and over the coming weeks, you can feel more ambitious and driven, focus on your long-term plans and direction, and can be more responsible and practical. Your ruler, Venus, moves into Cancer on Saturday, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy using your mind, connecting with others mentally, and keeping yourself busy. Venus positively hits Uranus that same day, and you can step outside of your comfort zone and think outside of the box. On Sunday, the Sun enters Gemini and your money sector, and you can feel most like yourself when you feel stable, secure, confident, or are pursuing financial opportunities over the coming weeks. With the week starting with the Moon in your sign, you can get moving quickly, and stick to what you start midweek, gather information later in the week, and end the week working on the foundation of something.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday, Tuesday, Saturday

May 21st - 27th 2018

You may require more emotional support as the week begins, and can give yourself the support you need if your support system is lacking. You can stick to what you know best, and comfort yourself emotionally or tend to your foundation. Midweek, you can focus on being less serious and more playful, wanting to enjoy yourself and be more fun-loving. You can focus on creative projects and ventures, but if you don't enjoy what you do, you may not have the focus you need for it. Anything you don't really enjoy doing and find kind of boring, you can tackle later in the week with better focus and disciplined energy. You can be more practical, hard-working, and strive to be as productive as you can be to get done the things you didn't have the focus for during the week. Over the weekend, you can put everything aside for the people in your life, making them a priority and giving them more time and attention, and enjoying the time spent with them emotionally.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Tuesday, Wednesday

May 28th - June 3rd 2018

Mercury leaves your sign and enters Gemini and your money sector on Tuesday, and on the same day, a full moon occurs in Sagittarius. With Mercury, your mental energy can slow down, and you can focus more on being confident in your decisions instead of quick, and can stick to what you decide once you do over the coming weeks. You can focus your mind, but it can take a little time to do so, but once you're locked on, you can stay that way. With the full moon, you can tackle a deeply-held issue that needs to be addressed, bringing it out into the light and trying to see it for what it really is instead of the imagined monster you've thought it to be. You can work it out, and it can be emotionally trying, but it can be good for you to understand and move on. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Jupiter on Friday, and you can be more optimistic and focused on the good in life. You may start the week finding ways to get people to meet in the middle, and feeling that you can keep the peace and find some balance. Midweek, you can feel more passionate about something, and that can make you focus on it obsessively, so try not to get too caught up in it. Later in the week, you can open up to big ideas, plans for expansion and exploration, and may want to have a little adventure, even if it's only in your own head. You may end the week hitting your stride with something, or feeling that you've hit a high point in some way.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Thursday, Friday, Saturday

June 4th - 10th 2018

The goals and ambitious you're most focused on right now can get more of your attention to start the week, and you can work on making progress through hard work, discipline, and dedication. You can make strides if you do things the right way and truly care about what you're doing; if you experience a setback or delay, but you may need to change your approach or be honest with yourself about whether or not this is something you care about. Your ruler, Venus, opposes Pluto on Tuesday, and you may struggle for power over something. Midweek, you can be open to the unconventional and be more willing to try things you normally wouldn't think of to come up with a solution to something that's been vexing you. Later in the week, you can listen more to your intuition and connect to your spiritual self. You can appreciate some quiet time alone, some down time away from the demands of life, and take time to reflect. The week ends with the Moon in your sign, Taurus, and you can find lots of energy and drive to pursue something new and exciting.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Sunday

June 11th - 17th 2018

This may be a busy week, starting with Mercury enters Cancer on Tuesday. Over the coming weeks, you can have a more active mind, coming up with plenty of new ideas and short-term plans, and can be more open and expressive, wanting to freely share your opinions and thoughts, and being more engaging. On Wednesday, Venus enters Leo and your home and family sector, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy spending time in the places you know best, with the people who support you, improving connections with family or your living situation, and tending to your emotional self. A new moon also occurs on Wednesday in Gemini and your money sector, and you can pursue financial opportunities, improve your financial situation, get grounded, or feel more confident. Your ruler, Venus, harshly hits Uranus on Thursday, and you can avoid anything too new and different, or feel restless and rebellious. The week starts with the Moon in your sign, and you can focus on your own wants and needs. Midweek, you can improve security and confidence, and later in the week, you can be engaging and curious. Over the weekend, you can be supportive and comforting of others and of yourself.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday

June 18th - 24th 2018

You may just want to have fun as the week begins, and may lack focus for the mundane tasks and chores that need to be done. If you don't enjoy what you're doing, you may have a hard time doing it, so try to be creative with everything that you do. Later in the week, your focus can improve, and you can work on the smaller tasks and chores that need to be done. You can make the most of your time, and have plenty of things to do. Your ruler, Venus, opposes Mars on Thursday, and you may struggle with your energy and feel more easily frustrated, so try to have an outlet for the energy. The Sun enters Cancer on Thursday as well, and over the coming weeks, you may feel most like yourself when you are using your mental energy, keeping yourself busy, gathering information, expressing yourself, sharing what's on your mind, and connecting with others mentally. Over the weekend, you may spend more time with the people you care about, work to improve your relationships, make more compromises, and can see both sides to situations.

June 25th - July 1st 2018

Mars turns retrograde (appears to move backward) on Tuesday in Aquarius and your career and life path sector. Mars is retrograde in Aquarius until August, and this may impact your goals, ambitions, direction, and plans. You may feel uncertain of where you're going, what you want, get into it with people over your goals, or experience setbacks or delays and need to adjust. You might make a bad impression on someone, and need to be easier on yourself. A full moon occurs in Capricorn on Thursday, and this can bring out more emotions around the retrograde, but you may strive to be more positive and focus on big ideas and optimism. Mercury enters Leo and your home and family sector on Friday, and this can help you to be more expressive emotionally, communicate with family, and work on plans at home over the coming weeks. Your ruler, Venus, harshly hits Jupiter on Monday, and you may lack focus and be more indulgent, and as the week begins, you can get lost in something you're wrapped up in. Later in the week, you can be more expansive, and over the weekend, you can be more practical.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Thursday, Friday

July 2nd - 8th 2018

You may be focused on your goals and ambitions to start the week, and you can take a practical approach, but quickly, you may think about the changes you need to work on and what you may do differently. You can step outside of your comfort zone, and be open to the unconventional. You may reach out to friends or people in your social circle for help. Later in the week, you may want more time to yourself to work on your plans without anyone getting in the way. You may want to avoid demanding people, and focus more on your inner needs. You may want more rest and time to relax, and can take more time to recharge. It can be easy to run yourself down, so try not to push yourself too hard. The Moon is in your sign, Taurus, over the weekend, and this can help you focus on yourself, and be more open with what you're dealing with. You can be more expressive with your emotions, and can get more attention from the people around you.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Saturday, Sunday

July 9th - 15th 2018

Your ruler, Venus, enters Virgo and your love sector on Monday, and over the coming weeks, you may enjoy focusing on your love relationships, the people you love, your hobbies, and making more time for fun and creative projects. You can be more romantic and affectionate, and enjoy getting attention. On Friday, a solar eclipse occurs in Cancer, and you can focus on doing something good with your ideas and plans, and pursuing opportunities to take action that will make your ideas and plans real. You can work on adjusting your outlook and being more positive. Venus positively hits Uranus on Wednesday, and you can be open to change and go outside of your comfort zone. You may start the week wanting to take some time to enjoy the moment and relax, detaching from the wacky energy, and midweek, you can focus on information, advice, and expression. Later in the week, you can tend to your emotional needs and strengthen your internal foundation, and you may end the week connecting to your heart.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday

July 16th - 22nd 2018

You may start the week wanting to spend more time doing the things you love most in healthy and positive ways, or spending time with the people who make you feel positive about life. You can be more fun-loving and connect more to your heart. Midweek, your attention may be drawn to the work that needs to be done. You can focus on the little things, your everyday tasks and chores, and get routine and mundane projects out of the way. Later in the week, you may focus more on your relationships. You may work to improve a connection you have with someone in your life, or to grow closer with someone. You may invest more time and energy in the relationships you have, and can be more compromising and fair. You can be more intense and passionate as the week ends. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Jupiter on Sunday, and you can come up with big ideas. The Sun enters Leo and your home and family sector on Sunday as well, and over the coming weeks, you can feel most like yourself when you are in the places you know best or spending time with the people who support you emotionally.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday, Tuesday, Sunday

July 23rd - 29th 2018

Mercury turns retrograde (appearing to move backward) on Thursday in Leo and your home and family sector, and a lunar eclipse occurs on Friday in Aquarius, the sign opposite Leo and your goals and life path sector. This energy can make for a highly emotionally-charged week for everyone, and for you, this may play out most in your personal versus professional lives, or the balance between internal and external needs. You can be extra focused on the foundation of yourself and your life, and you may need to work on strengthening it without becoming obsessive. You may experience some issues at home or with family, or feel unsettled emotionally over the coming weeks as you give a lot of importance to your goals and ambitions and the external factors. Try not to ignore the personal for the sake of making progress. On top of this, your ruler, Venus, opposes Neptune on Tuesday, so you can be even more emotional, vulnerable, and sensitive early in the week. Venus positively hits Pluto on Friday, and you can gain some more control. You may start the week digging deeper into something to get to the core, and give yourself some space later in the week. Your focus can be strong over the weekend, and you can work on long-term plans.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Thursday

July 30th - August 5th 2018

You can be open to making changes as the week begins, and to venturing outside of your comfort zone, if you feel you need to. You can work on plans for your future, and want to think further along, fantasizing about your dream future and what you hope to achieve at some point. You can see how the pieces fit together, and you can understand what needs to be done, even if it'll take a long time to do it. Later in the week, you can let your imagination run wild, and get lost in your daydreams and fantasies. You can take some time alone to tend to soul needs, get some rest, and get in tune with your intuitive side. Your spirituality can be more important to you, and you can be more compassionate and understanding. The Moon is in your sign over the weekend, and you can have more energy and drive, enthusiasm and excitement, though it may be difficult to do too much with that energy at the moment. Focus on what you want to get moving with when you have the opportunity to do so, and get started gathering information and working on your plans to get prepared.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Saturday, Sunday

August 6th - 12th 2018

Over the coming weeks, you can focus on creative projects and ventures, feel more expressive of the love you feel, and be more affectionate with loved ones. You can focus on the positives and be more theatrical in communication. A new moon occurs in Virgo on Sunday, and you can start new creative projects, pick up a new hobby or make time for existing hobbies, spend time with loved ones, plan for a fun event, or connect to your heart. Venus, your ruler, moves into Scorpio and your relationship sector on Sunday as well, and over the coming weeks, you can enjoy spending more time with your loved ones, improving your relationships, making compromises, and keeping the peace. Venus positively hits Mercury on Monday, giving new ideas and new plans, but harshly hits Mars on Saturday, and you can be easily frustrated and need an outlet for energy. You may start the week taking things slowly, and focus on your ideas midweek. Later in the week, your emotions can be stronger and you can tend to your inner needs, and over the weekend, you can spend time with loved ones and connect to your playful side.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday, Saturday, Sunday

September 10th - 16th 2018

Mars moves into Aquarius and your goals and life path sector on Monday, and you can focus on your goals, your direction, and where you want to be in life over the coming weeks. Things may have gone a little wonky earlier in the year with this area of life, but now, you can focus fully and dedicate lots of time and energy to getting on the right track, making progress, achieving success, hitting a high point, hitting your stride, and setting new goals. You can work on long-term plans for your goals, feel more ambitious, and work to make important connections and get recognition for what you're doing. Your ruler, Venus, opposes Uranus but positively hits Saturn on Wednesday, and you can be responsible and disciplined, but may avoid anything new and different for now, sticking to what you know best. You can be more productive and efficient and get lots of work done earlier in the week, and give your loved ones more attention later in the week. Over the weekend, you can do research into something you need to know more about, focus on a serious matter, or work on a transformation for the better.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday

September 17th - 23rd 2018

What you want to expand in your life, grow, and explore can be your focus as the week begins, and the more you work on it, the more excited you can get. You can come up with some big ideas for how to take things further, and you can believe in your abilities to make it happen during the first half of the week. Later in the week, you can get more into the details of how to make it happen, and focus on realistic ways and approaches you can use. You can work harder for what you want, and feel you hit your stride or make some progress, or work on making adjustments if you encounter a setback. On Friday, Mercury enters Libra and your work sector, and the Sun joins Mercury on Saturday, so over the coming weeks, you can focus more on your work life, daily life, and health. You can spend more time dedicating yourself to the smaller tasks and chores and projects, and get things done as best as you can. You can feel your best when you're being productive and efficient with your time and energy, and can have better focus on the details. You can organize and streamline daily life to get more done, and work on lifestyle changes or get informed to improve health issues. Over the weekend, you can step outside of the box and feel more independent and true to yourself.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

September 24th - 30th 2018

You can be open to stepping outside of your comfort zone to start the week, and think about changes you want to work on. Even if you don't do anything now, you can prepare yourself to work on them later, and be open to the ideas you come up with. Midweek, you can take some time alone to collect your thoughts, tend to internal needs, or get some extra rest if you need it. If you feel you've been pushing yourself too much, you may need a break, or you may feel some difficult energy coming around soon and want to get some extra rest to prepare for it. Later in the week, the Moon is in your sign, and this can bring a quick surge in energy, drive, and enthusiasm. You can focus on yourself, your own wants and needs, feel more comfortable in the spotlight, and give more time to starting something new, though you may not dedicate yourself to it for very long once you do get started. Over the weekend, you can take time to enjoy the moment, not wanting to push yourself too much, and feeling the need to get in touch with the present and remind yourself to relax.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Thursday, Friday

October 1st - 7th 2018

Your ruler, Venus, turns retrograde (appears to move backward) on Friday of this week in the sign of Scorpio and your relationship sector, which remains for the rest of October. Venus retrograde, because she is your ruler, can make you feel off in a subtle way throughout the entire retrograde, so that's something you have to deal with no matter what. The retrograde occurring in your relationship sector can also bring about difficult with the people in your life, and you may be easily annoyed by others, have a hard time getting along with people, lack tact and charm, feel surrounded by chaos, or struggle with a relationship or partnership. You need to go easier on the people in your life, as well as on yourself, and try to see things from both sides. You may start the week getting grounded, and quickly pick up the pace and work on new ideas midweek. Later in the week, you can give yourself some comfort and support, and tend to your emotional needs. Over the weekend, you can try to have some fun in spite of the difficult energy, and connect with the love in your life.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Saturday, Sunday

October 8th - 14th 2018

Tasks and chores may call you as the week begins, and you have to get moving, trying to get done as much as you can while you have the time and energy for it. A new moon occurs on Monday in Libra and your work sector, and this can bring helpful energy for being productive and efficient when you need to be. You can tackle a new project, get attention for work you've done, find new work opportunities, and focus on work you enjoy. On Tuesday, Mercury enters Scorpio and your relationship sector, and you can work to see both sides of situations and be more compromising, and focus more on the issues brought up by Venus retrograde in this sign over the coming weeks, particularly in your relationships and dealings with others. It may be more important to you later in the week, and you can focus on trying to get along better with others, though this may prove difficult with your ruler, Venus, harshly hitting Mars on Wednesday and increasing frustrated, easily irritated energy. Try to have an outlet instead of unloading on anyone. Over the weekend, you can feel more intensely and passionately, and can channel this into something you need to do research on or transform.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Sunday

October 15th - 21st 2018

Your big ideas can take up some of your focus as the week begins, and you can feel inspired by them, motivated by them, and ready to take action with them, but may have difficulty with actually taking action right now. Big ideas can sometimes just be something to occupy your time, and you may need to put them aside for now until you're in a better position to do something about them. On Monday, your ruler, Venus, aligns with Mercury, and you can be more engaging and keep yourself busy. Later in the week, you can think more about the big picture, understanding how all of the pieces fit together, and this can help you focus on your long-term plans and make adjustments as needed. You can also focus on the direction your life is taking, and decide if you feel you're on the right path or if maybe you need to make some tweaks there too. Over the weekend, you can connect with your friends, groups, and peers, and want to feel you have your place in the world and your tribe to come back to, no matter how hectic or off you may feel.

October 22nd - 28th 2018

The start of the week can be a good time to slow down and take some naps, if you're feeling rundown and in need of a break. Your imagination can be quite active and you can get lost in daydreams and fantasies, and this can act as a break for you to unwind. On Tuesday, the Sun enters Scorpio and your relationship sector, and you may feel most like yourself when you're with the people in your life, especially one-on-one, preferring company and enjoying having a partner over the coming weeks. You can come across as more charming, compromising, and fair. On Wednesday, a full moon occurs in your sign, Taurus, and this can be a time of year where you reap what you've sown. You can make progress with the things you've worked long and hard at and been smart with, and experience setbacks or delays with the things you need to change your approach to or don't feel passionately about. Your emotions can also be heightened, so so try to have an outlet for the emotional energy, especially later in the week. Your ruler, Venus, also positively hits Saturn on Wednesday, so you may be better disciplined or focused on a goal. Venus aligns with the Sun on Friday, and you can get attention, praise, or feel more comfortable. Over the weekend, you can press pause so you can catch your breath and enjoy the moment.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Thursday, Friday

October 29th - November 4th 2018

Your mind can be a swirl of ideas to kick the week off, and you can sort through them, gather information or get advice, work on short-term plans to get something done with them, or just store them away for another time. Write down the ones you don't take action with right away so you don't forget them later. Midweek, you can focus more on matters at home, improving your living conditions, or on matters with family, spending more time with them or helping them with something. You can be more supportive, and want more support from others. On Wednesday, Venus retrogrades (appears to move backward) into Libra and your work sector, and you may struggle with getting work done, sticking to deadlines, being organized, and being productive over the coming weeks. You may need to redo a lot, and have difficulty being clear, plus with Venus being your ruler, you can feel off in a subtle way too. Try to go easy on yourself and not stress yourself sick. Mercury also enters Sagittarius on Wednesday, and you can dig deeper into something you need to know more about, have unrelenting focus, and a more serious outlook over the coming weeks. You can focus on trying to have some fun later in the week, lightening the mood a little and enjoying yourself, spending time on your hobbies and being creative. You may end the week wanting to get sorted in some way, and manage some of the Venus retrograde troubles.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Friday, Saturday

November 5th - 11th 2018

This is a big-time week in 2018, and it starts with Uranus, who is retrograde (appearing to move backward) in your sign, Taurus, going backward into Aries. Uranus has started his new tour in your sign this year, and this will be his last hurrah in the sign of Aries over the next few months. It's a time for all of us to tie up loose ends and finish things we've started, and for you, it's especially important for you to clean up and clear out your life so you can make room for all of the new changes Uranus can bring into your life over the next 7-8 years. Come Wednesday, a new moon occurs in Scorpio and your relationship sector, and this new moon can bring good energy for focusing on your relationships, entering into a new partnership or commitment, and bringing some balance into your life. Then on Thursday, Jupiter exits Scorpio and moves into Sagittarius for the next year, and you can get some of his expansive, optimistic energy focused on mutually beneficial projects and ventures, and benefit from transforming your life in new ways and gaining deeper understanding of yourself, your life, others, and various situations. This likely isn't going to be felt right away though, because Mercury is retrograde in Sagittarius starting next week, so once that ends, the good energy is free to kick in. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Mars on Friday, and you can have greater energy, drive, and enthusiasm. You may start the week being productive and efficient, and can be more charming midweek. You can do some research later in the week, and end the week looking at the bright side.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Friday, Sunday

November 12th - 18th 2018

The planets are quite busy this week, starting with Mars entering Pisces on Thursday. You may spend more time focused on your dreams for your future and what you hope will happen over the coming weeks, as well as open to meeting people, spending time with friends or in groups, or stepping outside of your comfort zone. You can be helped by your ruler, Venus, ending her retrograde (appearing to move backward) on Friday, moving forward again in Libra and your work sector. If you've been feeling extra stressed and missing deadlines or overwhelmed by work you don't care for, this can start to lift, and you can start to feel more like yourself again. But Mercury starts his own retrograde on Friday as well in Sagittarius, so it may be a few more weeks before all is back to how it should be. You may struggle with deeply held issues, feel extra angry and moody, get stuck in pessimism, and need to take a break from the darkness. The week starts with you trying to focus on the positives, and you can work on your long-term plans later in the week. Over the weekend, you can think outside of the box.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday

November 19th - 25th 2018

You may be found in the background as the week begins, and prefer to be out of the way. You can get more done without people getting in the middle of what you're doing and sticking their nose where it doesn't belong, and you can have greater energy on your own. The Moon is in your sign midweek, Taurus, and you can be more energized and want to pursue something new, but it should likely be something that you can finish quickly, within a couple of weeks. Maybe give something old a second chance. On Thursday, the Sun enters Sagittarius, and over the coming weeks, you can focus on serious matters, do some research, or work on a transformation for the better. On Friday, a new moon occurs in the opposing sign, Gemini and your money sector, and you can settle financial issues, finalize arrangements, deals, or transactions, or see financial irresponsibility worsen. You can work on removing blocks to feeling more confident, especially later in the week. You may end the week with new ideas and an active mind, and you can feel more engaging and sociable.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Wednesday, Thursday

November 26th - December 2nd 2018

There can be plenty of ideas swirling around in your head as the week starts, and you can work on short-term plans for these ideas, but you may want to either get started quickly if you can finish it fast, or delay starting for a better time. Midweek, you can turn inward and tend to your emotional needs, giving yourself comfort and familiarity. You can spend time with the people who support you and who you feel emotionally at ease with. Later in the week, you can be more affectionate and sweet, generous and fun-loving, and want to enjoy yourself with loved ones. Your ruler, Venus, opposes Uranus on Friday, and you can feel restless and rebellious, or avoid change and upset completely. On Saturday, Mercury retrogrades (appears to move backward) into Scorpio and your relationship sector, and over the next week, you can struggle with the people in your life, your relationships and partnerships, with making compromises, feeling balanced, or keeping the peace. Try to find some quiet, peaceful time or space to keep your head screwed on straight. Over the weekend, you can work on your schedule for next week, tackle your to-do list, or clear out some clutter from your life.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Thursday

December 3rd - 9th 2018

With Mercury ending his retrograde (appearing to move backward) this week on Thursday in Scorpio, this can be a big driver for the week for us all. Scorpio is your relationship sector, and Mercury has been retrograde here since December 1st, so you've likely been experiencing some difficulties with the people in your life, open communication, and have felt out of balance. After another week or two, you can get back on the right track and feel more even. Friday's new moon in Sagittarius helps you to get right to the heart of a matter, work to solve a problem that's been vexing you, and bring something full circle that may have been put aside last month. The Moon begins the week in your work sector, so you can feel more productive and efficient and work on trying to get as much done as you can. Midweek, you can turn your attention to your relationships, and later in the week, you can take everything you do seriously, share with others, and want to feel close with loved ones. Over the weekend, you can focus on the positives, expand your mind, or dream of travel.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Saturday, Sunday

December 10th - 16th 2018

Big ideas can form the plans you work as starting this week, and you can believe in your ideas and in your ability to achieve them. You can take a more practical approach to them midweek, and this can help you work on long-term plans and strategies that are realistic and attainable. Your goals can be front-and-center midweek, and you can work harder for what you want, do research to make smarter decisions, and think more about your direction. On Wednesday, Mercury enters Sagittarius, and you can focus more on the research you need to do to make what you want happen. Your focus can be so unrelenting that you can get to the heart of any topic, matter, situation, or person over the coming weeks, and you can unearth a lot of necessary information that ends up being quite helpful down the road. Your outlook can be more serious and intense, and this can be a good time for focusing on situations or problems that require you to take this approach. Later in the week, you can spend some time with friends, feeling more engaging and wanting to be around like-minded people. If you want to work on something, you may be more independent though, or want to go your own way. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Saturn on Sunday, and you can focus on your goals and feel more ambitious. You may end the week wanting time alone and needing to turn inward to reflect.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Monday, Sunday

December 17th - 23rd 2018

You may want to take some extra time to rest and recover to start the week, and if you feel rundown, you don't have to push yourself. Take the time you need to let yourself recharge. The Moon is in your sign midweek, Taurus, and your energy and drive can return to you. You can use it to your advantage, and get lots done, start a new venture, and take a more enthusiastic, positive approach to your life. Later in the week, you can focus on being in the moment and enjoying yourself more. Your ruler, Venus, positively hits Neptune on Friday, and you can be more compassionate, artistic, intuitive, and imaginative. The Sun enters Capricorn on Friday as well, and you can be open to expanding your life in new ways and having new experiences over the coming weeks. You can focus on the good in your life, and want to dream big. A full moon occurs in Cancer on Saturday, and you can finish up short-term plans for your ideas, sort through your ideas, and keep yourself busy. You can identify strongly with words, and find a way to express what you're thinking and feeling more fully. You may be able to discern what people mean behind the words they say, regardless of what they do say. You can end the week with lots of different interests and being more engaging.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday

December 24th - 30th 2018

To start this last full week of 2018, you can drill down on the ideas that you're really passionate about and work on your short-term plans so you can go into a new year with plans that are ready to go and accomplish something quickly. Midweek, you can focus more on your emotions, tending to emotional needs, and making sure you feel supported, encouraged, and comforted in life. You can also work on strengthening the foundation of something or of yourself so you feel more secure and stable. Later in the week, you can set aside anything serious and try focusing on fun, wanting to enjoy yourself and take a break from work. You can make time for your hobbies, the people you love, or the things you love to do in healthy and positive ways. On Friday, your ruler, Venus, positively hits Pluto, and you can feel powerful, magnetic, in control, researching, and passionate. Over the weekend, you can work on the work that needs to be finished, getting organized, making lists, streamlining, and improving your routine or schedule.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Thursday, Friday

December 31st 2018 - January 6th 2019

Mars enters Aries on Monday to get the week started, and the year ends with your energy slowing down as you go into 2019. If 2018 was draining, the next few weeks may be your time to rest, to spend quiet time alone, to reflect, and to tend to soul needs. You can work on your plans on your own, and quietly set yourself up to take action when you're ready. On Friday, Mercury enters Capricorn, and this can help you come up with big ideas and focus on the bright side of life over the coming weeks. You can be more optimistic, and want to enjoy yourself. You can focus on the good in your life, and work on plans for expansion and exploration. This is helped by a solar eclipse in Capricorn on Saturday, and you may get opportunities to expand, explore, and experience life, and you can be excited by the possibilities in front of you. The belief that there is opportunity and opening yourself up to the possibilities may be the way you start 2019, and this can get you ready for action soon enough. You may start the week spending time with loved ones, do research later in the week, and share some wisdom over the weekend.

Best days of the week for Taurus: Saturday, Sunday

Taurus 2018 Yearly Horoscopes

Love & Relationships:

Jupiter starts 2018 in your relationship sector, a continuation from October of 2017 that lasts until November 2018, and brings his expansive and beneficial energy to your relationships. You can meet new people, enjoy spending time with loved ones, and improve your relationships, especially as the year begins with Mars in your relationship sector in January. It might be a little more pressing in October when Venus is retrograde (appearing to move backward) in your relationship sector, and you may have a harder time getting along with others and experience issues come up in your relationships. It can be good to reconnect with people from the past, but they may not stick around too long past the retrograde. Mercury retrogrades in your relationship sector the first week of December, and you may have some communication issues with the people in your life at that time, so work on listening more.

When Jupiter leaves your relationship sector in early November, he'll move into your intimacy sector, and you can work on growing closer with the people in your life and having stronger emotional bonds with the people you care about. Mars is in this sector late January through mid-March, so you can get started early in the year and strive to connect. Mercury retrogrades in this sector early in Jupiter's stay here though, for the second half of November, and you may have difficulty feeling as connected as you want to be, or feel too connected and need more space.

Career & Money:

The February 15th solar eclipse occurs in your career and goals sector, and this can be a great time to work harder with your career, make strides with your goals, and set new goals. You can be more enthusiastic about your path, can embark on a new direction, and can take advantage of opportunities to achieve your goals and make things happen. All of your hard and smart work can culminate with the July 27th lunar eclipse in your career and goals sector, and you can be rewarded for hard and smart work, and experience a little success.

Mars is in your career and goals sector starting mid-May, and through June, you can feel more hard-working, disciplined, and focused, but you may want to work hard to make things happen or set yourself up for later since Mars will retrograde in this sector late June through mid-August. At that point, you may need to reassess, go back over your long-term plans, and you may experience setbacks if you haven't been doing things the right way or aren't really passionate about what you're doing. Mars goes back into your career and goals sector mid-September to mid-November, and you can focus on getting back on track and making greater strides.

Venus retrogrades in your work sector the first week of November, and this may be a time when you're taking on too much work, or you want to avoid work completely, feeling that you need a break. If you've been working yourself hard throughout the year, a short break might be the right idea.

Home & Family:

A lunar eclipse occurs in your home and family sector on January 31st, and this may be a time when you're much more concerned with matters at home or with family. You can focus more on the issues that need to be addressed and problems that need to be worked on, and you can work to try and eliminate the difficulties. It can be a good time to let go of issues with family or at home, and work to form a better relationship with family or have a better home base. A solar eclipse occurs in this sector August 11th, and that can be a great time for enthusiasm and excitement at home or with family. You can plan a family gathering, make improvements to your home, move, or give support to your loved ones.

The problem time for the year may be late July through mid-August when Mercury is retrograde in your home and family sector. You can experience little problems come up at home, like leaking faucets and sparking outlets, or issues with your family, particular miscommunications and fights. Work to be more expressive with your emotions in a clear, non-combative way, and listen to your family more.

Mental State:

The July 12th solar eclipse occurs in one of your sectors of the mind, and you can come up with new ideas, feel more enthusiastic about the ideas you have, and can be more expressive and open with what's on your mind. Mars is in the other sector ruling the mind mid-March through mid-May, and this can be a good time for big ideas and bold plans. Mars retrogrades in this sector the second half of August though, so you may need to re-work your plans and tweak your ideas to be more realistic. Mars stays in this sector to mid-September, so you can work on making the most of opportunities to pursue your ideas, especially if they expand your life in new ways. With Pluto and Saturn in this sector, expansion is important, but you need to do so in a responsible way.

Uranus is at the end of his time in the sector ruling your subconscious mind, staying here until mid-May and coming back in November to the end of the year, and this has been a time for you to work on your subconscious issues, motivations, and desires, but in unconventional ways, and to open yourself up spiritually. That can start wrapping up now, but you may need to work on some of the final issues or blocks when Mercury is retrograde in this sector the end of March to Mid-April.

General:

You have one really big astrological event occurring in 2018, Taurus, as Uranus begins to tour your sign. Uranus spends a long time in one sign, usually 7-8 years, so this can be a big period that starts in 2018 for change for you. Uranus is the planet of change, and you can focus on making some changes in your life or with yourself, shaking things up or shifting your perspective. You can feel it in a subtle way as soon as Uranus enters Taurus in mid-May (and remains until early November), though those of you born April 24th and earlier may be the ones really getting the brunt of the change energy in 2018. But Taurus gets some of it no matter what, so start thinking about the changes you'd like to make to improve your life and work on your plans so you can make the most of this time.

Neptune also remains in your friendship sector in 2018, and you can be more compassionate and understanding with your friends, do more to help others, and feel more charitable. This position also helps you to be more open to the change that Uranus wants, and your intuition can help guide you when you're uncertain of where to focus.

Your ruler, Venus, is also retrograde October to mid-November in 2018, so this may be a period when you not only deal with issues in your relationships (in October) and with work (first half of November), but also feel off in a subtle way throughout the retrograde. Give yourself more time, space, and get some extra rest.

Month-by-Month Mini Horoscopes:

January: This can be a good month to work on balancing your life out, and focusing on the areas of life that you haven't had time for lately. You can benefit when you feel balanced right now, and your relationships may end up being the focus, requiring more of your attention. You can be more active with the steps you take you make improvements instead of sitting back.

February: You may benefit from getting help from a mutually-beneficial partnership professionally, and this can lead you to new opportunities, new goals, or progress. You can also take time to do research this month, and you can keep digging into something until you find everything you need to find to figure out what your plan should be moving forward.

March: Watch for getting stuck in sour moods during the first half of the month, and try to have a better view of the big picture. You may feel you do during the second half of the month, but you may struggle anyway with some issues from the past, a secret, or just feeling rundown and needing a break from everything in general.

April: The past may still feel haunting during the first half of the month, but once you start coming out from under the baggage, you can start to see the bright side of life and focus on the new opportunities you have. You can think big and want to be optimistic, and you can feel more confident in what you can do.

May: You can start to feel change in the air right now, but it's best if you start working on your plans for change rather than be impulsive and jump into anything. You want to be smart about the changes you make, and responsible with what you do, so take time to think it through and be certain of your plans first.

June: You may question the direction you're going in and path you're on this month, and feel that maybe you need to give up on your goals and focus on something else, but that likely isn't the right thing for now. Try to focus on maybe taking up a old goal again and giving it a second shot, and keeping the new stuff for when the energy is better for it.

July: The foundation of your life may feel pretty shaky this month, and you may wonder what you should do about it so you don't feel so off. Work on strengthening your internal self first, and then work on strengthening the foundation for your life. It should be strong and reliable so you can move forward with confidence.

August: You may have a hard time with the bigger picture this month, and can be overly subjective and stuck in your feelings, but then are too detached at times. Work on taking care of matters at home and with family, and think more about big ideas from the past and see if you can do something new with them now.

September: You can feel a little more positive with a new moon in your love sector on the 9th, and you can focus on the people you love, share the love you feel, and be more affectionate and generous. You can work on creative projects and ventures, and make more time for your hobbies and to goof off and play.

October: Your relationships may give you some trouble this month, so you may focus more on your goals and career instead. Though it may be that your relationships give you trouble because you're not giving them enough attention, so make sure that isn't the case. Work on being better balanced with work and with love.

November: You may have a hard time with issues you hold deep inside of yourself this month, especially during the second half, and may need to bring something out into the light that you're not comfortable with, but have to anyway. It might be uncomfortable, but it can be good to do to help open you up for change.

December: While other people may give you some trouble during the first week of the month, you can spend extra time with friends in December, and enjoy their company. You can focus on change as well, and think more about the changes you want to work on as the year winds down and a new year is looming.
